JOHN CONNOR GRAHAM,

Son of John and Elizabeth (Connor) Graham, was born July 18, 1826, near Pittsburgh, Pa., in what is now Bower Hill, South Pittsburgh. He made a public profession of his faith in the Presbyterian church at Danville, Ky., at the age of twenty. His preparatory studies were pursued in the academy at Versailles, Ky., and he graduated from Centre College in 1850. He then spent one year in teaching at Pisgah Church, Ky. Entering the Seminary at Princeton in 1851, he took the full three years' course there, graduating in 1854. He was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, April 25, 1854, and ordained an evangelist by the Presbytery of New Orleans, April 12, 1857. He labored as a missionary and as a teacher in Covington, La., from 1856 to 1858; was stated supply of the church at Moscow, Tex., which he had organized, from 1859 to 1860. After this he was until his death a domestic missionary, laboring under the care of Presbytery of New Orleans. In addition to the duties that this involved he engaged in teaching in Amite City, La., 1864-66, and was superintendent of education in Pike County, Miss., 1876-79. He was pastor of the Osyka church, Miss., from Nov. 6, 1870, until Oct. 11, 1888, and of the church at Summit, Miss., from Nov. 20, 1870, until his death. He also served the Bogue Chitto church, Miss., from 1889 until his death. He died March 27, 1901, at Summit, Miss., as a result of exposure to a violent thunder storm, in the 75th year of his age. He was buried at Summit.

Mr. Graham was married Nov. 5, 1857, in Covington, La., to Miss Sarah Harriett Penn, who died Aug. 13, 1874.

WILLIAM FINNEY JUNKIN, D.D., LL.D.,

Son of the Rev. Dr. George and Julia Rush (Miller) Junkin, was born May 1, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa. He made a public profession of his faith in the Presbyterian Church at Greenwich, N. J., at the age of sixteen, under the pastorate of the Rev. D.

X. Junkin, D.D. His preparatory studies were pursued at his home under the tutillage of his father, and he graduated from Washington College (now Washington and Lee University, Va.) in 1851. Entering the Seminary at Princeton the same year, he took the full three years' course there, graduating in 1854. He was licensed by the Presbytery of New York, April 19, 1854, and ordained by the Presbytery of Montgomery, June 3, 1855, being at the same time installed pastor of the Falling Spring Church, Rockbridge Co., Va. This relation was dissolved Dec. 31, 1867. During its continuance the civil war occurred and he served in the Confederate army as a private soldier, an officer, and later as chaplain in the army of Northern Virginia. He was a brother-in-law of "Stonewall" Jackson. His second pastorate was over First Church of Danville, Ky., from May 10, 1868, to May 2, 1876. He was pastor of the Glebe Street (now Westminster) Church, Charlestown, S. C., from June 18, 1876, to Oct. 20, 1887, when he resigned to accept a call to the First Church of Montclair, N. J., over which he was installed May 10, 1888, and from which he was released by his death, which occurred April 9, 1900, in Montclair, of pneumonia, after a week's illness, in the 69th year of his age. He was buried in Lexington, Va. He received the honorage degree of D.D. from Washington College, Va., in 1875, and that of LL.D. from the Southwestern Presbyterian University in 1891. Dr. Junkin was President of the Board of Trustees of the High School of Charleston, S. C., during his pastorate in that city. He was for a time chancellor of the Central University of Richmond, Ky. He was a commissioner to the General Assembly which met in Rochester, N. Y., in 1860; of the Southern Assembly at St. Louis in 1875; at Augusta, Ga., 1886; at Louisville, 1879, and to the Northern Assembly at Saratoga, 1896. He was nominated for moderator of the Assembly at St. Louis in 1875, but declined to run against the late Rev. Moses D. Hoge, D.D. He was moderator of the Synod of Kentucky in 1875, was several times moderator of the Synod of South Carolina, and at one time moderator of the Presbytery of Newark. In 1884 he was delegate-at-large to the Pan-Presbyterian Alliance held at Belfast, Ireland, delivering an address there, and was a member of the executive committee of the Alliance for many years until his death.

He was married Oct. 31, 1855, at Glenwood, Va., to Miss Anna Aylette Anderson, who with two sons and three daughters survives him.

WILLIAM ANDREW WOOD, D.D.,

Son of William B* and Margaret (Knox) Wood, was born Nov. 18, 1831, in Rowan County, N. C. He made a public profession of his faith in the Third Creek Presbyterian Church of Rowan County at the age of seventeen. His preparatory studies were pursued in Rowan and Iredell Counties, and he graduated from Davidson College, N. C., in 1852. The next two years were spent by him in teaching and in private study. He entered the Seminary at Princeton in 1854, remaining two years. He then spent one year in Columbia Theological Seminary, S. C., continuing his studies in the Free Church College of Edinburgh, Scotland. He was licensed by the Presbytery of Concord, at Statesville, N. C., June 17, 1857, and ordained by the same, June 23, 1859, being at the same time installed pastor of the Bethany, Tabor and Fifth Creek Churches, residing at Rowan's Mills, N. C. This triple relation was dissolved Dec. 6, 1860. He then became pastor of the church at Washington, N. C., being installed June 29, 1861. In the following year he left Washington upon its occupancy by the federal troops and this relation was never formally dissolved. He served as stated supply the church at Asheville, N. C., 1862-64; the Fifth Creek, Third Creek, and Unity churches, N. C., 1864-69. He was installed over the church at Statesville, N. C., Nov. 20, 1869, continuing in this relation until his death, April 2, 1900, a period of more than thirty years, at Statesville, of pneumonia, following an attack of the grippe, in the 69th year of his age. Death came to his relief after a prolonged illness. He was buried in the Oakwood Cemetery, Statesville. He received the degree of D.D. from Hampden-Sydney College in 1879. Dr. Wood was a com-
