JOHN CROWELL, D.D.,

Son of James and Mary (Gardner) Crowell, was born June 22, 1814, in Philadelphia, Pa. He made a public confession of his faith in the Sixth Presbyterian church of Philadelphia at the age of seventeen. His preparatory studies were pursued in Philadelphia, chiefly in the schools of his father and Samuel Jones, A.M., and he graduated from Princeton University in 1834. During the next year and a half he was in charge of the Academy at Morristown, N. J. In the spring of 1836 he entered the Seminary at Princeton and remained until the close of the Seminary year, in the fall of 1837. During the next two years he continued his theological studies under the direction of the Rev. John Todd, D.D. He was licensed by the Third Presbytery of Philadelphia, April 11, 1839, and ordained by the same Presbytery, June 5, 1840, being at the same time installed pastor of the church at West Chester, Pa. He was released from this charge July 17, 1850. During this pastorate, he was also engaged in teaching in West Chester. After this, he was pastor of the Second Church of Orange, N. J., from Aug. 21, 1850, to May 6, 1863, and of the Drawyers Church, Odessa, Del., from Aug. 1, 1867, to April 17, 1878. After this, he had no other charge and resided in East Orange, N. J., from that time until his death, which occurred March 29, 1909, at East Orange, of pneumonia, in the 95th year of his age. He was buried in the Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, Pa. He received the degree of D.D. in 1869 from Princeton University. Dr. Crowell was a tutor in Princeton University from 1836 to 1837; he was secretary of the East Orange Board of Education from 1889 to 1907, and was a member of that Board for twenty years. He published Republics; or Popular Government an Appointment of God.

He was married Oct. 21, 1840, in Philadelphia, Pa., to Kate Roney, who died Nov. 29, 1879. Three daughters survive him.

HUGH ARBUTHNOT BROWN, D.D.,

Son of William and Eleanor (Lyons) Brown, was born Dec. 20, 1819, in St. Clairsville, Ohio. He made a public confession of his faith in the Presbyterian church of Canonsburg, Pa., at the age of seventeen. His preparatory studies were pursued in the Jefferson College Preparatory Department, and he graduated from Jefferson (now Washington and Jefferson) College in 1840. During the next year, he studied Hebrew under his brother, Rev. James C. Brown, in Valparaiso, Ind. He entered the Seminary at Princeton in 1841, remaining until February, 1844. He was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick Oct. 4, 1843, and ordained an evangelist by the Presbytery of Logansport, April 16, 1844. Having determined to go as a missionary to China, he sailed for that country in October, 1844, and was stationed at Amoy, 1845 to 1848. Returning to this country, he was stated supply of the First Church of Logansport, Ind., from June, 1848, to June, 1849, and of the church at Roanoke, Va., from September, 1849, until installed its pastor July 13, 1850. He was released from this charge Aug. 5, 1853. During the next four years, he supplied a church at Rockford, Ill.; he was pastor of the Hermon Church, Va., from Oct. 8, 1857, until his death, having his residence in Saxe, Va.; during this time, while pastor of the Hermon Church, he supplied several other churches — that of Cub Creek, Va., 1870-71; Providence, 1875-78; Lunenburg Court House, 1881-82; Rough Creek, 1882-97; Providence again, 1882-85; Wylliesburg, 1885 until his death, and the church at Providence, a third time, from 1889 to 1907. He died April 18, 1908, at Saxe, Va., of paralysis, in the 90th year of his age.
