JAMES KENNEDY.

United Miami congregation, Northwood, Logan County, Ohio, May 23, 1878, and resigned this charge, June 15, 1882. He accepted the chair of Greek in Geneva College, September 9, 1882, which position he now occupies. He is an occasional contributor to the Genevan and Church magazines, and is College librarian.

JAMES KENNEDY:

Son of George and Mary (Paul) Kennedy, was born near Bonn, County Londonderry, Ireland, August 15, 1818. He received his early training in the classical school of the Rev. James Bryce, and graduated from the Belfast Academical Institution in 1840. He studied theology in the Seminary of Paisley, Scotland, and was licensed by the Northern Presbytery, Ireland, May 10, 1842. He was ordained by the Western Presbytery, and installed pastor of the united congregations of Broadlane and Drimbolg, Newtonlimavady, County Londonderry, Ireland, May 18, 1843, and resigned this charge, August 2, 1870. He came to America the same summer, and was installed pastor of the Fourth congregation of New York City, New York, November 13, 1870, where he is in charge. He married Miss Eliza Conn, of Coleraine, Ireland, May 9, 1848. He published "Tekel," 1858, pp. 40. "Assurance of Grace and Salvation," 1877, pp. 48. He contributed a series of articles on "The Spiritual Senses" to Our Banner, 1878, and an exposition of the Sabbath School Lessons to the Christian Nation, 1885, and many other articles in the Church papers and magazines. He was Moderator of the Irish Synod in 1846, and of the American Synod in 1875.
