NOTICES.

1. The Publishing house of the Presbyterian Board of Publication is at No. 1334 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

2. Letters relating to the general interests of the Board, to donations of books and tracts and the appointment of Missionaries should be addressed to the REV. WILLIAM E. SCHENCK, D. D., Corresponding Secretary.

Manuscripts and communications concerning matter offered for publication, to the REV. JOHN W. DULLES, D. D., Editorial Secretary.

Letters relating to Sabbath-school Work, to the REV. J. A. WORDEN, Secretary of Sabbath-school Work.

Reports of Missionaries and their orders for books, and all remittances of money, to MR. S. D. POWEL, Superintendent of Mission Work and Treasurer.

Orders for books and business correspondence, except from Missionaries, subscriptions to the Periodicals and payments for them, to MR. JOHN A. BLACK, Business Superintendent.

3. In making out orders use the Board's Ordering Numerical Catalogue, which will be furnished when requested.

4. The contributions of the churches and donations of individuals (unless it be otherwise directed by the donors) are applied entirely to the Missionary Work of the Board, and not to the Business Department. For its missionary work the demand is great, both in our own and in foreign lands, and contributions to sustain and enlarge this work are earnestly solicited. The month of May has been assigned for the annual collection for this purpose.

5. Bequests to the Board to promote its work in the distribution of an evangelical and Presbyterian literature should be made to "The Trustees of the Presbyterian Board of Publication."

A single copy of any publication of the Board will be sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of the catalogue price.

PRELIMINARY NOTICE.

UNDER the auspices and control of the reunited Presbyterian Church, the Board of Publication entered upon a new stage of its noble work. It presented to the Church a consolidated list embracing a mass of Presbyterian, Calvinistic and Evangelical literature of which, if it is improper to say that it may well be proud, it is at least due to truth to say that it is a catalogue for which to be profoundly grateful. It has been voluntarily asserted by eminent scholars of other lands that nowhere in the world can be found its parallel in wealth for the Calvinistic Christian.

"The Presbyterian Board of Publication" of one branch of the Church went into operation in the year 1838, and after surmounting the difficulties of its early years steadily advanced in power for good and in the number of its publications. The "Presbyterian Publication Committee" of the other branch commenced its course at a later period. It was organized as a "Doctrinal Tract Committee" in 1852, and after its early struggles for life were surmounted attained to the style of "The Presbyterian Publication Committee" in 1855, yet was compelled to wait for a suitable working capital some years longer. After attaining a fair financial footing, it also made rapid advances in the use of the printed page in the service of the Church.

The Catalogue of the united Board was not only large, but was also rich in its variety, and since the reunion has received many and valuable additions. Its publications range all the way from the Child's Primer, with its A B C's, up to Calvin's Institutes.

In the department of Theology the Calvinist will here find, in addition to the Institutes and the Letters of Calvin himself, works by Owen, Fisher, Hodge, Dickinson and others, with a whole armory of Tracts explaining and defending the tenets of the system.

The Presbyterian too will be able here to secure expositions and defences of the peculiarities of the faith and order of his venerable Church, with polemic treatises upon points which he maintains to be scriptural and true, though controverted by those who hold to prelacy, exclusive immersion, close communion, independency, etc. Here too will he find the Histories of the Presbyterian Church, the Digests of its acts and deliverances, its "Book," with its Confession of Faith and Form of Government and Directory of Worship.

The pastor can draw from its list aids for his own instruction and, to a higher degree, helps for his work. Commentaries and Concordances, Hymnals, books to arouse the impenitent, to instruct the inquirer, to educate the convert, stand ready for his use in feeding the flock, in edifying the Church of Christ.

Hither the Sabbath-school teacher may come for helps in his important field of labor. Commentaries, Question Books, Lesson Papers and the many "requisites" for the Sabbath-school are, and still more largely will be, at his command. Nor have the scholars been overlooked. The command of the Master, "Feed my lambs," is one to which diligent heed has been given. A whole library of volumes for the Sabbath-school is published by the Board, which, without claiming absolute perfection, challenges examination and comparison with the list of any publishing-house in the world. These books range comprehensively from the little book for the infant scholar up to the goodly volumes adapted to the reading of the members of our highest Bible classes. Of Primers, Readers and Catechisms there will be found no lack: of the last especially the variety is great. If the Westminster Shorter Catechism and the Confession of Faith are not studied, it will not be because they are not furnished by the Board of Publication in shapes to suit all tastes.

Nor will the earnest Christian or the lover of deep Christian experience be disappointed in the study of this list. The rich thoughts of former generations are here conserved in the works of Baxter, Bunyan, Davies, Matthew Henry, Owen, Mead, whilst of more modern date the "Religious Experience" of Archibald Alexander, the "Daily Meditations" of George Bowen, the Biographies of McCheyne, Alexander, Walter M. Lowrie, Mrs. Sherwood, Samuel A. Rhea and many others of similar spirit will stimulate and feed the soul that hungers and thirsts after righteousness.

The bereaved, the anxious, the tempted, have not been forgotten, nor has the stranger within our gates been neglected. For our many-tongued people of America, as well as for foreign nations, much has been done, and more will be done if Providence permit. Books and tracts are now circulated by the Board in French, German, Spanish, Portuguese and Welsh.

Whilst rejoicing in what has been accomplished in the past, the Board of Publication looks forward to a larger, broader, deeper work in the future. In every department of church effort and church instruction it desires and hopes to furnish what will meet the demands not only, but the true wants, of its constituency. With the blessing of God this hope may be fulfilled.

ALPHABETICAL CATALOGUE

OF THE

PUBLICATIONS

OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

In this Catalogue the publications of the Board are arranged alphabetically to four letters, not only by their titles, but also in some cases by authors and by subjects of importance, the reference being to the "Numerical Ordering Catalogue," which is the standard as to price.

Tracts of which the pages only are given are sold at the rate of 15 pages for one cent, net.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

In this catalogue the publications of the Board are classified according to their suitableness for a Ministerial, Congregational or Sabbath-school Library. This classification is marked at the end of the full titles.

It is difficult to draw the exact line of distinction in every case, some books in one library being equally suitable for another. Purchasers can, with advantage, make their own selection, adding or omitting as they please.

BOUND VOLUMES.

Way of Salvation.

No. 1.

The Way of Salvation familiarly explained in a conversation between a father and his children. By the Rev.

A. ALEXANDER, D. D. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent little work for young persons.

Mute Christian.

No. 2.

The Mute Christian under the Smarting Rod ; with sovereign antidotes for every case. By the Rev. THOMAS BROOKES. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little book has imparted consolation to many an afflicted child of God. Its author was a Puritan minister who died in 1680.

Great Concern.

No. 3.

The Great Concern of Salvation. By the Rev. THOMAS

HALYBURTON. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The praise of this work is in all the churches.

Christian Consistency.

No. 4.

Christian Consistency ; or, The Connection between Experimental and Practical Religion. Designed for young persons. By the Rev. E. MANNERING. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Competent judges have pronounced this to be an excellent treatise.

Self-Employment.

No. 5.

Self-Employment in Secret, containing an inquiry into the state of the soul ; thoughts upon painful afflictions ; memorials for practice. By the Rev. JOHN CORBET. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An admirable aid for self-examination.

Boardman on Original Sin.

No. 6.

A Treatise on the Scripture Doctrine of Original Sin. With Explanatory Notes. By the Rev. H. A. BOARDMAN, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A very judicious discussion of an important doctrine.

Pleasures of Religion.

No. 7.

The Pleasures of Religion. By the Rev. HENRY FOSTER BURDER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A charming persuasive to piety, which may with profit be read by old and young.

French Protestants.

No. 8.

French Protestants ; or, Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, and its consequences to the Protestant Churches of France and Italy ; containing Memoirs of some of the sufferers. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting memorial of the sufferings of some of the pious Protestants of France under the persecutions of the Church of Rome.

Miller on Creeds.

No. 9.

The Utility and Importance of Creeds and Confessions.

Addressed particularly to candidates for the ministry. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

A condensed argument in favor of creeds, and a satisfactory reply to the usual objections urged against such formularies.

Life of Knox.

No. 10.

Life of John Knox, the Scottish Reformer. 18mo.

(S. S. Lib.)

An abridgment of the larger work of McCrie. (See No. 178.)

Life of Captain Wilson.

No. 11.

Life of Captain James Wilson. Containing an account of his residence in India, his conversion to Christianity, his missionary voyage to the South Seas, and his peaceful death. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The perils through which Captain Wilson passed, the sufferings he endured and his remarkable conversion all tend to impart intense interest to this narrative.

Anxious Inquirer.

No. 12.

Letters to an Anxious Inquirer. Designed to relieve the difficulties of a friend under serious impressions. By the Rev. T. CHARLTON HENRY, D. D., with a biographical sketch and portrait of the author. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A valuable help to persons whose inquiry is, "What must we do to be saved?"

Threefold Cord.

No. 13.

A Threefold Cord; or, A Precept, Promise and Prayer from the Holy Scripture for Every Day in the Year. 32mo.

(S. S. Lib.)

A neat pocket volume for the use of the young.

Reformed Pastor.

No. 14.

The Duties and Responsibilities of the Pastoral Office.
Being an abridgment of the Reformed Pastor. By the Rev. RICHARD BAXTER. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

The Reformed Pastor, by BAXTER, has always been regarded as an inestimable vade mecum for clergymen. In its original form it is too diffuse and voluminous, and it is believed that the abridgment in the present edition instead of injuring will promote its usefulness.

Offices of Christ.

No. 15.

The Offices of Christ. Abridged from the original work of the Rev. GEORGE STEVENSON by the Rev. WILLIAM
S. PLUMER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The abridgment, which does not interfere with the language of the author, preserves the substance and spirit of the original work.

Divine Purpose.

No. 16.

The Divine Purpose Displayed in the Works of Providence and Grace. In a series of twenty letters addressed to an inquiring friend. By the Rev. JOHN MATTHEWS, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These letters have passed through several editions. They illustrate the doctrine of the divine decrees in the most pleasing and forcible manner.

Presbyterianism and Baptism.

No. 17.

Presbyterianism the Truly Primitive and Apostolical Constitution of the Church of Christ, and Infant Baptism Scriptural and Reasonable, and Baptism by Sprinkling or Affusion the most suitable and edifying mode. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

As tracts, these excellent treatises have been extensively read; they are now bound in a handsome volume.

Spirit of Prayer.

No. 18.

The Spirit of Prayer. By the Rev. N. VINCENT. 32mo.
(Cong. Lib.)

Full of the most impressive and instructive matter, though bearing some of the traces of an old-fashioned style. Its author died in 1697.

Confession of Faith.

No. 20.

The Constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Containing the Confession of Faith, the Catechisms and the Directory for the Worship of God; together with the Plan of Government and Discipline. 18mo.

This is a new stereotype edition, and has been carefully revised; the Scripture references have been put in larger type, and the amended rules have been added. It is both a correct and cheap edition.

Guide to Communicants.

No. 21.

A Guide to Christian Communicants in the Exercise of Self-examination. By the Rev. WILLIAM TRAIL. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The works of Trail were greatly prized by our forefathers for their plainness, faithfulness and spirituality. The Christian who will faithfully apply the rules here recommended for self-examination will derive great spiritual profit from them.

Friendly Visit.

No. 22.

A Friendly Visit to the House of Mourning. By the Rev. RICHARD CECIL. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Cecil is a charming writer. This treatise from his pen may be applied as a healing balm to the afflicted heart.

Charnock on Regeneration.

No. 23.

Discourses on Regeneration, abridged. By the Rev. STEPHEN CHARNOCK. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

It is unnecessary to recommend anything from Charnock. His copious citation of Scripture, exuberant metaphor, brisk antithesis and safe theology made him a great favorite in old Presbyterian families.

Love to Christ.

No. 24.

Love to Christ. Chiefly extracted from the "True Christian's Love of the Unseen Christ." By THOMAS VINCENT. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The Christian and unbeliever will find in this book the most pathetic and forcible appeals to stir up, in their souls, true love to the Saviour.

Life of Maj.-Gen. Burn.

No. 25.

The Life of Major-General Andrew Burn of the Royal Marines. With a likeness. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Life of Lieut.-Col. Blackader.

No. 26.

Life of Lieutenant-Colonel Blackader. Born 1654—
Died 1729. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This biography, like the preceding, furnishes strong proof that divine grace can sustain the soul and preserve Christian consistency of character in most untoward situations of life. Burn and Blackader, in those two schools of vice, the British navy and army, were pleasing examples of the reality and power of true religion.

Life of Rev. George Trosse.

No. 27.

Life of the Rev. George Trosse of Exeter, England.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The subject of this memoir in his youth was profligate in the extreme, but when renewed by the grace of God he became equally conspicuous for his holy and useful life.

Scripture Portions.

No. 28.

Scripture Portions for the Afflicted, especially the sick, with reflections from various authors. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent little manual for a sick chamber.

Destruction of Jerusalem.

No. 29.

The destruction of Jerusalem an irresistible proof of the divine origin of Christianity. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It is impossible to read this treatise without being struck by the proof which it affords of the truth of Christianity. The predictions of Christ in relation to the overthrow and final destruction of Jerusalem were so minutely fulfilled, that the conviction cannot be resisted that he was the Great Prophet.

Christian's Great Interest.

No. 30.

The Christian's Great Interest; or, The Trial of a Saving Interest in Christ, and the Way to Attain It. By the Rev. WILLIAM GUTHRIE, minister at New Kilmar-nock, Scotland, 1605. With an Introductory Essay by the Rev. THOMAS CHALMERS, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little work is one of the number which used to circulate from cottage to cottage among Scottish Presbyterians. Although the style is old, the matter is so rich as amply to reward a perusal.

Life of Andrew Melville.

No. 31.

The life of Andrew Melville, the Scottish Reformer. Abridged from McCrie's Life of Melville. With an engraving. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This judicious abridgment will be read with ease and pleasure, particularly by the young.

Lives of the Patriarchs.

No. 32.

The Lives of the Patriarchs. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a book designed chiefly for Sabbath-school scholars, and is well adapted to secure attention and inform the mind.

Flavel on Antinomianism.

No. 34.

A Blow at the Root of Antinomianism. By the Rev. JOHN FLAVEL. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A capital refutation of the odious doctrine that believers are freed from the moral law as a rule of life.

Fulfilling of the Scripture. No. 35.

The Fulfilling of the Scriptures, for confirming believers and convincing unbelievers. By the Rev. ROBERT FLEMING. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

One of the rare instances of an abridgment better than the original.

Lime-Street Lectures. No. 36.

The Lime-Street Lectures. A defence of the important doctrines of the gospel in twenty-six sermons. By several eminent divines. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

The Lime-Street Lectures have long been regarded as a standard work on Calvinistic theology. They have different degrees of merit, and yet are all characterized by forcible arguments in the illustration and enforcement of the great doctrines of grace.

Bound Tracts. No. 38.

A Series of Tracts on the Doctrines, Order and Polity of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, embracing several on practical subjects, in thirteen volumes. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These tracts have been before the Church in separate form, and many of them have been widely circulated and extensively useful. They are now collected in thirteen neat duodecimo volumes. The entire series would form a most appropriate and valuable addition to the household library of every Presbyterian family.

Form of Government. No. 39.

The Form of Government, the Discipline and Directory for Worship of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. 18mo.

Published in a separate form for the convenience of those who wish it for easy reference, and to carry with them to ecclesiastical judicatories.

Return of Prayers.

No. 43.

The Return of Prayers. By THOMAS GOODWIN, B. D.
32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Goodwin was one of the most learned and laborious of the non-conformists. He died in London in 1679. This treatise is a beautiful illustration of Psalm lxxxv. 8.

Wharey's Church History.

No. 45.

Sketches of Church History. Comprising a regular series of the most important and interesting events in the History of the Church from the birth of Christ to the nineteenth century. By the Rev. JAMES WHAREY.
18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A succinct but very satisfactory sketch of events in ecclesiastical history; particularly suited to those who have not the opportunity of perusing larger histories.

Lives of Owen and Janeway.

No. 46.

The Life of the Rev. John Owen, D. D., abridged from Orme's Life of Owen, and the Life of the Rev. John Janeway. In one volume. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Embracing the leading events in the lives of two of the most heavenly-minded men that ever fulfilled the earthly pilgrimage.

Life of Richard Baxter.

No. 47.

The Life of the Rev. Richard Baxter. Abridged from Orme's Life of Baxter. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Who has not read Baxter's Call to the Unconverted, and the Saint's Everlasting Rest by the same author? And who that has read these has not felt a desire to become personally acquainted, as it were, with the author? Biography affords the necessary introduction, and we may here see the author practically illustrating, in his own life, the principles which he taught to mend the hearts and reform the lives of others.

Christian Education.

No. 48.

The Christian Education of the Children and Youth in the Presbyterian Church. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D.D., and the Rev. J. J. JANEWAY, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

It contains thoughts worthy of attention.

Memoir of Dr. Rodgers.

No. 50.

Memoir of the Rev. John Rodgers, D. D., late Pastor of the Wall-Street and Brick Churches in the city of New York. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. With a beautiful mezzotint likeness. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The biographer has succeeded in giving a very pleasing portraiture of this truly excellent man, who held so prominent a place in the Church in the day in which he lived, and has interspersed his narrative with sketches of character and historical events of great interest.

Mystery of Providence.

No. 51.

The Mystery of Providence, etc. By the Rev. JOHN FLAVEL, A. D. 1677. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Flavel has a charm which is peculiar to himself even among the Puritans. He presents his important teachings in a manner so pleasant and fascinating that we never lay down his works without wondering how we could be so long absent from them.

Memoir of W. T. Buchanan.

No. 53.

Memoir of the last illness and death of William Tharp Buchanan, Esq., of Ilfracombe. By the late WILLIAM SHEPHERD, Esq., of Ilfracombe, Devon. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Mr. Buchanan died in his youth, and a peculiar interest is thrown about his character from the circumstance that grace converted him from being a skeptic into a humble follower of the Lamb.

Miller on Ruling Elders.

No. 54.

An Essay on the Warrant, Nature and Duties of the Office of Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian Church. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is probably the fullest, as we believe it to be the best, treatise written on the subject. The warrant is clearly made out and the duties forcibly stated. No ruling elder should be ignorant of this book.

Miller on Christian Ministry.

No. 55.

Miller on the Christian Ministry ; or, The Primitive and Apostolic Order of the Church of Christ Vindicated.

By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

An admirable vindication of the order of the Presbyterian Church, and a most satisfactory refutation of the claims of diocesan Episcopacy.

Hodge's Hist. Presby. Church.

No. 57.

The Constitutional History of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. By the Rev. CHARLES HODGE, D. D., Professor in the Theological Seminary at Princeton. Two volumes bound in one. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

This work should find a place in the library, not only of every minister, but of every Presbyterian family. As an authentic history of our Church to the year 1788, it is invaluable.

Laborers in the East.

No. 59.

Laborers in the East ; or, Memoirs of Eminent Men who were Devoted to the Service of Christ in India. Containing abridged biographies of the Rev. Dr. Buchanan, the Rev. Henry Martyn and the Rev. David Brown. With an engraving. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charming little book, in which the examples of three eminently pious servants of Christ are set forth in so attractive a manner as can scarcely fail to awaken the desire to go and do likewise.

Campbell's Voyages.

No. 60.

Voyages to and from the Cape of Good Hope. With an account of a journey into the interior of South Africa.

By the Rev. JOHN CAMPBELL. Intended for the young.

With several engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The dangers which Campbell escaped, the difficulties he surmounted and the various incidents of his journey are sufficient to keep the attention engaged.

Owen on the Holy Spirit.

No. 62.

A discourse concerning the Holy Spirit, wherein an account is given of his name, nature, personality, dispensation, operations and effects. Also the nature and necessity of gospel holiness and the difference between grace and morality. By the Rev. JOHN OWEN, D. D.

With a portrait of the author. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

As a profound theologian, an excellent scholar and a humble and devoted Christian, few men have equalled John Owen. All his works bear the traces of his great mind and pious affections, but some of them have always been the peculiar favorites of the religious public, and among these his work on the Holy Spirit occupies a high rank. "Owen," says Cecil, "stands at the head of his class of divines. His scholars will be more profound and enlarged and better furnished than those of most other writers. His work on the Spirit has been my treasure-house, and one of my very first-rate books."

History of the Inquisition.

No. 63.

History of the Inquisition from its Establishment to the Present Time. By WILLIAM SIME. With two engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Many large works have been written on the Inquisition, but a portable volume, containing all the principal features of its history, has been needed. The present volume is derived from the most authentic sources, and may be relied on for its general accuracy.

Life of Melancthon.

No. 65.

Life of Philip Melancthon, the German Reformer.
With an engraving. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The mild and profoundly learned Melancthon was Luther's right-hand man in the Reformation. The aid he furnished in the spread of the glorious work was acknowledged by his great coadjutor, and should be appreciated now.

Boston's Fourfold State.

No. 66.

Human Nature in its Fourfold State. By the Rev.
THOMAS BOSTON, late Minister of the Gospel at Ettrick.
12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This has always been a favorite work with the readers of old-fashioned religious books, and we hope the number of those who love such reading may be indefinitely multiplied. Boston is a sound and instructive writer, and every page of his book contains the true spiritual riches.

Duty of Children.

No. 67.

The Duty of Children to Love and Seek Christ. By the Rev. DUNCAN GRANT, A. M., Minister of Forbes.
32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent little work for children.

Life of Zuinglius.

No. 68.

Life of Ulrichus Zuinglius, the Swiss Reformer. With a Biographical Sketch of John Œcolampadius. With an engraving. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The virtues of this spirited and undaunted Reformer will always be held in grateful remembrance by the Church of Christ. There are stirring incidents in his life which will add interest to the perusal. Œcolampadius, a sketch of whose life is appended, was the worthy, pious, learned and efficient coadjutor of Zuinglius.

Missionary Records.

No. 69.

Missionary Records. Northern Countries. With an engraving. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

These records of the self-denying efforts of the Moravian Missionaries in Greenland, Labrador, Asiatic Russia and Siberia possess deep interest for the religious reader who wishes to note the progress of true religion. Young readers will be attracted by the incidents, which are often of the most exciting nature, and the oldest Christians might learn a lesson of patience and faith in the humble piety and uncomplaining endurance of the servants of God whose labors are here recorded.

Scott's Force of Truth.

No. 70.

The Force of Truth. An authentic narrative. By the Rev. THOMAS SCOTT, D. D. With a Recommendatory Letter by the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D.; to which are added eight letters addressed to Dr. Scott by the Rev. John Newton. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The Force of Truth is a narrative of the methods adopted by Divine Providence to bring the mind and heart of an unconverted minister from a state of carnal security and gross error to the knowledge and acknowledgment of the truth as it is in Jesus. The value of this edition is greatly enhanced by having, for the first time, associated with it the letters written by John Newton to Dr. Scott about the period when his mind was beginning to inquire for the truth.

Records of the Presb. Church.

No. 73.

Records of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Embracing the Minutes of the Presbytery of Philadelphia from A. D. 1706 to 1716; Minutes of the Synod of Philadelphia from A. D. 1717 to 1758; Minutes of the Synod of New York from A. D. 1745 to 1758; Minutes of the Synod of New York and Philadelphia from A. D. 1758 to 1788. Prepared by the Rev. WM. M. ENGLS, D. D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

In this volume the early records of the Church are permanently preserved; and although the work consists of the Minutes of ecclesiastical bodies, yet it furnishes much valuable information of the early history of the Church. No Presbyterian clergyman should consider his library complete without this volume.

Religious Experience.

No. 74.

Thoughts on Religious Experience. By the Rev.

ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D., late Professor in the Princeton Theological Seminary. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These views of experimental religion possess much value. The high estimation in which they are held may be judged from the fact that, when many of them were first published in a religious newspaper, they were most extensively copied by papers of different denominations in various parts of the country. They are written in a plain and familiar style, and are pervaded by the kindly and amiable spirit of the author. The volume, which has just been re-stereotyped (1870), is a neat one, and is adorned by a portrait of the author expressly engraved for this work.

The Covenanters.

No. 76.

History of the Covenanters in Scotland. By the author of the History of the Reformation, etc. 2 vols. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Presbyterians should make themselves acquainted with the prelatie persecutions of their Scottish forefathers during the reigns of Charles I. and Charles II., who were alike tyrants of the worst grade. The patient endurance, the uncompromising principle and the unaffected piety of these men, however caricatured by novelists and misrepresented by interested historians, will be perpetuated as an instructive example to remote generations. These two volumes embrace the material facts and narratives of much larger histories.

Synod of Dort.

No. 78.

The Articles of the Synod of Dort. Translated from the Latin. With Notes by the Rev. THOMAS SCOTT, D. D. To which is added an Introductory Essay by the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

Next to the Westminster Assembly of divines, there have been few ecclesiastical bodies whose history is more interesting than that of the Synod of Dort. It is essential to a full understanding of the controversy between Calvinism and Arminianism. This account, translated by Scott, is the best and most authentic, and it is enriched by the introductory chapter by the Rev. Dr. Miller.

Chief End of Man.

No. 79.

The Chief End of Man. An Exposition of the First Answer to the Shorter Catechism. By the Rev. JOHN HALL, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The answer to a single, but a very important, question in the Shorter Catechism affords the theme of this little volume.

Dickinson's Five Points.

No. 80.

Dickinson on the Five Points. The Scripture Doctrine concerning some Important Points of Christian Faith; particularly, Eternal Election, Original Sin, Grace in Conversion, Justification by Faith and the Saint's Perseverance. Represented and applied in five discourses. By JONATHAN DICKINSON, A. M., formerly Minister of the Gospel at Elizabethtown, New Jersey. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The doctrines in controversy between Calvinists and Arminians form the subject of this book, and the name of the writer, who was one of the greatest theologians of his day, will be a sufficient guaranty for the ability with which the doctrines of the Bible are maintained in opposition to Arminian errors.

Owen on Justification.

No. 81.

The Doctrine of Justification by Faith, through the imputation of the righteousness of Christ, explained, confirmed and vindicated. By the Rev. JOHN OWEN, D. D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

To the student of theology who wishes to obtain clear and farreaching views of the gospel scheme this work will be invaluable.

Dickinson's Familiar Letters.

No. 82.

Familiar letters to a gentleman upon a variety of seasonable and important subjects in religion. By JONATHAN DICKINSON, A. M., late Minister of the Gospel at Elizabethtown, New Jersey. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is eminently a practical treatise, in which the pious writer, in a series of familiar letters, obviates the objections which arise in the carnal mind to the religion of the gospel, and leads the inquirer to an intelligent reception of the truth as it is in Jesus. It is particularly appropriate for the relief of those who are troubled with skeptical doubts.

Eastern Manners.

No. 83.

Eastern Manners, illustrative of the Old Testament History. By the Rev. ROBERT JAMIESON, Minister of Currie. With engravings. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Historical facts and incidents and Oriental customs and manners are here made to throw light upon the Scripture, as well as confirm its truth.

Christ Crucified.

No. 84.

Discourses on Christ Crucified. By the Rev. STEPHEN CHARNOCK, 1564. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

The writings of Charnock have long been appreciated for their evangelical tone and their practical character. This volume contains a valuable extract from his works in relation to the redemption of man by the blood of the Cross.

Lectures on Shorter Catechism.

No. 86.

Lectures on the Shorter Catechism of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Addressed to youth. By the Rev. ASHBEL GREEN, D. D. With a beautiful likeness of the author. 2 vols. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

A condensed and yet satisfactory illustration of the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church. Founded on the Westminster Assembly's Shorter Catechism, it brings every point distinctly before the mind, and at once explains, proves and enforces it. It is written throughout with animation, and will gain the attention of those for whose special use it was prepared.

Edwards on Baptism.

No. 87.

Edwards on Baptism. Candid reasons for renouncing the principles of Anti-Pædobaptism. Also, a Short Method with the Baptists. By PETER EDWARDS, several years Pastor of a Baptist Church at Portsea, Hant. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

The author of this volume was once a Baptist clergyman, strongly attached to his peculiar sentiments, and as strongly prejudiced against the doctrine of infant baptism. Possessing, however, a vigorous mind and an honest intention, he examined the subject thoroughly, and the result was a conviction that his former position was untenable. Confining his attention in this essay to a few principal topics, he has produced an argument of unusual power and conclusiveness.

Scripture Directory.

No. 88.

The Christian's Scripture Directory. By the Rev. JOHN WILLISON, A. M. Together with Resolutions. By the Rev. JONATHAN EDWARDS. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A valuable and instructive collection of pious thoughts and reflections by an eminently good man; to which are appended the resolutions adopted by Jonathan Edwards for the direction of his religious life.

Calvin's Institutes.

No. 89.

Institutes of the Christian Religion. By JOHN CALVIN. Translated from the original Latin, and collated with the author's last edition in French. By JOHN ALLEN. 2 vols. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

This great production of Reformed Theology stands upon such an eminence in the literature of Christianity, and has for three centuries maintained such authority, that we cannot dare to uphold it by any commendations of ours. It would be a singular omission for any minister of our Church to make up a library, however small, which should not contain it, particularly when offered in so attractive a form.

Missionary Tales.

No. 91.

Missionary Tales for Little Listeners. By M. A. S. BARBER. With engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting collection of missionary incidents.

Christian Mother.

No. 92.

Meditations of a Christian Mother, or a practical application of Scripture to the circumstances of herself and her children. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This charming little volume may be safely recommended to the frequent perusal of Christian mothers. They will find in it many thoughts which will prove comforting to them amidst the various anxieties to which the parental relation subjects them.

Snodgrass on Sanctification.

No. 93.

The Scripture Doctrine of Sanctification stated and defended against the errors of Perfectionism. By the Rev. W. D. SNODGRASS, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A discriminating treatise on the doctrine of Sanctification, particularly in relation to its perversion and abuse by modern Perfectionists.

Christian's Portion.

No. 94.

The Christian's Portion ; or, the Charter of a Christian. By the Rev. R. SIBBES, D. D. 1638. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Another valuable little treatise of an old writer revived. A little practice in reading these old writers will confirm the opinion that "old wine is best."

Hervey and Toplady.

No. 95.

The Life of the Rev. James Hervey, M. A., Rector of Weston Favel. And the Life of the Rev. Augustus M. Toplady, Vicar of Broad-Hembury. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These memoirs present us with two men exceedingly unlike, but both agreeing in uncommon piety and attachment to the strong doctrines of ancient Calvinism.

Owen on Indwelling Sin.

No. 96.

The Nature, Power, Deceit and Prevalency of Indwelling Sin in Believers. By the Rev. JOHN OWEN, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Owen is a heavy writer in many respects, and his style is uncouth, but all this is compensated by his critical knowledge of the Scriptures and his deep acquaintance with the workings of the human heart. This is not the least valued of his many practical works.

Lorimer's Church of France.

No. 98.

An Historical Sketch of the Protestant Church of France from its origin to the present time, with parallel notices of the Church of Scotland during the same period. By the Rev. JOHN G. LORIMER, Glasgow. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is a volume embracing much, and, to most readers, hitherto inaccessible, information respecting the early French Protestant Church in the season of its glory, in its dreadful persecutions, its unhappy decline, and in its present state of comparative revival. The author at the same time has collaterally embodied a history of the Scotch Church, which in its earlier history had many points of similarity with the French Church, although in the result so much more highly favored. The volume is rich in materials, and will be highly valued by the lovers of ecclesiastical history.

Lives of British Reformers.

No. 100.

The Lives of the British Reformers. With twelve portraits. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

It is a natural desire to know something of the private life and personal history of those justly celebrated men whose labors were so instrumental in promoting the great work of the Reformation. To gratify this desire, the lives of some of the most eminent of the British Reformers have been collected in the present volume. It is adorned with twelve beautiful portraits.

British Reformers.

Nos. 101-112.

The British Reformers. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A valuable series of twelve volumes, embracing the Lives and Writings of the British Reformers. While each volume is complete in itself, the whole comprises a vast fund of instruction. Each volume contains a beautiful engraving.

Wickliff to Bilney.

No. 101.

Tindal, Frith and Barnes.

No. 102.

Edward VI., Parr, Balnaves, etc.	No. 103.
Latimer.	No. 104.
Hooper.	No. 105.
Bradford.	No. 106.
Ridley and Philpot.	No. 107.
Cranmer, Rogers and Careless, etc.	No. 108.
Knox.	No. 109.
Becon.	No. 110.
Jewell.	No. 111.
Fox, Bale and Coverdale.	No. 112.

The best and most striking works of these eminent servants of God are here brought together, and the reader has the high privilege of holding converse with such men as Wickliff, Tindal, Latimer, Hooper, Bradford, Cranmer, Knox, Becon, Jewell, and many others. There is an inexpressible charm in thus conversing with the Reformers of England in their own discourses. Their very language carries music in it. Nothing can be more simple, expressive and heart-reaching than the genuine English of Latimer and Becon. Hooper gives us a little body of divinity. The narratives, such as those of William Thorpe and Lord Cobham, are fascinating and pathetic. The theology is identical with that of Luther, Calvin and Knox. These confessors and martyrs speak the very language taught in our formularies. Every minister especially should give these volumes a place in his library. They will be a treasure in any household.

Book of Popery.

No. 113.

The Book of Popery. A Manual for Protestants. Descriptive of the Origin, Progress, Doctrines, Rites and Ceremonies of the Papal Church. By INGRAM COBBIN, M. A. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The design of this volume is to give a clear and succinct description of Popery. All the peculiarities of that monstrous system are presented, and technical matters explained.

Dail  on the Fathers.

No. 117.

A treatise on the right use of the Fathers in the decision of Controversies existing at this day in Religion. By JOHN DAIL , Minister of the Gospel in the Reformed Church of Paris. With a Preface by the Rev. G. JEKYLL, LL.B. Second American edition. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

A valuable and learned work, which should be found in the library of ministers of all Protestant denominations. The method is admirably clear, the very table of contents presenting a compact argument. The Fathers are stripped of that false glory which they never assumed themselves, but which has been thrust upon them by their fond admirers, and the Scriptures are shown to be the only rule of faith and practice.

McCrie's Reformation in Italy.

No. 118.

History of the Progress and Suppression of the Reformation in Italy in the Sixteenth Century. Including a Sketch of the History of the Reformation in the Grisons. By the Rev. THOMAS MCCRIE, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

Even Italy, so long the seat of Antichrist, once partook of the light of the Reformation, but having put away that light from her, she is sunk into gross darkness. The author of this history displays in it the same research and accuracy, and the same bold and spirited style, which characterize his other writings. It has special interest at the present day.

Revivals of Religion.

No. 121.

Narratives of Revivals of Religion in Scotland, Ireland and Wales. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These narratives are authentic, and display the operations of the Holy Spirit in a manner so striking as to call forth and encourage the prayer, "O Lord, revive thy work!"

Scripture Passages.

No. 122.

A Selection of Passages of Scripture for Young Persons to Commit to Memory. By the Rev. WM. BROWN, M. D. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume is composed entirely of Scripture passages arranged under different heads.

Dying Thoughts.

No. 123.

Dying Thoughts; or, Meditations on Death and Heaven. By the Rev. WM. CRAWFORD. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A volume rich in thought and pious feeling. It will prove a real friend to the devout reader.

Thoughts on Religion.

No. 124.

Private Thoughts on Religion and other Subjects Connected with It. By the Rev. THOMAS ADAM. With a sketch of his life. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author takes us out of our ordinary track of reading and reflection, and shows us ourselves. He scrutinizes the whole soul, exposes the imperfections of what is apparently most pure and inviting, and thus teaches us to make our religion more and more spiritual, holy, solid, practical, humble and sincere.

Almost a Christian.

No. 126.

The Almost Christian Discovered; or, the False Professor Tried and Cast. By the Rev. MATTHEW MEAD. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This work is pungent, searching, and, to those who have but a name to live, a fearful detector of a false profession.

Acquaintance with God.

No. 127.

A Guide to Acquaintance with God. By the Rev. JAMES SHERMAN, Minister of Surry Chapel, London. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Mr. Sherman may be safely recommended as a friendly guide who will point to God and lead the way.

Missionary in Wilderness. No. 132.

The Missionary in the Wilderness; or, Grace Displayed among the Heathen. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

David Brainerd is the missionary, and this little volume is composed of extracts from his diary.

English Martyrology. No. 133.

The English Martyrology. Abridged from Fox. By CHARLOTTE ELIZABETH. 2 vols. 12mo. Embellished with eight beautiful engravings. (Cong. Lib.)

A knowledge of the circumstances of the lives and deaths of those who died for Christ's sake is calculated to render the truth for which they died dear to every Christian's heart. We need not say that these volumes are deeply interesting, and that they have been prepared by a skillful hand.

Communicant's Companion. No. 134.

The Communicant's Companion; or, Instructions for the Right Receiving of the Lord's Supper. By MATTHEW HENRY. With an Introductory Essay by the Rev. JOHN BROWN of Edinburgh. Embellished with a portrait. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This work is so well known for its excellence as to need no commendation. It is rich in thought, in Christian experience, in instruction. Let every Christian read and study it. It is adorned by a portrait of the author expressly engraved for this work.

Trial of the Witnesses. No. 135.

The Trial of the Witnesses of the Resurrection of Jesus. With the Sequel of the Trial. By THOMAS SHERLOCK, D. D., Bishop of London. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The fabric of the Christian system rests upon the truth of Christ's resurrection, and in this little work the evidence in support of this great fact is ingeniously set forth under the forms of a jury trial. The Sequel was called forth by an attack on the former work. Both together form an excellent body of evidence in proof of the truth of Christianity.

Rise and Progress.

No. 136.

The Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul. Illustrated in a course of serious and practical addresses, suited to persons of every character and circumstance, with a devout meditation and prayer added to each chapter. By PHILIP DODDRIDGE, D. D. Embellished with a portrait. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The praise of this work is in all the churches, and there are very few uninspired compositions which have been so extensively blessed in the conversion of souls to God. Those who are without God and without hope should be earnestly persuaded by their religious friends to read this volume. The portrait of the author is beautifully executed.

Remarkable Places.

No. 138.

Remarkable places mentioned in the Holy Scriptures.

18mo. With engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent little work for Sabbath-school libraries, and intended for general perusal. The reader will find in it descriptions, derived from distinguished modern travelers, of some of the most remarkable places mentioned in the sacred volume. It is embellished with several very good cuts.

Book of Poetry.

No. 139.

The Book of Poetry. Prepared for the Presbyterian Board of Publication by the Rev. WM. M. ENGLS, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The minor poems which compose this volume are from various sources, and many of them possess great merit. It is superior in its mechanical execution, and is illustrated with several exquisite wood engravings.

Calvin Defended.

No. 140.

Calvin and his Enemies. A Memoir of the Life, Character and Principles of Calvin. By the Rev. THOMAS SMYTH, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is a new, revised and enlarged edition of this excellent work, which has long been on the Catalogue of the Board. The author has availed himself of new sources of information as to the character of Calvin, not accessible until within a few years past. It will be found a most valuable contribution to the cause of truth in vindicating the character of one of the greatest and best men who ever lived from the malignant calumnies of those who hated and slandered him, because they hated the truth which he so ably defended.

Keith on the Prophecies.

No. 141.

Evidence of the truth of the Christian Religion derived from the literal fulfillment of Prophecy, particularly as illustrated by the History of the Jews and by the discoveries of recent travelers. By ALEXANDER KEITH, D. D. With steel and wood engravings. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This work has gone through various editions both in England and in this country, but the present has the last improvements from the author's hand. As an illustration of the prophecies, it possesses deep interest and strongly engages the attention.

Scenes in Africa.

No. 142.

Scenes and Adventures in Africa. Collected from Mofat's Labors in Africa. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Full of incident and adventure, Scenes in Africa is a very popular book with young readers. Several of the scenes are illustrated by excellent wood-cuts.

Puseyite Episcopacy.

No. 144.

The Exclusive Claims of Puseyite Episcopalians to the Ministry Indefensible. With an inquiry into the divine right of Episcopacy and the apostolic succession; in a series of Letters to the Rev. Dr. Pusey. By JOHN BROWN, D. D., minister of Langton, Berwickshire. To which is added an Article on the Anglican Reformation from the Edinburgh Presbyterian Review. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

Puseyism, so called, is a pernicious heresy, and lays the axe at the root of Christian hope. The author of this work exposes it in its true character, and furnishes the weapons with which it is to be encountered.

Annals of Persecution.

No. 145.

Annals of the Persecution in Scotland from the Restoration to the Revolution. By JAMES AIKMAN, Esq., author of the History of Scotland, etc. Embellished with engravings. 2 vols. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The period covered by this history is one peculiarly instructive and interesting. At no time and among no people was the power of divine truth in forming the character of men, and in sustaining them in an apparently hopeless conflict, more clearly exhibited. This work presents a mass of facts relating to the early persecution of the Presbyterians in Scotland which will awaken thrilling interest in the bosom of the reader.

Alexander's Evidences.

No. 146.

Evidences of the Authenticity, Inspiration and Canonical Authority of the Holy Scriptures. By the Rev. ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D. Embellished with a portrait of the author. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

One of the most complete and conclusive demonstrations of the divine origin of the Scriptures extant. Its wide circulation cannot fail to retard the spread of infidel principles.

Pilgrim's Progress.

No. 147.

The Pilgrim's Progress. By JOHN BUNYAN. Most carefully collated with the edition containing the author's last additions and corrections. With explanatory notes by THOMAS SCOTT, D. D., and a life of the author by JOSIAH CONDER, Esq. Embellished with twenty-five engravings. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

The Pilgrim's Progress is a household book wherever the English language is known; one of the wonders of genius; a book which charms the child before he can comprehend its meaning, which delights and instructs the experienced Christian, and which, in despite of its subject, excites the admiration of the man of letters. This edition is a beautiful one; the style of the typography is unsurpassed and the engravings are of the first order. The Board has also published a beautiful 16mo edition, for which see No. 976.

Calvin on Reformation.

No. 148.

The Necessity of Reforming the Church. Presented to the Imperial Diet at Spire, A. D. 1554. To which is added a Paternal Admonition by Pope Paul III. to the Emperor Charles V., and Remarks on the Paternal Admonition by JOHN CALVIN. Written in Latin, and now first translated into English by H. BEVERIDGE, Esq., Advocate. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

This admirable treatise from the pen of Calvin is valuable as exhibiting the views of the great Reformer on the grounds of the necessity of a Church reform in his day. It has lost none of its interest by the lapse of time.

Lectures on Daniel.

No. 149.

The Prophet Daniel, considered in a series of Lectures for a Sabbath-school. Translated from the French. Illustrated with wood engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is designed as a Sabbath-school book and as an assistant to the teachers of Bible classes. For this it is well suited by the simplicity with which it treats a very difficult subject.

Addresses to Children.

No. 150.

Addresses to Children. 32mo with a wood-cut. (S. S. Lib.)

The addresses may be used by parents and Sabbath-school teachers to engage the attention of children to religious truth.

Huguenot Galley-Slaves.

No. 151.

The Huguenot Galley-Slaves. A story for the young.
By the Rev. C. G. BARTH, D. D. Translated from the German. 18mo. With wood-cuts. (S. S. Lib.)

This story, a narrative of facts, has all the elements necessary to interest the young. The sufferings and endurance of the persecuted French Protestants are strikingly portrayed, and afford an example of what every follower of Christ should be willing to encounter when fidelity to his Master requires it.

Kind Words.

No. 152.

Kind Words for his Young Friends. By UNCLE WILLIAM. 18mo. With wood-cuts. (S. S. Lib.)

A very engaging book for young readers, in which many useful lessons are taught in a simple and natural manner.

Celestine Darscott.

No. 153.

The History of Celestine Darscott, the Blind Woman of Paturages. With a wood-cut. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The subject of this narrative was a convert from Popery, and her faithful attachment to the truth subjected her to many trials, which she bore with exemplary fortitude.

The Only Rule.

No. 154.

The Only Rule of Faith. An Exposition of the Second Answer of the Shorter Catechism. By the Rev. JOHN HALL, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author, in illustrating the answer to the Second Question in the Shorter Catechism, has furnished a well-digested treatise on the value of the Bible as the only true and infallible rule of faith. The excellence of this little volume will be appreciated by the intelligent reader. It gives a portable and effectual preventive of the prime error of Popery.

Missionary Sketches.

No. 155.

Missionary Sketches for Children. Eight wood-cuts.
32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It embraces a number of very interesting facts relating to missions among the heathen, and it is well illustrated with cuts.

Short Miscellanies.

No. 156.

Short Miscellanies for Young People. Fine wood-cuts.
32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of entertaining little narratives which will be read with pleasure and without fatigue by the young.

Examples for Youth.

No. 157.

Examples for Youth ; or, Conversations on the Lives of Christians Eminent for Early Piety. Wood-cut. 32mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

A very instructive volume of biography for young readers.

Life of Howard.

No. 160.

The Life of John Howard the Philanthropist. Embracing an account of his great and successful labors in ameliorating the condition of affairs in European jails.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Humanity owes a debt of gratitude to this good man ; and we think his memoir can scarcely be read by any one without imbibing some of his excellent spirit.

Memoir of McCheyne.

No. 162.

Memoir and Remains of the Rev. Robert Murray McCheyne. By the Rev. ANDREW A. BONAR. With an Introductory Letter by the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D.
12mo. With a portrait. (Cong. Lib.)

The Rev. R. M. McCheyne was a young Scotch clergyman of great abilities and eminent piety. His brief life was most laboriously and usefully spent in the service of the gospel, and few have instrumentally accomplished more than he in the same period of time. His Memoir is rich in instruction, and to ministers of the gospel it may be especially recommended as adapted to encourage and enforce ministerial faithfulness.

Fisher's Catechism.

No. 163.

Fisher's Catechism. The Westminster Assembly's Shorter Catechism Explained by way of Question and Answer. By several Ministers of the Gospel. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

One of the most complete compends of sound theology extant, and well adapted to direct the studies of theological students, Sabbath-school teachers and others.

Pious Shepherd.

No. 164.

The Pious Shepherd; or, Life and Character of James Wait. By the Rev. ROBERT MACLAURIN. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very pleasing and instructive narrative of the dealings of Providence in the life of a humble Scotch shepherd.

Evenings' Entertainment.

No. 171.

Evenings' Entertainment; or, a Country Visit. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLES, D. D. Embellished with fourteen engravings. Square 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Various subjects in natural history are treated in a style fitted to interest and engage the attention, and to impress the mind with a sense of the divine wisdom.

Scripture Natural History.

No. 173.

Scripture Natural History. Containing a description of quadrupeds, birds, reptiles, amphibia, fishes, insects, molluscous animals, corals, plants, trees, precious stones and metals mentioned in the Holy Scriptures. Illustrated by engravings. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This book throws much light on the sacred volume, and its numerous cuts furnish material aid to the student.

Mission to the Jews.

No. 174.

Narrative of a Mission of Inquiry to the Jews from the Church of Scotland in 1839. With numerous engravings and maps. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The delegates selected for this mission were, by their learning and piety, admirably qualified for their work, and the volume which they have produced is one of profound interest. Not only is the information which they give of the scattered tribes of Israel of great value, but their incidental observations on manners and customs tend in a pleasing way to illustrate the Sacred Scriptures. The maps and plates give additional value to the volume.

The Brothers and Sister.

No. 175.

The Brothers and Sister; or, Grace Illustrated in the Conversion and Happy Death of Isaac M., Abraham and Almira Rowe. By their pastor. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Notices of the life and decease of three young persons who remembered their Creator in the days of their youth.

Lawson's Reflections.

No. 176.

Reflections on the Illness and Death of a Beloved Daughter. By the late Rev. GEORGE LAWSON, D. D., Selkirk. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The deep conscientiousness and tender affection displayed in these Reflections may well be commended to the notice of Christian parents.

Fountain of Wisdom.

No. 177.

Rills from the Fountain of Wisdom; or, the Book of Proverbs Arranged and Illustrated. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLES, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume is designed to aid the reader of the Book of Proverbs in deriving from it the lessons of wisdom which it is so eminently calculated to inculcate. Under numerous appropriate heads—such as, The Fear of God, The Fear of Man, Docility, Filial Obedience, and the like—the aphorisms of the inspired sage are regularly classified. Each collection of these aphorisms is followed by practical comments, illustrating and enforcing the subject to which they relate. The plan is a felicitous conception, and it is admirably executed.

McCrie's Life of Knox.

No. 178.

Life of John Knox. Containing illustrations of the history of the Reformation in Scotland. With biographical notices of the principal Reformers, and sketches of the progress of literature in Scotland during the sixteenth century, and an appendix consisting of original papers.

By THOMAS MCCRIE, D. D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

This is the full and unabridged life of the great Scottish Reformer, which is not only indispensable to the student of ecclesiastical history, but which affords the most agreeable information and entertainment to the general reader. The volume is a beautiful octavo and is embellished with two admirable portraits.

Memoirs of Mrs. Savage.

No. 179.

Memoirs of the Life and Character of Mrs. Sarah Savage, eldest daughter of the Rev. Philip Henry, A.M. By Sir J. B. WILLIAMS, LL.D., F.S.A. With a Recommendatory Preface by the Rev. WILLIAM JAY of Bath. To which are added, Memoirs of the Life and Character of Mrs. Ann Hulton and Mrs. Eleanor Radford, daughters of the Rev. Philip Henry, A. M. By their Brother, MATTHEW HENRY, V.D.M. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The family of Philip Henry might well be styled the holy and happy family. The children truly walked in the footsteps of their pious parents. Their virtues are pleasingly portrayed in these Memoirs.

Christ All in All.

No. 180.

Christ All in All to Believers; or, What Christ is made to Believers in Forty Real Benefits. By the Rev. PHILIP HENRY. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A work of sound practical divinity, in which the glorious traits of the Redeemer's character are set forth in a plain, scriptural way. The Christian may be much edified in the perusal of this volume, in which the author portrays the character of One who was to his own soul the "chief among ten thousand."

Internal Evidences of the Bible.

No. 181.

The Internal Evidences of the Holy Bible; or, The Bible proved from its own pages to be a Divine Revelation. By the Rev. J. J. JANEWAY, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author of this volume has supplied a desideratum in presenting in one view the internal evidence of the truth of the Holy Scriptures. Regarding the Bible as it is, he has shown from its structure, facts, teachings and tendencies that it is a revelation from God. A perusal of it may serve to confirm the faith of the Christian, as well as to shake the confidence of the skeptical.

Pictet's Christian Theology.

No. 182.

Christian Theology. Translated from the Latin of Benedict Pictet, Pastor and Professor of Divinity in the Church and University of Geneva. By FREDERICK REY-ROUX, B. A. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

Pictet was a native of Geneva, and a professor of Theology in that city. He enjoyed a high reputation for learning and piety, and published various works which were highly esteemed. His "Christian Theology" is a work of merit, and may be read with advantage either by the student of Theology or the private Christian.

Edwards on Redemption.

No. 183.

A History of the Work of Redemption. Containing the outlines of a Body of Divinity in a method entirely new. By the Rev. JONATHAN EDWARDS, President of the College of New Jersey. Accurately copied from the third American edition. Without abridgment. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

The high estimation in which President Edwards' work on Redemption has always been held has led to the publication of this full, correct and unmutilated edition. It presents a judicious, solid and scriptural view of the great work of Redemption, and is perhaps the best adapted of all the author's admirable productions for general usefulness.

Watts' Songs.

No. 184.

Watts' Divine and Moral Songs. With eleven beautiful engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

To render them still more attractive to children, illustrative anecdotes and engravings are added.

Learning to Feel.

No. 185.

Learning to Feel. With twenty-three fine engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It is pleasant for people who are getting old to sit down once in a while and read children's books—well for them to come across a book like this, and the others of the same series. (See Nos. 202, 210 and 400.) They are all written with intelligence, tact and simplicity, and are admirable examples of the combination of the useful and the interesting. They cannot fail to please and benefit the young.

Miracles of Christ.

No. 186.

The Miracles of Christ. With explanatory observations and illustrations from modern travels. With fifteen wood engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author of this volume has succeeded in presenting the miracles of Christ in a form at once so simple and forcible as to impress the minds of youth with their truth and greatness. The engravings are of a superior character.

Tradit. of Covenanters.

No. 187.

Traditions of the Covenanters; or, Gleanings among the Mountains. First Series. By the Rev. ROBERT SIMPSON, Sanquhar. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Tradit. of Covenanters.

No. 188.

Traditions of the Covenanters; or, Gleanings among the Mountains. Second Series. By the Rev. ROBERT SIMPSON. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Tradit. of Covenanters.

No. 189.

Traditions of the Covenanters; or, Gleanings among the Mountains. Third Series. By the Rev. ROBERT SIMPSON. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

These volumes contain an interesting record of the sufferings of the Presbyterians of Scotland, in former times, for conscience' sake. Everybody knows enough of their faith, patience and persecutions to make him anxious to know more. The love of incident and heroism which is so strong a passion in the human mind will find its gratification in these narratives, and with this gratification the truth and power of Christian principles will be strikingly illustrated.

Remarkable Youth.

No. 190.

Lives of Remarkable Youth. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It may be hoped that the sketches contained in this volume of youth remarkable for piety and attainments will awaken in the minds of young readers a sincere desire to follow in their footsteps.

Strong Consolation.

No. 193.

Strong Consolation; or, the Penitent Sinner Encouraged. By the Rev. J. K. FOSTER. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Persons under serious concern of mind are often harassed by an imperfect understanding of the doctrine of Election. This little volume is designed to obviate the difficulties of such.

Monthly Concert.

No. 195.

Letters on the Observance of the Monthly Concert in Prayer. Addressed to the members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These letters are well fitted to excite to the duty of united prayer for the spread of the gospel.

Bible Truth.

No. 197.

A Brief Compend of Bible Truth. By the Rev. ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D., late Professor in the Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J. 12mo. With a mezzotint likeness of the author. (Cong. Lib.)

An admirable system of theology, in which is condensed the substance of ponderous tomes.

Tracts on Popery.

No. 199.

Tracts on Popery. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Originally published separately, these tracts are collected for permanent usefulness. They form a volume of great value.

Sick-room Devotions.

No. 200.

Sick-room Devotions; or, Devotional Aids for the Chamber of Sickness. By the Rev. WILLIAM M. ENGLES, D. D. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little manual has been spoken of by many as the very kind of volume which clergymen and pious friends have long desired to have for the purpose of leaving with the sick in their visitations. It is of convenient size and printed in large type. Its contents are prayers, meditations, Scripture promises, dying sayings, hymns, etc.

Chamber of Sickness.

No. 201.

A Christian Companion for the Chamber of Sickness. By a Minister. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume is a suitable companion for the former, but is more didactic in its character.

Learning to Think.

No. 202.

Learning to Think. 18mo. With many engravings.
(S. S. Lib.)

One of an agreeable series of little books which are directly adapted to youthful minds. (See Nos. 185, 210 and 400.)

Our Father.

No. 203.

Our Father; or, Considerations Relating to the Lord's Prayer. By the Rev. JOSEPH ALDEN, D. D. 18mo.
With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

An explanation and illustration of the Lord's Prayer in language suited to the capacity of children.

Salvation.

No. 204.

Salvation; or, the Sinner Directed in the Way of Life.
By the Rev. W. J. McCORD. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The way of Salvation is here unfolded with great simplicity and earnestness. It has been republished by the London Religious Tract Society.

Anecdotes on Old Testament.

No. 205.

Anecdotes Illustrative of a Select Passage in each Chapter of the Old Testament. By JOHN WHITECROSS. 2 vols.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Anecdotes on New Testament.

No. 206.

Anecdotes Illustrative of Select Passages in each Chapter of the New Testament. By the same author. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

The design of these two works is to illustrate a select passage from every chapter in the Old and New Testaments by an appropriate anecdote. They afford most agreeable reading, and often associate with the text some impressive and awakening facts. The adage that example is better than precept, though a fallacy, contains a form of truth. Doctrines or precepts, when presented in the concrete form of example, often attract attention and make an impression which an abstract proposition would fail to do. These volumes are well adapted to this end.

Christ and Antichrist.

No. 208.

Christ and Antichrist ; or, Jesus of Nazareth Proved to be the Messiah, and the Papacy Proved to be the Antichrist Predicted in the Holy Scriptures. By the Rev.

SAMUEL J. CASSELS. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent work and particularly seasonable. The style of the author is pleasing, and his positions are clearly demonstrated. The reader is never at a loss for the meaning; the remarks under the several heads are concise, appropriate and forcible. The identification of Popery with the Antichrist is complete and satisfactory.

The Three Questions.

No. 209.

The Three Questions ; or, What am I ? Whence Came I ? Whither do I Go ? 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An impressive and powerful appeal from one who, having escaped from the horrors of skepticism, evinces his anxiety to warn others, and to direct them in the peaceful and secure paths of religion.

Learning to Act.

No. 210.

Learning to Act. Illustrated with engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author of "Learning to Think" and "Learning to Feel" here shows his young readers the importance of "Learning to Act." What has been said in commendation of the first two applies with equal force to this.

Interesting Narratives.

No. 211.

Interesting Narratives ; or, Religion the Great Concern. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

Authentic narratives, designed to display the power and importance of religion, as exemplified in the conversion of sinners, and the fearful consequences of postponing attention to the concerns of the soul.

McGill on Secret Prayer.

No. 212.

Secret Prayer and its Accompanying Exercises. Intended to assist young persons and others in acquiring devotional habits without the aid of written forms. By the Rev. JAMES MCGILL, Lochmaben. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This work may be confidently recommended as one of the best treatises on the subject extant. It is not coldly didactic, but is pervaded by a spirit of enlivening piety.

Obligations to the Bible.

No. 213.

The Obligations of the World to the Bible. A Series of Lectures to Young Men. By GARDNER SPRING, D. D., New York. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The subject is confessedly important, and the manner in which it is treated places the author among the first rank of American writers.

Newton's Life.

No. 214.

Memoirs of the Rev. John Newton, formerly Rector of St. Mary, Woolnoth, etc. With selections from his Correspondence. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

As John Newton was among the most useful and distinguished ministers of the gospel, so his early life was most remarkable. Rescued from the deepest degradation of sin, he rose to be one of the brightest monuments of divine grace. This Memoir of him is much more complete than those which are more commonly known. With a mezzotint likeness.

Exposition of Conf. of Faith.

No. 215.

An Exposition of the Confession of Faith of the Westminster Assembly of Divines. By the Rev. ROBERT SHAW, Whitburn. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

The contents of the Confession are given section by section, and the exposition follows as a comment. The exposition is brief, but popular, judicious and comprehensive.

The Great Supper.

No. 216.

The Great Supper; or, An Illustration and Defence of the leading Doctrines of Grace in Three Discourses on Luke xiv. 16-24. By the Rev. ASHBEL G. FAIRCHILD, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An admirable popular defence of the Calvinistic system in which the most plausible objections of Arminians are satisfactorily confuted. The adaptedness of this book for general circulation has been amply attested by its large sale.

Marion Lyle Hurd.

No. 217.

Recollections of Marion Lyle Hurd in a Letter from her Father, the Rev. Carlton Hurd. With an Introduction by the Rev. ASA CUMMINGS. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A memoir of a very remarkable child, whose intellectual faculties were unusually developed, and whose heart was imbued with strong religious feelings. A beautiful portrait adorns the volume.

Guilty Tongue.

No. 218.

The Power of Instruction; or, The Guilty Tongue. By the author of the "Last Day of the Week." 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

A forcible illustration of the evils of the tongue, in which the taste of young readers is consulted and their attention kept fully awake.

Min. of Assem. 1789-1820.

No. 219.

Minutes of the General Assembly from 1789 to 1820. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

In the publication of works like this, which are invaluable to the Presbyterian Church, the Board is fulfilling one of the main objects of its establishment, and rendering a most important service to our Church.

Zion's Pilgrim.

No. 220.

Zion's Pilgrim; or, the Way to the Heavenly Canaan Familiarly Illustrated. By the Rev. ROBERT HAWKER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

In this old but valuable book the author has with admirable tact, in a series of graphic and interesting scenes, illustrated the temper and conduct of the pilgrim to Zion. The interest of the sketches is perfectly kept up by their variety, their brevity and graphic character.

Elizabeth Bales.

No. 221.

Elizabeth Bales. A pattern for Sabbath-school Teachers and Tract Distributors. By the Rev. J. A. JAMES. With an engraving. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In this charming little Memoir an example is presented of the good which may be accomplished by the humblest and most obscure of Christ's disciples. Those desiring to be useful among the thoughtless and neglected will find much in this book to guide and encourage them.

Baxter's Saint's Rest.

No. 222.

The Saint's Everlasting Rest; or, A Treatise on the Blessed State of the Saints in Heaven. By RICHARD BAXTER. Abridged for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLES, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Few books have been so extensively read, or have produced such decided effects, as Baxter's Saint's Rest. No Christian should be without it who desires to make sure progress to heaven, and refresh himself with its joys in anticipation. This is a new abridgment, in all respects superior to that which has hitherto been in use.

Three Blind Women.

No. 223.

The Three Blind Women. 32mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

Incidents in the Christian experience of three women afflicted with blindness.

Baxter's Call.

No. 224.

A Call to the Unconverted. By RICHARD BAXTER.
With an Introductory Essay by THOMAS CHALMERS,
D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The Call to the Unconverted has, in many instances, proved a most effectual call, and many will have reason for eternal thanksgiving that this book was placed in their hands. Christians would be doing a truly benevolent work by presenting copies of this book to all their unconverted neighbors.

Alleine's Alarm.

No. 225.

An alarm to Unconverted Sinners. In a serious treatise by the Rev. JOSEPH ALLEINE. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

In it a faithful alarm is sounded, and the perilous condition of the unregenerate sinner is unfolded, while he is directed to the only way of escape.

Thoughts on Family Worship.

No. 226.

Thoughts on Family Worship. By the Rev. JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. D. With a mezzotint plate. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A truly admirable treatise, in the best style of the author, who had few equals in the easy, graceful manner of communicating to others the stores of his own richly-furnished mind. The subject treated is one of incalculable importance to families, the virtue and happiness of which cannot be secured without a recognition of God in daily worship. This volume has been unusually popular.

Bunyan's Holy War.

No. 227.

The Holy War made by Shaddai upon Diabolus for the regaining the metropolis of the World, in the losing and taking again of the town of Mansoul. By JOHN BUNYAN. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

The Holy War bears the impress of the author's strong and imaginative mind, and is a work of eminent ability. This edition is a very fine one, and is enriched by admirably executed pictorial embellishments.

The Christian Soldiers.

No. 229.

The Christian Soldiers ; or, The Triumphs of Grace in the Army. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A series of pleasing sketches tending to show that amidst the noise and dissipations of a camp the Spirit of God may display the power of his presence by restoring wanderers to the fold of Christ.

McLaurin's Essays.

No. 230.

Essays on Happiness, Christian Piety, Prejudices against the Gospel and the Scripture Doctrines of Grace. To which is added the celebrated sermon on Glorifying in the Cross of Christ. By the Rev. JOHN McLAURIN of Glasgow. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

The Essays of McLaurin have elicited the praise of the most competent judges for their vigor of thought, depth of penetration and logical arrangement.

Bates' Harmony of Attributes.

No. 231.

The Harmony of the Divine Attributes in the Contrivance and Accomplishment of Man's Redemption. By WILLIAM BATES, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

A solid and instructive volume, in which the grand features of the gospel scheme are forcibly presented. While man, on the one hand, is exhibited in his guilt, ruin and impotence, the grace and power of God in redemption are magnified.

Naaman and Elisha.

No. 232.

Naaman and Elisha ; or, The Nobleman's Visit to the Prophet. By the Rev. JOSEPH ALDEN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The interesting narrative of Naaman's visit to Elisha and the miraculous cure of his leprosy detailed in conversational style.

Minor Scripture Characters.

No. 233.

Minor Characters of the Bible. By the Rev. JOHN HALL, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It evinces unusual acquaintance with the Scriptures, and suggests a mode of biblical study which is not frequently employed, but is highly important.

Parental Duties.

No. 234.

The Divine Commendations of Abraham; or, Parental Duties, and the Blessings Resulting from their Faithful Performance. By the Rev. THOMAS HOUSTON of Knock-bracken. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A work well adapted to the present times. No duties are more solemn and momentous than those resulting from the parental relation, and if, either through ignorance or neglect on the part of parents, their children are suffered to grow up without being surrounded by the holy influence of religion, their ruin is almost certain, while fearful guilt rests on the authors of their being. Parents should make themselves acquainted with this book.

Comfort for Heavy-Laden.

No. 236.

Comfort for the Heavy-Laden. By WILLIAM COWPER, Minister at Perth. With some notice of the author. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Although originally printed more than two centuries ago, it exhibits the vicissitudes of Christian experience in the present day, and may be usefully consulted by the heavy-laden.

Daily Bread.

No. 238.

Daily Bread. Consisting of extracts in prose and verse, from eminent divines, for every day in the year. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Many persons excuse their neglect of religious reading from want of time. Here is a book which will, in a measure at least, remove this ground of apology; for surely no one can be so absorbed in lawful occupations as not to have time to read the text, the verse and the reflection which are here assigned to every day in the year.

Life of Mary J. Graham.

No. 239.

A Memoir of Mary Jane Graham, late of Stoke Fleming, Devon. Abridged from the Memoir written by the Rev. CHARLES BRIDGES, M. A. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Miss Graham was a young lady of remarkable intelligence, and her Memoir is deeply interesting as exhibiting the struggles of her mind in divesting itself of erroneous views, and attaining a just comprehension of that glorious system of truth in full conviction of which she enjoyed a firm and settled hope of eternal life.

Walks of Usefulness.

No. 240.

Walks of Usefulness in London and its Environs. By the Rev. JOHN CAMPBELL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An example of the ways in which the Christian may make his ordinary walks minister to his own improvement and the welfare of his fellow-men.

Old Anthony's Hints.

No. 241.

Old Anthony's Hints to Young People to make them both Cheerful and Wise. Embellished with six engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Our young readers will be delighted to hear Old Anthony. Surrounded by his youthful listeners, his great object is to blend instruction with amusement, while every object around him seems to suggest some pleasing lesson.

New Token for Children.

No. 242.

A New Token for Children. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Twenty-six narratives going to show the power of religious truth as exemplified in the life and death of remarkable children.

Brief Memoirs of the Pious.

No. 243.

Brief Memoirs of the Pious. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Nothing seems better to illustrate the power and excellency of true religion than the devout and consistent lives and peaceful deaths of those who have come under its influence. Hence, biography has always been a favorite department of Christian literature. The brief memoirs in this volume cannot fail to be acceptable.

Proverbs of Solomon.

No. 244.

The Book of Proverbs. 64mo.

A beautiful pocket-volume, full of heavenly wisdom.

Psalms in Prose.

No. 245.

The Book of Psalms. Translated out of the original Hebrew. 32mo.

Like the preceding volume it forms a good traveling companion.

Communicant's Manual.

No. 246.

The Communicant's Manual; or, A Series of Meditations Designed to Assist Communicants in Making Preparations for the Holy Supper. By J. J. JANEWAY, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A very judicious treatise on the Lord's Supper, with all necessary directions and aids for a safe and profitable participation. It contains twenty-nine different exercises, to each of which an appropriate form of prayer is appended.

Causes and Cure of Skepticism.

No. 247.

The Causes and Cure of Skepticism. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent little volume, well adapted to be placed in the hands of young men as a preservative against the insidious approaches of skepticism.

Annals of the Poor.

No. 248.

Annals of the Poor. By the Rev. LEIGH RICHMOND, A. M., late Rector of Turvey, Bedfordshire. A new edition enlarged and illustrated with engravings. 12mo.

(Cong. Lib.)

The Annals of the Poor, written in the graceful style of the excellent Leigh Richmond, has become so generally known as to need no recommendation. It constitutes a cluster of Christian narratives which cannot be circulated too widely.

Men and Scenes before the Flood. No. 249.

Men and Scenes before the Flood. By the Rev. WILLIS LORD, D. D. With plates. Square 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author has skillfully adapted his instructions to the youthful capacity. The topics introduced are the Creation, Garden of Eden, Adam and Eve, Birth of Abel, Enoch, Noah and the Flood.

Madagascar Martyrs. No. 250.

Madagascar and its Martyrs. A book for the young. With engravings. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume possesses a thrilling interest.

Miller on Public Prayer. No. 251.

Thoughts on Public Prayer. By the Rev. SAMUEL MILLER, D. D., of Princeton. With a portrait. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

This is the last literary effort of a man greatly beloved in the Presbyterian Church, and whose usefulness extended through a long series of years. On the abuses and right performance of public duties it contains many excellent hints, the result of long experience.

Little Italian Boy. No. 252.

The Little Italian Boy. By COUSIN MARY. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

A very pleasant and agreeable little book for young readers.

Providence of God.

No. 253.

The Providence of God displayed in a series of interesting facts. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent collection of anecdotes illustrative of a particular, overruling Providence.

Christianity from God.

No. 254.

Is Christianity from God? or, A Manual of Christian Evidence for Scripture Readers, City Missionaries, Sabbath-school Teachers, etc. By the Rev. JOHN CUMMING, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A summary of the most striking evidences that the Christian religion is manifestly a revelation from God. If such books were put into the hands of our youth, they would be in comparatively little danger of being seduced by a soul-destroying infidelity.

Baxter's Converse with God.

No. 256.

Converse with God in Desertion and Solitude. By the Rev. RICHARD BAXTER. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Any one who knows the character of Richard Baxter is aware that he held much sacred and sweet converse with God. He was therefore qualified by experience to point out to others the method of attaining this privilege so necessary for their support and comfort, when affliction creates a solitude around which God alone can throw rays of light and cheerfulness.

Conversations of a Father.

Nos. 257, 258.

Conversations of a Father with his Children. Series 1st and 2d. 18mo. With engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

Family scenes, the amusements of the younger members, their readiness to receive instruction and their happiness in their father's society are all skillfully depicted, and mixed up with the most agreeable entertainment.

Saint and Sinner.

No. 259.

The Saint and Sinner. By the Rev. WILLIAM S. PLUMER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A neat little volume, in which the character and condition of the saint are contrasted with those of the sinner.

Bedfordshire Tinker.

No. 260.

The Bedfordshire Tinker; or, The History of John Bunyan. Written for young children by E. G. SARGENT. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

The Bedfordshire Tinker was no less a personage than John Bunyan, the author of the Pilgrim's Progress. This is a brief sketch of his wonderful life, during which he was rescued from the deepest profligacy and degradation to be made an eminent minister of the gospel and one of the most famous among authors.

The Ribbon Room.

No. 261.

The Ribbon Room and other Stories, for little Boys and Girls. By the Rev. WILLIAM S. PLUMER, D. D. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

An agreeable miscellany, into which the author has introduced a variety of subjects and treated them in a familiar and pleasant style.

Story of the Samaritans.

No. 262.

Story of the Samaritans. 18mo. With cuts. (S. S. Lib.)

Young readers of the Bible often meet with notices of the Samaritans, and in this little volume all the particulars of their history are brought together.

African Preacher.

No. 263.

The African Preacher. An authentic narrative. By the Rev. WILLIAM S. WHITE, D. D., of Virginia. 18mo. With two engravings. (Cong. Lib.)

The African Preacher was a Virginia slave upon whose mind, without the aids of education, God poured a celestial light which enabled him to comprehend the great truths of the Bible, and into whose heart he infused a holy love for religion.

Newton's Cardiphonia.

No. 264.

Cardiphonia; or, The Utterance of the Heart in the Course of a Real Correspondence. By the Rev. JOHN NEWTON. With an Introductory Essay by DAVID RUSSEL, D. D. With a portrait. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A capital volume, embracing many of the instructive letters of that eminently good man, John Newton, in whose conversion and subsequent history the grace of God was wonderfully exhibited. Cardiphonia means "the utterance of the heart," and such the book really is.

Scripture Lessons in Verse.

No. 265.

Scripture Lessons in Verse; or, The Principles of Religion in Plain and Easy Verse for the Use of Children and Youth. By the Rev. PHILIP DODDRIDGE, D. D. Square 16mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

Youthful readers will find here the great principles of religion in plain and easy verse, written especially for them.

Christian's Daily Walk.

No. 266.

The Christian's Daily Walk in Holy Security and Peace. By the Rev. HENRY SCUDDER. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Solid instruction which was written two hundred years ago, and received the commendation of such men as Owen and Baxter.

Dr. A. Alexander's Sermons.

No. 267.

Practical Sermons, to be read in families and social meetings. By ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D., late Professor in Princeton Theological Seminary. With a portrait. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Alexander placed the Christian community under lasting obligations by permitting this choice selection from his sermons to be published. They are characterized by simplicity, profound knowledge of the human heart, vigorous thought and sound evangelical sentiment. The volume is beautifully printed, and adorned with a portrait which has the merit of being a correct likeness.

Africaner. No. 268.

Africaner ; or, Missionary Trials. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The New Hebrides.

No. 278.

Scenes in the New Hebrides, and Shesh Achurjya.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In the above eleven little volumes juvenile readers will find authentic narratives of a very engaging kind.

Hall's Meditations.

No. 279.

Pious Meditations and Devout Breathings. By the Rev. JOSEPH HALL, D. D., Bishop of Norwich. 18mo.
(Cong. Lib.)

Bishop Hall was a great and good man who left behind voluminous writings. The selections in this book are made from his devotional writings, and the style is only so far changed as to make it intelligible in modern times. The thoughts are striking, and bear evidence that he was a man who conversed much with God and his own heart, and whose knowledge of the Holy Scriptures was profound.

Shepherd Boy.

No. 280.

The Shepherd Boy of Bethlehem, William and his Dog, Profane Swearing, and The Sailor Boys of Eimeo.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

William Tyndal.

No. 281.

The Story of William Tyndal, My own Bible, and The Ungrateful Child. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a continuation of the Africaner series of juvenile books. Each volume has a beautiful wood-cut.

The Spiritual Garden.

No. 282.

The Spiritual Garden; or, Traits of Christian Character Delineated. 18mo. With a handsome wood-cut. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume is from the works of the Rev. James Hamilton, the Rev. H. F. Burder and the Rev. R. M. McCheyne. It comprises the Vine, the Cedar, the Palm, the Olive, the Church in the House, the Government of the Thoughts, the Government of the Tongue, Remember Eli; or, A Solemn Call to Parents, and A Pastor's Inquiries,—all interesting, practical and instructive.

Bethany, by McCheyne.

No. 283.

Bethany; or, The Sickness, Death and Resurrection of Lazarus. By the Rev. R. M. MCCHEYNE. 18mo. With two engravings. (Cong. Lib.)

This, like everything else from McCheyne's pen, breathes a sweet spirit of gentle, humble piety. All who are familiar with his writings may readily imagine how he would deport himself when in company with Jesus, Mary and Martha at the tomb of Lazarus.

The Redeemer's Legacy.

No. 284.

The Redeemer's Legacy; or, Peace from the Saviour's Hands and Side. By the Rev. W. J. McCORD. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The writer's aim is to remove the darkness and doubts with which the minds of many sincere Christians are disturbed, and to administer to all such that peace which the Redeemer has left as a legacy to his faithful followers.

James' Anxious Inquirer.

No. 285.

The Anxious Inquirer after Salvation Directed and Encouraged. By JOHN ANGELL JAMES. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A work the merit of which has been well attested. It has gone through various editions, and has been singularly useful to those whose attention has been awakened to the great concern of salvation.

Prize Essays on the Sabbath. No. 286.

Prize Essays on the Temporal Advantages of the Sabbath Considered in Relation to the Working Classes. Containing Heaven's Antidote to the Curse of Labor, by JOHN ALLAN QUINTON, Journeyman Printer; The Torch of Time, by DAVID FARQUHAR, Machinist; and The Pearl of Days, by A Laborer's Daughter. 12mo.

With nine beautiful engravings. (Cong. Lib.)

The importance of the subject, the peculiarity of the authorship, the style of publication and the cheapness of the volume render this a very attractive book.

Triumph over Death. No. 289.

The Christian Philosopher Triumphant over Death; or, A Narrative of the Closing Scenes of the Life of William Gordon, M. D., F.L.S., of Kingston-upon-Hull. By NEWMAN HALL, B. A. With a lithographed likeness.

 To which is added a Memoir of Dr. John D. Godman.
 By Dr. THOMAS SEWALL. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The former part of this volume exhibits one of the most remarkable dying scenes of a Christian which we have ever read. "The pains, the groans and dying strife" which so often characterize the closing scenes, even of the believer, were strangers to the deathbed of Dr. Gordon; peace, joy and triumph through the blood of the Lamb marked his chamber as the "robing-room of heaven."

The Memoir of Dr. Godman, which is appended to this edition, is scarcely less interesting. There are few books which we should place, with higher hopes of usefulness, in the hands of an intelligent physician or cultivator of science than this simple but authentic and beautiful Memoir of two men whose names are as familiar in the departments of medicine and natural science as they will be precious in the memory of the Church of God.

My Own Book.

No. 290.

My Own Book; or, Select Narratives and Instructions
 Suitable for Youth. Square 16mo. With many engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

The variety of interesting incidents and the handsome illustrations make it appropriate as a gift-book for children.

Memoir of Mrs. Andrew.

No. 291.

Memoir of Mrs. Agnes Andrew of Paisley. Illustrative of the Triumphs of Faith in Humble Life. By the Rev. PETER MEARNES, Coldstream. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Touching portraiture of pious poverty struggling on in the midst of the most adverse circumstances, and under the weight of heavy afflictions.

Sibbes' Bruised Reed.

No. 292.

The Bruised Reed and Smoking Flax. To which is added a Description of Christ. By RICHARD SIBBES, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An elaborate exposition, after the old Puritan method, of Matt. xii. 20, in which the infirmities and frailties of Christians and the tenderness of Christ in dealing with these weaknesses are very touchingly set forth. Baxter mentions this treatise as one that contributed very greatly to lead him to Christ.

Jewish Rites.

No. 293.

Moriah; or, Sketches of the Sacred Rites of Ancient Israel. By the Rev. ROBERT W. FRASER, M. A. 12mo.
With two engravings. (Cong. Lib.)

The plan embraces a view of the temple on Mount Moriah; an account of the priesthood; a description of the daily worship and of the rites peculiar to the passover, to the feasts of Pentecost and Tabernacles, the yearly atonement, and the festivals of the New Moons and New Years; and an account of the Sabbath-day, Sabbath-year and Jubilee. It is a book not for scholars, but for the people, and especially valuable to Sabbath-school teachers.

The Three Last Things.

No. 294.

The Three Last Things; or, Death, Judgment and Eternity. By the Rev. JOHN HAMBLETON, M. A. 18mo.
(Cong. Lib.)

An earnest presentation of those august themes, Death, Judgment and Eternity, called by the old divines novissima—"last things."

Lessons of Life and Death.

No. 298.

Lessons of Life and Death. A Memorial of Sarah Ball, who died in her 18th year. By ELIZABETH RITCHIE. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A graceful and touching tribute to a very lovely character. The book describes her childhood, her conversion, her spiritual conflicts, her intellectual and Christian character and the triumphant exercises of her dying hours.

Alexander on the Canon.

No. 300.

The Canon of the Old and New Testament Ascertained; or, The Bible Complete Without the Apocrypha and Unwritten Traditions. By ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D. A new edition. Revised for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

Every intelligent Christian should desire to know the rational grounds on which the Canon of Scripture is made up, though we are persuaded that few comparatively have any idea of the principles involved in the question. Every necessary facility is furnished by this lucid and satisfactory exposition of the subject, which has been so long and most favorably known both in Europe and America.

The Brazen Serpent.

No. 301.

The Brazen Serpent; or, Faith in Christ Illustrated. By J. H. JONES, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Full of the marrow of the gospel, presented in a simple, clear and affectionate manner, well adapted to win the attention and the hearts of the children, for whose benefit it was written.

Sermons to Young Children.

No. 303.

Sermons to Young Children. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A neat little volume of ten sermons, averaging less than eight small pages each.

These "Considerations" will be found seasonable and highly consolatory to afflicted souls.

Kirwan's Letters.

No. 305.

Letters to the Right Rev. John Hughes, Roman Catholic Bishop of New York. By "KIRWAN." 18mo. Three parts in one. (Cong. Lib.)

These letters have been translated into French, Spanish, Italian, German and Tamil. Few works on this great controversy are better adapted for popular effect than these terse, Junius-like letters of "Kirwan." The author is the late and lamented Rev. Nicholas Murray, D. D.

Pictorial First Book.

No. 306.

Pictorial First Book for Little Boys and Girls. Square 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A choice little book for children who are just being initiated into the mysteries of spelling. The lessons are well selected and arranged, and the illustrations are beautifully executed.

Still Happy in Jesus.

No. 307.

Still Happy in Jesus; or, The Dying Hours of Emily F——, a Kelso Sabbath Scholar aged 14. By JANE CATHARINE ——. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An affectionate enforcement of the gracious invitations of the gospel to those who are oppressed with a burden of sin and sorrow.

Life of Colonel Gardiner.

No. 311.

The Life of Col. James Gardiner, who was slain at the Battle of Prestonpans, September 21, 1745. By P. DODDRIDGE, D. D. 18mo. With a beautiful portrait. (Cong. Lib.)

An intensely engaging Memoir, comprising the remarkable conversion, highly consistent Christian character and melancholy death of a brave soldier.

Assembly's Digest.

No. 312.

A Collection of the Acts, Deliverances and Testimonies of the Supreme Judicatory of the Presbyterian Church from its Origin in America to the Present Time. With Notes and Documents explanatory and historical. Constituting a complete illustration of her polity, faith and history. By the Rev. SAMUEL J. BAIRD, D. D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

This Digest follows the line of the so-called "Old-School" Assembly from the division to the year 1858 inclusive.

Works of Creation.

No. 313.

The Works of Creation Illustrated. With many engravings. Square 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Here is the blending of natural science and religious truth in a way that is eminently fitted to enkindle in the youthful mind the spirit of devotion. A few leading points in Astronomy, Physical Geography and Meteorology are opened up to the capacity of intelligent youth, and the natural history of the animal kingdom is expounded with great felicity, aided by spirited and beautiful illustrations.

Still Waters.

No. 315.

Still Waters; or, Refreshment for the Saviour's Flock at Eventide. By the Rev. JAMES SMITH. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These beautiful little hand-books of devotion are made up of a text of Scripture, a verse of poetry and a single brief sentence, all bearing on some one practical thought. One volume is intended for the morning and the other for the evening of every day in the year.

Ears of Spiritual Harvest.

No. 316.

Ears of the Spiritual Harvest; or, Narratives of the Christian Life. 12mo. With two beautiful engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

Brief narratives exemplifying the most important passages in the life of the soul, and especially designed to illustrate the sovereignty of divine grace in the conversion and sanctification of men.

My Father's God.

No. 317.

My Father's God. A testimony for Religion addressed especially to the children of pious parents. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Full of kind instruction to youth who have been piously trained, but whose steps have gone aside from the commandments.

Universalism False.

No. 318.

Universalism False and Unscriptural. An Essay on the Duration and Intensity of Future Punishment. By A. ALEXANDER, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An admirable little work, which should be put into the hands of the young as an antidote to that poisonous error which holds out the lure that men may partake of the pleasures of sin without fear of punishment.

The Cripple.

No. 319.

The Cripple, The Mountain in the Plain, and To a Boy Anxious about his Soul. With an engraving. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume contains a touching narrative of an afflicted youth seeking an interest in Christ. Also an allegory, entitled "The Mountain in the Plain," by the Rev. James Hamilton, and a letter by the Rev. R. M. McCheyne "To a Boy Anxious about his Soul."

Confessions of a Convert.

No. 320.

Confessions of a Convert from Baptism in Water to Baptism with Water. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A small but exceedingly interesting work by one who, having been reared under Baptist influences, undertakes, having himself discovered the truth, to expose the bigotry, ignorance, sophistry and narrow-mindedness of certain classes of that persuasion. The work is admirably adapted to common readers.

The Log College.

No. 321.

Biographical Sketches of the Founder and Principal Alumni of the Log College. Together with an Account of the Revivals of Religion under their Ministry. Collected and edited by ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, D. D. 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

This volume contains narratives of the times and the men who were connected with the early history of Presbyterianism in New Jersey. The work is popularly known as the "Log College," deriving its title from Mr. Tennent's School at Neshaminy, at which most of the earlier members of the Presbytery of New Brunswick were educated.

No. 382.

Fear Not, and Rest in Christ. 32mo. (Cong. Lib.)

"Fear Not" is a fervent, simple and affectionate endeavor to remove the awakened soul's distrust of God. "Rest in Christ" is a similar attempt to confirm the soul in believing repose upon the Lamb of God.

Memoirs of Walter M. Lowrie. No. 385.

Memoirs of the Rev. Walter M. Lowrie, Missionary to China. Edited by his Father. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An abridgment of the larger Memoir of this devoted missionary, which was published shortly after his death. The Church of Christ in these latter days has produced few choicer and lovelier spirits than was that of Walter M. Lowrie. Although cut off by the hand of violence when in only his twenty-ninth year, he lived long enough to do great good, and long will he continue to speak, although dead.

Sketches of Presbyterian Church. No. 386.

Sketches of the Presbyterian Church. Containing a brief summary of arguments in favor of its primitive and apostolic character, and a view of its principles, order and history. Designed especially for the youth of the Church. By the Rev. J. E. ROCKWELL. 18mo. With four engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

The Lily among Thorns. No. 387.

The Lily among Thorns, and Old Gabriel. 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two interesting narratives for the young, the first giving an account of a Scotch woman who, when a little girl, was rescued from gypsy associates to become a shining and useful Christian.

The Bohemian Martyrs. No. 388.

The Bohemian Martyrs; or, Sketches of the Lives of John Huss and Jerome of Prague. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

The Lives of John Huss and Jerome of Prague. It is a great thing to familiarize the minds of children with the deeds of heroic self-denial and Christian devotion which characterized the martyrs.

Monitory Letters.

No. 389.

Monitory Letters to Church Members. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This excellent work is from the pen of an able, accomplished and experienced author and pastor. It is composed of twenty-two letters, each of which forms a complete chapter, addressed to some one class of defective Christians. They breathe the spirit of Christian affection and fidelity to the souls of those whom they aim to bless.

Perseverance of the Saints.

No. 390.

The Perseverance of the Saints. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An earnest, scriptural and logical argument in defence of a precious doctrine.

Gospel and Epistles of John.

No. 391.

The Gospel and Epistles of St. John. 64mo.

A beautiful little miniature volume, suitable for a present or to be carried in the pocket as a vade mecum.

Adam and Christ.

No. 392.

Adam and Christ; or, The Doctrine of Representation Stated and Explained. By E. C. WINES, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little work explains and defends, in the most lucid and convincing manner, the doctrine of vicarious obedience and suffering.

Minutes of General Assembly.

No. 393.

Minutes of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States from A. D. 1821 to A. D. 1835 inclusive. Prepared by the Editor of the Board. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

The original edition of these Minutes having been exhausted, and no second edition published, they have for many years been quite inaccessible to the great body of ministers and people. Hence the call for this new edition, which contains the Minutes in full, with a condensed summary of the voluminous statistical tables of the original Minutes. This volume will be valuable as a work of reference, and as exhibiting a consecutive history of the proceedings of our highest judicatory.

Owen on Temptation.

No. 394.

On Temptation and the Mortification of Sin in Believers. By the Rev. JOHN OWEN, D. D. 12mo. With a portrait. (Cong. Lib.)

The nature of the contents of this volume can be best exhibited by setting forth in full the separate titles of the two treatises, which are as follows: I. Of Temptation: the nature and power of it, the danger of entering into it, and the means of preventing that danger; with a resolution of sundry cases thereunto belonging. II. Of the Mortification of Sin in Believers: the necessity, nature and means of it; with a resolution of sundry cases of conscience thereunto belonging.

Ministry not a Priesthood.

No. 395.

The Christian Ministry not a Priesthood. A sermon preached at the opening of the sessions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Nashville, Tenn., 1855. By the Rev. HENRY A. BOARDMAN, D. D. Published by order of the Assembly. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The clearness and simplicity of its argument, the gracefulness of its diction, the truthfulness of its statements, the fervor and power of its appeals, and its special adaptation to meet and refute some of the most insidious and fashionable errors of the day, combine to make this a highly valuable contribution to our religious literature.

What is Presbyterianism ?

No. 396.

What is Presbyterianism ? An address delivered before the Presbyterian Historical Society. By CHARLES HODGE, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A very able and instructive discourse of its learned author, who may be supposed to be fully competent to pronounce upon the characteristic features of that system of Church order which we believe to be founded in the word of God.

Memoirs of Urquhart.

No. 397.

Memoirs. Including Letters and Select Remains of John Urquhart, late of the University of St. Andrew's. By WILLIAM ORME. With a Prefatory Notice and Recommendation. By ALEXANDER DUFF, D. D., LL.D. 12mo. With a portrait. (Cong. Lib.)

An interesting Memoir of a young Scottish student of remarkable talents, attainments and piety. At a very tender age he devoted himself to the work of preaching the gospel to the heathen, but owing to various obstacles his intentions were never carried out. From the age of twelve years onward he was a fellow-student and intimate associate of the distinguished missionary, Dr. Alexander Duff.

Life-Sketches from Scottish History. No. 398.

Life-Sketches from Scottish History; or, Brief Biographies of Scottish Presbyterian Worthies. Compiled for the Board of Publication. 18mo. With an engraving. (S. S. Lib.)

A book full of facts and anecdotes interesting both to the youthful and adult reader.

Sermons by the Tennents.

No. 399.

Sermons and Essays by the Tennents and their Contemporaries. Compiled for the Board. 12mo. With a portrait of the Rev. Gilbert Tennent. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume originated in a plan of the late Dr. Archibald Alexander, and was intended by him to be a kind of supplement to his "Log College." He did not, however, live to execute his design, which was carried out by one of his sons. It contains sermons or essays from the pens of the three Tennents, Gilbert, William and John, and from the Rev. John Blair, Dr. Robert Smith and Dr. Samuel Finley. The great doctrines of divine sovereignty, justice, wisdom and mercy, of predestination, regeneration and kindred topics, are handled with a power and unction rarely seen in later productions. Brief biographical notices of the writers are prefixed to their several writings.

Learning to Converse.

No. 400.

Learning to Converse. Revised by the Editor of the Board. 18mo. With engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume is from the same pen as "Learning to Think," "Learning to Feel" and "Learning to Act," all of which have been favorites with the young people ever since they were issued.

The Portfolio.

No. 401.

The Portfolio of Entertainment and Instruction. Compiled by the Editor of the Board. Quarto. (Cong. Lib.)

An elegant gift book suitable for every season.

Henry on Prayer.

No. 402.

A Method for Prayer. With Scripture Expressions to be used under each head. By the Rev. MATTHEW HENRY, author of the Commentary. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The gifted author of this well-known treatise says: "A golden thread of heart-prayer must run through the web of the whole Christian life," and he has opened a rich mine from which to draw the material for the precious filament. A study of the topics and the copious array of Scripture passages under each, as furnished in this volume, would greatly tend to give richness and variety to this fundamental part of our devotions.

The Child's Story-Book.

No. 403.

The Child's Story-Book. By COUSIN MARTHA and MARY. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An inviting and instructive book for children. It contains twenty-three short narratives, and is illustrated by a number of wood-cuts.

Missionary Life in India.

No. 404.

A Glance Backward at Fifteen Years of Missionary Life in North India. By the Rev. JOSEPH WARREN, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This sketch of missionary life in a distant land will be read with deep interest by the friends of missions. The habits, customs, prejudices, etc., of the people, the difficulties and hardships which the missionary has to encounter, his disappointments and successes,—all are narrated with truthful simplicity.

Wanderings of a Pilgrim. No. 405.

Wanderings of a Pilgrim. By D. A. HARSHA, author of "Immanuel's Land," etc., etc. 64mo. Gilt edges. (Cong. Lib.)

An admirable little book, containing a series of chapters, practical and experimental, on the Christian's pilgrimage through the Wilderness and across the Jordan of death.

Aunt Sarah's Stories. No. 406.

Aunt Sarah's Stories. By MINNIE WOODRUFF. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful little book, printed in a large fair type, adapted to benefit and amuse children.

Plain Words Newly Spoken. No. 408.

Short Sermons for Plain Readers and Hearers. By the Rev. A. F. DICKSON. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These are what they profess to be, plain yet interesting and instructive discourses for the unlearned. They may be read with advantage by those who lead in church services when there is no settled ministry.

Vincent on Shorter Catechism. No. 409.

An Explanation of the Assembly's Catechism. By the Rev. THOMAS VINCENT. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little volume, although somewhat quaint and antique in its style of composition, contains a rich and clear exposition of divine truth. Pastors, Sabbath-school teachers and others may find in it a valuable helper in their attempts to expound and illustrate the Shorter Catechism. So long ago as the year 1772 the old Synod of New York and Philadelphia was engaged in the gratuitous distribution of religious books to poor congregations, and "Vincent's Catechism" was one of the short list the Synod authorized to be procured and distributed.

Lizzie Ferguson.

No. 410.

Lizzie Ferguson ; or, The Sabbath-School Scholar. A Narrative of Facts. Written for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. By S. S. EGLISEAU. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An extremely well-written juvenile book, by one who possesses the happy faculty of imparting the most wholesome lessons in that familiar and affectionate way which children love.

The World and its Influences.

No. 411.

The World and its Influences. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLES, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A seasonable and faithful warning against the deceptive and destructive influences of the world ; polished in style, scriptural in sentiment, affectionate and faithful in its warnings and exhortations.

The Sower and the Seed.

No. 412.

The Sower and the Seed. By the Rev. JOHN HALL, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A plain and practical exposition of our Lord's parable of the Sower. Hearers of the word, who complain that they are not benefited by preaching, may here find the cause of their unfruitfulness under the means of grace.

Ellen Sinclair.

No. 413.

Ellen Sinclair ; or, The Earnest Inquirer. A true narrative. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A singularly beautiful and touching narrative of the religious experience of an intelligent young lady. The simple and unaffected language in which she relates the way in which she was led to the Cross is well adapted to attract and captivate the reader, and to make her story useful to those who may be seeking to secure an interest in Christ and his great salvation.

The Wedge of Gold.

No. 414.

The Wedge of Gold; or, Achan in El Dorado. By the Rev. W. A. SCOTT, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

In these times, when the love of money is working so perniciously to the interests of true religion, he does a good service who sets this gross form of idolatry in its true light. Such a service the author has rendered in this volume.

Little Nelly.

No. 415.

Little Nelly, and The Dying Irish Girl. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two narratives in one volume, both exhibiting the peace-giving power of the gospel of Christ in contrast with the insufficiency of papal delusions to purge the conscience from the guilt of sin.

Backbiting Reproved.

No. 416.

Backbiting Reproved, The Visit, and other Sketches.

By CHARLOTTE ELIZABETH. 18mo. With four engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

Here we have the common sin of evil-speaking viewed in a scriptural light. The subject is presented and carried out in a pleasing interview between a cousin and two sisters. All who wish to understand and shun this widespread and peace-destroying sin would do well to read this interesting little volume.

Daniel Baker's Talk.

No. 417.

Daniel Baker's Talk to Little Children. By the Rev.

DANIEL BAKER, D. D., of Texas. 18mo. With three engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume is largely made up of stories for little children, which are well adapted to awaken a deep interest in the minds of young readers.

Paradise of Children.

No. 418.

The Paradise of Children. An Address to Boys and Girls. By the Rev. N. MORREN, Minister of the North Parish, Greenock. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author first shows that there are children in heaven, and then that all the children in heaven are happy, and then how many children get to that happy city.

Little Kadore.

No. 419.

Little Kadore, The Royal Beggar Boy, and Maurice Sullivan. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Little Kadore was a little boy of Tangier, Morocco, and Maurice Sullivan an Irish boy of Ballybunnion, County Kerry. They are interesting, instructive and truthful stories.

Transformed Island.

No. 420.

The Transformed Island. A Story of the South Seas. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little book records events of a most remarkable character—the settlement of the uninhabited island of Pitcairn by a band of mutineers, and the wonderful change wrought by the reading of a copy of the Bible.

Petra.

No. 421.

Petra; or, The Rock City and its Explorers. With a Plan of the City and Engravings of the Monuments. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very minute and interesting account of this wonderful city of ancient Idumea, in which is a most remarkable verification of the prophecies of God respecting it. It contains some very handsome engravings.

Sabbath-School Theology.

No. 422.

Sabbath-School Theology; or, Conversations with a Class. By JOHN HALL, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The "theology" of this little book is sound, scriptural and well adapted to the minds of children. It would be well if all Sabbath-school teachers would instruct their classes in theology after the manner of this book.

Deathbed Triumphs.

No. 423.

Deathbed Triumphs of Eminent Christians, Exemplifying the Power of Religion in a Dying Hour. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A record of the dying experiences of Luther, Calvin, Melancthon, Beza, Rivet, and of many other men who, though less illustrious, were remarkable for their earnest piety. Its perusal will teach the true believer to contemplate death, as one of them expressed it, as a great blessing—as the messenger sent to release us from earth and introduce us to heaven.

William Bartlett.

No. 424.

William Bartlett; or, The Good Son, The Contested Seat, Lessons of the Stars, and Who is the Happiest Girl? 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting volume, containing several narratives of an excellent and impressive religious character.

Learn to Say No.

No. 425.

Learn to Say No; or, The City Apprentice. Written for the Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A record of the actual experiences, temptations, difficulties and dangers of one who is now a Presbyterian minister in the West, while in early life an apprentice in an Eastern city. This book would be invaluable as a gift to any lad away from his parents' roof.

Footprints of Popery.

No. 426.

Footprints of Popery; or, Places where Martyrs have Suffered. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume contains, in the form of a very interesting conversation between an aged man and a youth, a most interesting account of the cruel deeds of popery in England. It is illustrated by a large number of wood-cuts.

Nursery Rhymes.

No. 427.

Rhymes for the Nursery. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A republication of a capital little English work, containing about sixty beautiful pieces of poetry adapted to the minds of little children.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Another book for the young, comprising over twenty valuable lessons most judiciously selected.

Day with the Haymakers.

No. 430.

A Day with the Haymakers. Written for the Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sprightly little book, in which ordinary incidents in country life are made a vehicle for conveying many important lessons.

First Sabbath Excursion.

No. 431.

The First Sabbath Excursion and its Consequences.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A solemn warning to boys against the small beginnings of a life of transgression against God's holy law.

Kenneth Forbes.

No. 432.

Kenneth Forbes; or, Fourteen Ways of Studying the Bible. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This excellent volume is designed to lead children to an intelligent and careful study of God's holy word, and to show them that that blessed volume can well reward such study. It possesses sterling value.

Gems from the Coral Islands. No. 433.

Gems from the Coral Islands, Western Polynesia. Comprising the New Hebrides Group, the Loyalty Group, and New Caledonia Group. By the Rev. WILLIAM GILL, Rarotonga. 12mo. With illustrations. (Cong. Lib.)

Gems from the Coral Islands. No. 434.

Gems from the Coral Islands; or, Incidents of Contrast between Savage and Christian Life of the South-Sea Islanders. By the Rev. WILLIAM GILL, Rarotonga. Eastern Polynesia. Comprising the Rarotonga Group, Penrhyn Island and Savage Island. 12mo. With illustrations. (Cong. Lib.)

These volumes may be confidently commended as containing an intensely interesting record of missionary labors, trials and successes in that distant and until lately debased and savage portion of the world. They are written by one who was himself for many years engaged in the work about which he writes. They are of great value and interest to the naturalist, the philanthropist and the Christian. They treat of some of the most wonderful of the products of nature in the formation of those Coral Islands, of man in his most degraded forms of existence, and of the transforming and elevating power of the gospel, as well as of the devoted fidelity and self-denial of the missionaries of the cross.

Faith and Works. No. 436.

Faith and Works; or, The Teaching of the Apostles Paul and James on the Doctrine of Justification Perfectly Harmonious. By the Rev. L. H. CHRISTIAN, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An instructive little volume on a point which has perplexed and troubled not a few.

The Classmates. No. 437.

The Classmates; or, The College Revival. By a Presbyterian minister. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume narrates the means by which a youth in college, of pious parentage, but somewhat inclined to skepticism, was finally led to cordial and experimental acceptance of the gospel, and to a consecration of himself to God's service. The value of the book is increased by the fact that the trains of incident and conversation were all a part of the actual experiences of the writer.

Domestic Duties.

No. 438.

Domestic Duties; or, The Family a Nursery for Earth and Heaven. By the Rev. RUFUS W. BAILEY. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The duties of husbands and wives, of females, of parents and children, are here stated in a style at once attractive and forcible.

Ella Clinton.

No. 439.

Ella Clinton; or, By their Fruits ye shall Know them. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An engaging story of an orphan girl early deprived of a pious mother and thrown on the care of a well-meaning but harsh-tempered aunt. It shows the advantage of true religion in bearing her up under her trials and making her an instrument of good to others.

Good Stories.

No. 440.

Good Stories for the Little Ones. By a Teacher of Infants. 18mo. With seven illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The good old Bible stories are here well told for little hearers or readers, and rendered attractive by pleasing pictures.

Gleanings from Real Life.

No. 441.

Gleanings from Real Life. By S. S. EGLISEAU, author of "Lizzie Ferguson." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Fourteen sketches drawn from real life, all exhibiting the beauty of godliness.

Annie Grey.

No. 442.

Annie Grey, and other Sketches. By OLIVE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Seven short but interesting sketches intended especially for little girls—simple, natural and instructive.

Children of Abraham.

No. 443.

Children of Abraham ; or, Sketches of Jewish Converts.

Being in part a sequel to "Leila Ada." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Sketches of the lives and the dying scenes of six converts from Judaism and one unconverted Jewess by way of contrast. The readers of "Leila Ada" will be pleased to learn something more about her cousin Isaac, who stood by her so nobly at the time of her fiery trial.

Life of Mrs. Sherwood.

No. 444.

The Life of Mrs. Sherwood, author of Henry Milner, Little Henry and his Bearer, etc. Abridged for the Board. 12mo. With a portrait. (Cong. Lib.)

A record of the personal history and experience of one whose name has long been a household word among pious parents and children.

Spiritual Treasury, Morning.

No. 445.

A Spiritual Treasury for the Children of God. Consisting of a meditation for the morning of each day in the year upon select texts of Scripture. Humbly intended to establish the faith, promote the comfort and influence the practice of the followers of the Lamb. By WILLIAM MASON. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Spiritual Treasury, Evening.

No. 446.

A Spiritual Treasury for the Children of God. Consisting of a Meditation for the evening of each day in the year upon select texts of Scripture. By WILLIAM MASON. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Two old and precious works in a new and inviting dress. Of the second the excellent William Romaine says, in an address to the reader in regard to it: "I have found a sweet savor of Jesus' precious name, free grace and perfect salvation in these meditations, and therefore I am persuaded it will be doing thee great service to recommend them to thy perusal."

The Bishop and the Monk. No. 447.

The Bishop and the Monk ; or, Sketches of the Lives of Pierpaolo Vergerio and John Craig, converts from popery. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Very interesting sketches of the lives of an Italian bishop and a Scotch monk during the time of the Reformation. They strikingly illustrate the power of truth to free the soul from the darkest system of superstition and bigotry, Isabel. No. 448.

Isabel ; or, Influence. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A true narrative illustrating the important principle of the influence which may be exerted even by the humblest in doing good.

In Doors and out of Doors; or, Life among the Children. By MARY MCCALLA, author of "Pictorial Second Book." Square 16mo. With five colored engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

An agreeable and useful volume for juvenile readers. The chapters are well written, and convey much useful religious instruction. The colored engravings add much to the attractiveness of the book.

Our Theology in its Developments. No. 456.

Our Theology in its Developments. By the Rev. E. P. HUMPHREY, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Louisville, Ky. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This book contains a sermon preached before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in 1852. The object of the writer is to set forth the tendencies of the system of doctrine and polity taught in the Confession of Faith. This he has done in seven particulars, which he has illustrated and enforced in a manner clear, forcible and conclusive.

Aunt Ruth.

No. 458.

Aunt Ruth ; or, Persecuted, not Forsaken. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Ella Clinton." 18mo. With engravings. (S. S. Lib.)

Noel's Meditations in Sickness. No. 463.

Meditations in Sickness and Old Age. By BAPTIST W.

NOEL, M. A. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little volume richly deserves the attention of the sick and the aged. It will bring sweet and useful thoughts to their minds, and carry consolation and hope and peace to their hearts. It discourses in a fresh and vivid style upon heaven and the needful preparation for it.

The Elect Lady. No. 464.

The Elect Lady: A Memoir of Mrs. Susan Catharine Bott of Petersburg, Va. By A. B. VANZANDT, D. D.

18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This Memoir of an excellent Christian lady distinguished for zeal, wisdom and activity holds up to view a model of Christian energy and humility which is profitable to contemplate.

The Refuge. No. 465.

The Refuge. By the author of the Guide to Domestic Happiness. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This book is admirably adapted to benefit young ladies. It was originally written for the instruction of "Lavinia," a young lady of London, who, possessing a complete education, great personal and mental attractions and receiving the homage of the fashionable world, found herself still unhappy. By the faithful instructions addressed to her by a Christian friend, and which are contained in the chapters of this book, she was led to "The Refuge," and secured peace and joy in believing on Jesus.

Daughters at School.

No. 466.

Daughters at school instructed in a series of letters.

By the Rev. RUFUS W. BAILY. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

In a series of affectionate and faithful letters to his motherless daughters while at a boarding-school the author gives most important counsels for their highest good in temporal and spiritual things, for time and for eternity. Every young lady in the forming period of her life should give this book a thoughtful and prayerful reading.

Marrow of Modern Divinity.

No. 485.

The Marrow of Modern Divinity. In two parts. Part
I. The Covenant of Works and the Covenant of Grace.
Part II. An Exposition of the Ten Commandments. By EDWARD FISHER, A. M. With Notes by the Rev.

THOMAS BOSTON, Minister of the Gospel, Ettrick. 12mo.
(Min. Lib.)

Few doctrinal or practical works have lasted longer or exerted a wider influence than the Marrow of Modern Divinity. Written originally in the age of Cromwell to compose the strifes which have arisen among the friends of evangelical religion, to counteract the tendency to Antinomianism which then prevailed, while it clearly presented the doctrine of gratuitous justification, it was itself condemned as Antinomian by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland in the early part of the last century, when that Church was under the control of the Moderates. Though designed and specially adapted to a different state of the Church from that which now exists, it retains its value as a concise exposition of the great truths of the gospel. The notes of Boston are an invaluable addition to it.

The Stephenson Family.

No. 486.

The Stephenson Family; or, Lessons on the Beatitudes.

Written for the Board. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The Model Merchant.

No. 506.

The Model Merchant; or, Memoirs of Samuel Budgett. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

We commend this Memoir of a most remarkable man to all our readers, and especially to those who are engaged in business. They will learn the secret of Mr. Budgett's rapid rise from comparative poverty to great wealth; and they will also see how a business man can and ought to carry his Christianity with him, and exert an influence for good on all who are in any way connected with him.

Pride.

No. 507.

Pride; or, Six Months at my Uncle's in New England. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent book for the young, exhibiting the pains, the hatefulness and the cure of pride. The narrative is interesting and the style pleasing.

Calvin's Letters.

No. 509.

Letters of John Calvin. Compiled from the Original Manuscripts, and Edited with Historical Notes. By Dr. JULES BONNET. Translated from the original Latin and French. 8vo. 4 vols. (Min. Lib.)

Dr. Bonnet explored the great libraries and other archives of Europe with untiring zeal and labor, and succeeded in collecting a large and extremely interesting part of the correspondence of the great Genevan Reformer. Two volumes of this correspondence were issued in Edinburgh, after which the undertaking was abandoned. Aided by a munificent gentleman in New York, the Board completed the work. The correspondence is rich and varied, and will be a source of delight to all who are interested in the history of the great Reformation. It also throws much light upon the character and life of Calvin himself. We know of no better method of getting at the inner life of a man than through his private correspondence with his bosom friends. Calvin appears nowhere to greater advantage than in his familiar correspondence. The fourth volume contains a copious index, which adds greatly to the value of the work.

The Last Days of Jesus.

No. 510.

The Last Days of Jesus; or, The Appearances of our Lord during the Forty Days between the Resurrection and Ascension. By the Rev. T. V. MOORE, D. D. (Cong. Lib.)

So familiar are all readers of the Scriptures with the events which occurred during the forty days between the resurrection and ascension of our Lord that few would have anticipated so much that seems new from a detailed and consecutive account of those events.

The Widow's Sixpence.

No. 513.

The Widow's Sixpence ; or, Go Thou and Do Likewise.By JOSEPHINE NALL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A poor woman, moved by the love of Christ, and pitying the perishing condition of those who are destitute of the Holy Scriptures, brought a sixpence as literally all she had to give to an agent of the Bible Society. She accompanied her gift with her prayers. That humble gift was directed in the providence of God to the purchase of a copy of the New Testament. That Testament fell into the hands of a young man—was the means of his conversion, his entrance into the ministry and the devotion of his life to a missionary's labors among the heathen. This is the story of the book before us, touchingly told and suggestive of good.

The Giant Judge.

No. 514.

The Giant Judge ; or, The Story of Samson, the Hebrew Hercules. By the Rev. W. A. SCOTT, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Life of Dr. Daniel Baker.

No. 564.

The Life and Labors of the Rev. Daniel Baker, D. D., Pastor and Evangelist. Prepared by his son, the Rev.

WILLIAM M. BAKER, Pastor of the Presbyterian Church,
Austin, Texas. Large 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

No man can read the story of the godly life and abounding labors of this eminent man of God without catching somewhat of the noble and earnest aspirations of its subject, or without rising from its perusal a wiser and a better man.

Poor Orphan's Legacy.

No. 566.

The Poor Orphan's Legacy. Being a short collection of Godly Counsels and Exhortations to a Young, Rising Generation. Primarily designed by the author for his own Children, but published that others may also reap benefit from them. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a reproduction of an old work supposed to be from the pen of the Rev. John Thompson, of Donegal Presbytery, who came from Ireland, as a probationer, to New York in 1715, and spent the latter part of his life as a missionary in Virginia. Every parent would do well to place this instructive volume in the hands of his children. It is a complete manual of Christian morals.

The Pastoral Office.

No. 567.

The Pastoral Office. Embracing experiences and observations from a pastorate of forty years. By the Rev. REUBEN SMITH. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

The title of this book sufficiently explains its object and the nature of its contents. Ministers and candidates for the ministry may gather many valuable hints from its pages.

Grace and Glory.

No. 568.

Grace and Glory; or, The Young Convert Instructed in the Doctrines of Grace. Being a sequel to "The Gospel Fountain." By the Rev. JAMES WOOD, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In "The Gospel Fountain" Dr. Wood treated the doctrines of the atonement, justification, divine agency in regeneration and sanctification, in a style adapted to arrest the attention of the young. In this volume, repentance, grace abounding, adoption, predestination and kindred topics are discussed in the same method in a familiar conversation between a father and his son. They are both worthy of a wide circulation.

Family Religion.

No. 569.

Family Religion; or, The Domestic Relations as Regulated by Christian Principles. By the Rev. B. M. SMITH, D. D., Professor in Union Theological Seminary, Virginia. A Prize Essay. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The questions discussed in this volume are—(1) The nature and importance of the family constitution; (2) The duties and responsibilities belonging to it; (3) The best means to secure the ends designed by it; (4) The relation of the family to the Church; (5) The value, difficulties and aids to family religion; (6) The pleas for neglect and delinquencies in family duties. These subjects are treated with remarkable judgment, vigor and freshness. The book should have a place in every family.

Christian Home.

No. 570.

The Christian Home ; or, Religion in the Family. By the Rev. JOSEPH A. COLLIER, of Kingston, New York.

A Prize Essay. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The method of this work differs largely from that of Dr. Smith, last described, while yet the same great principles are urged in a strong and vigorous manner. The reading of the one will not diminish, but rather increase, the interest with which the other may be read. We commend them both very earnestly to all heads of families especially, and ask for them an extensive circulation in every portion of the Church.

Esther and Her Times.

No. 571.

Esther and her Times. In a series of lectures on the Book of Esther. By the Rev. JOHN M. LOWRIE, D. D., of Fort Wayne, Indiana. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This neat little volume is evidently the fruit of careful study and no inconsiderable general learning. The discussion is conducted in a clear, interesting and instructive manner. It is full of precious truth, and cannot fail to benefit both the mind and heart of every prayerful reader.

Benoni.

No. 572.

Benoni ; or, The Triumph of Christianity over Judaism. By the Rev. Dr. BARTH, author of "Poor Henry," etc. From the German. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A striking narrative of a Jewish youth who, through a series of strange adventures and deliverances, was brought finally to know and embrace the gospel. It contains much interesting information respecting Jewish superstitions, and will be read with interest by multitudes of youth.

Annie Leslie.

No. 573.

Annie Leslie ; or, The Little Orphan. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of a little orphan girl who was adopted by an aunt and brought up with her own children. The narrative is interesting and teaches many valuable lessons.

Rosalie's Lessons.

No. 574.

Rosalie's Lessons. By MRS. SARAH S. T. WALLACE.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a little child in a Christian home, giving some of the first lessons of love and duty which a wise mother would seek to instill.

A Cluster of Fruits.

No. 575.

A Cluster of Fruits from the Tree of Heavenly Wisdom. Compiled for the Board of Publication. By ANNIE BROOKS. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charming compilation of short and very instructive religious tales which cannot fail to be welcomed by youthful readers.

Why was I Left?

No. 576.

Why was I Left? or, He Hath done All Things Well. By MARY MCCALLA, author of "Life among the Children," "Twin Sisters," etc. Square 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of a young lady who, on being left alone by the death of her parents, was almost disposed to complain that she too had not been taken. Her successful labors as a Sabbath-school teacher, however, showed that her heavenly Father had done all things well.

Ellen.

No. 578.

Ellen; or, Submission in Affliction. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The title sufficiently indicates the character of this little work. It will convey at the same time example and comfort to many a sufferer.

Ella Graham.

No. 579.

Ella Graham; or, Great Effects from Small Causes. By ABBY ELDREDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little book teaches how first a little girl, then her brother, then her father, and finally the whole family, were brought into the Church through the instrumentality of a faithful Sabbath-school teacher; how from drunkenness, dirt and degradation they were elevated to sobriety, cleanliness and respectability. It exhibits in a perfectly natural way the benefits and blessings flowing to ungodly families from attendance on Sabbath-school instruction.

Twyman Hogue.

No. 580.

Twyman Hogue; or, Early Piety Illustrated: A Biographical Sketch by the Rev. W. W. HILL, D. D. With an Introduction by the Rev. L. W. GREEN, D. D., President of Centre College. Prepared for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Twyman Hogue was a boy of rare and powerful intellect, which was encased in feeble body. His piety was no less eminent and impressive. Dr. Hill has embalmed his memory in a narrative of sweet, touching and classical simplicity, and Dr. Green has prefixed an eloquent introduction.

The Holidays.

No. 581.

Holidays, and the Reasons why they are Observed.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Christmas and New Year, St. Patrick's Day, Fourth of July, St. Bartholomew's Day and Thanksgiving Day are made the subjects of pleasant and profitable conversations between a mother and her children. There is no tinge of superstition in the volume.

Titles of our Lord.

No. 582.

The Titles of our Lord Adopted by Himself in the New Testament. By J. MONTAGUE RANDALL, Vicar of Langham, Suffolk. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A discussion of fourteen of the names which our Lord applied to himself in the New Testament, beginning with "I am," and ending with "the Morning Star. It is full of Jesus, and speaks of him in that tender, loving, trustful tone which shows that the Redeemer was a living reality to the author's mind.

Home Jewels.

No. 583.

Home Jewels ; or, Maggie Ella Colton and her Brothers.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Drops of Truth.

No. 585.

Drops of Truth from the Fountain of Wisdom. Compiled for the Board of Publication. By JEANIE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent collection of short pieces, all interesting and each conveying some important Scripture lesson.

Emily Gray.

No. 586.

Emily Gray and her Kind Aunt. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A series of very ordinary and homelike incidents is here most happily employed to enforce many important lessons for youth.

Bar of Iron.

No. 587.

The Bar of Iron, and the Conclusion of the Matter. A True Story. By the Rev. CHARLES B. TAYLER, A. M., Rector of Otey. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A deeply interesting temperance story, showing by facts which happened in the life of an English blacksmith the awful consequence of indulgence in habits of intemperance. The facts teach that character, like iron, hardens under the furnace, if the right use is not made of God's dealings with the soul.

Little Annie's First Thoughts.

No. 588.

Little Annie's First Thoughts about God. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Palissy, the Huguenot Potter: A True Tale. By C. L. BRIGHTWELL. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Of this ingenious and pious Huguenot potter, M. de Lamartine has said, "He has exercised an influence on civilization, and has deserved a place to himself among the men who have ennobled humanity." The story of the life, the struggles, the devotion, the success, the persecution and the death of this noble man cannot be read without emotion. The facts are drawn from records left by himself and by contemporary writers.

The Rock of Ages.

No. 609.

The Rock of Ages; or, Scripture Testimony to the One Eternal Godhead of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. By EDWARD HENRY BICKERSTETH, M. A., Incumbent of Christ Church, Hampstead. A new and revised edition. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Never was a work written on a controverted subject with less of the spirit of controversy. It is addressed to the heart quite as much as to the understanding. It exhibits the evidencé of the Godhead of our Lord in its connection with the religious experience of his people, and leads them to see that their religion consists in the love, worship and service of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Words of Wisdom.

No. 610.

Words of Wisdom Illustrated and Applied. Being a Sequel to "Little Words." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

No. 649.

Aunt Fanny's Home, and her Talks about God's Works. By the Rev. WM. E. SCHENCK, D.D. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

This book is beautifully gotten up, with numerous pictorial illustrations. "It is a work far above the usual style of Sabbath-school books. Aunt Fanny was a maiden lady of wealth and refinement, who received into her home three orphan nephews and superintended their education. The book contains some of the conversations between Aunt Fanny and these boys about various natural objects, such as snow, water, fire, air, light and color. The most curious and striking phenomena of these natural objects are dwelt upon and explained in a manner that is very clear and entertaining, and the whole is made with great skill to throw light upon the pages of Holy Scripture. It is seldom we have seen the beautiful phenomena of common objects set forth with such clearness and ease as in the pages of 'Aunt Fanny's Home,' and we do not recollect ever to have seen these teachings of nature linked to the teachings of Revelation more happily than here."—S. S. Times.

It is well adapted for a holiday present. It contains three choice stories: "The Homage of the Heart," "The Spring Daisy" and "Fanny's Winter in the City." They are intended to inculcate a strict obedience to the calls of duty and of conscience.

Letters to the Young.

No. 669.

Letters to the Young. By Miss MARIA JANE JEWSEBURY. 12mo. Beautifully printed on tinted paper, with red edges, bevel cloth, and illustrated. (Cong. Lib.)

These Letters were originally published in England, and were received with extraordinary favor. They were addressed to young friends during a gradual and protracted recovery from long illness. They are the product of a highly-cultivated mind, and urge upon the attention of the young, first, the value and importance of the Scriptures, then the transcending importance of religion in many of its practical aspects as a subject of personal concern.

The Prodigal Son.

No. 670.

The Prodigal Son. By the Rev. GEORGE S. MOTT.
Small 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Upon the basis of the Parable of the Prodigal Son the condition of man through the various stages of his wanderings and transgressions against God, until the season of his awakening and return to his Father's house, is forcibly depicted.

Alice Barlow.

No. 671.

Alice Barlow; or, Principle is Everything: A Country Village History. (S. S. Lib.)

Alice Barlow was the child of irreligious parents, who received into her mind the seeds of Christian principle in a Sabbath-school, and, amid the many trials and temptations incident to a life of poverty and labor, continued steadfast in her principles and in a remarkable degree unswayed by selfish considerations.

Bessie Grey.

No. 672.

Bessie Grey; or, The Value of Little Labors. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

A story for young girls, especially intended to show that it is not necessary to do some great thing in order to be really useful.

Rebella.

No. 673.

Rebella; or, The Shining Way. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Whispers from Dreamland," etc. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

This is an allegory in which, in a clear and pleasing manner, is depicted the return of a young girl, named Rebella, from sin and wretchedness to God and heaven. The allegorical dress is very well sustained, and the book is adapted to make deep and permanent impressions of saving truth.

Try.

No. 674.

Try: Better Do it than Wish it Done. BY MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Annandale," "Clouds and Sunshine," etc., etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a school girl who was not naturally quick at learning, and who was easily discouraged, but was induced to "try," adopting as a maxim, "Better do it than wish it done." It is full of sound gospel teaching.

No. 675.

Lessons in Flying for our Home Birds. By the Rev. WILLIAM P. BREED, D. D., author of "The Book of Books." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An attempt to illustrate the Christian life in its details by the flight of birds, adopting as the motto, "They shall mount up with wings as eagles." Faith and repentance are represented as the wings with which, under Christ, we fly from earth to heaven.

The Wonderful Stone.

No. 676.

The Wonderful Stone; or, The Curse Turned into Blessing. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Incidents in the history of a family of children showing that the true secret of happiness in this world is faith in Jesus Christ, which has a wonderful power of transmuting curses into blessings.

Good for Evil.

No. 677.

Good for Evil, and other Stories. Written for the Board of Publication by NELLIE BROWNING. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

No young reader who takes up this book will wish to lay it aside unfinished. It is well worth a place in every Sabbath-school library.

Mattie's Story.

No. 678.

Mattie's Story; or, The Blessing of the Pure in Heart. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is the real life of a young disciple. Its aim is to depict her religious experience, tracing her first approach to the Saviour and her growth in grace and usefulness until transferred to glory.

The Three Homes.

No. 679.

The Three Homes; or, Three Ways of Spending the Sabbath. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Diamonds Reset," etc., etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful story well adapted to impress upon youthful minds the importance of a proper observance of God's holy Sabbath, and to show that he will bless those who honor him by honoring his day.

The Old Parsonage.

No. 680.

The Old Parsonage; or, Recollections of a Minister's Daughter. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-written and interesting volume. The "minister's daughter" has given scenes from real life, the occurrences narrated having all taken place in the experience of her father and his family, and the most of them under her own eye.

Walter and Alice.

No. 681.

Walter and Alice; or, The Mother's Prayer Answered. By ABBY ELDREDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume illustrates the power of prayer. The prayer of a mother, who died in his childhood, is blest to the conversion of her son after he has run a long course of willfulness and sin, and he is brought by the grace of God back to Christ and duty.

The Pastor's Bible Class.

No. 682.

The Pastor's Bible Class; or, Familiar Conversations Concerning the Sacred Mountains. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Grace Culture.

No. 695.

Grace Culture; or, Thoughts on Grace, Growth and Glory. By EZRA M. HUNT, M. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent and timely treatise on practical religion from the pen of a practicing physician. The author's object is to stir up the minds of Christians to greater zeal in cultivating heart-religion. He writes in a subdued, quiet style suited to his subject, and draws the reader along with a sweet persuasiveness more effective than noisy declamation.

The Influence of the Bible.

No. 696.

The Influence of the Bible in Improving the Understanding and Moral Character. By the Rev. JOHN MATTHEWS, D. D. With a Memoir of the author by the Rev. JAMES WOOD, D. D. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

The object of this book is to show that the religion of the Bible, when sincerely embraced, makes men wiser, better and happier than others are or can be in similar circumstances without piety. This it does by improving the understanding, increasing the intellectual strength and vigor, refining the heart, controlling the temper and regulating the conduct.

Leighton on Peter.

No. 697.

A Practical Commentary upon the First Epistle General of Peter. By the Rev. ROBERT LEIGHTON, D. D., Archbishop of Glasgow. With a brief Memoir of the author. In two volumes. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

Archbishop Leighton's Commentary on First Peter presents a feast of precious and delightful truth to its readers. Every page is full of the flavor and perfume of deep and genuine piety, and full also of sound and judicious instruction. No library, especially no minister's library, should be without a copy.

This edition is printed upon fine paper, and in a large, clear and delightfully legible type. The two volumes are among the handsomest books ever issued by the Board.

The Golden Censer.

No. 698.

The Golden Censer: Thoughts on the Lord's Prayer. By JOHN S. HART, LL.D. Small 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Emma Herbert.

No. 699.

Emma Herbert; or, Be ye Perfect. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The history of a little girl who was deprived of her mother at an early age. She soon manifested a willful and wayward disposition, but under the good counsels of a pious aunt, and the blessing of God upon them and other means, she experienced a change of heart. From that time she became a lovely girl, and adorned the Christian life by doing good.

Jennie Graham.

No. 700.

The Sunday-school Days of Jennie Graham. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

A most impressive exhibition of consistent early piety and its legitimate influence on those around its possessor.

Irish Stories.

No. 701.

Irish Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Touching and instructive portraiture of Irish life, at the same time showing the power of divine truth to elevate the most abject and ignorant.

Aunt Harriet's Tales.

No. 702.

Aunt Harriet's Tales about Little Words. By H. B. MCKEEVER, author of "Jessie Morrison." 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

A delightful series of tales illustrative of the far-reaching influence of a single word or phrase, such as "Only a pauper," "Hump-back," "They say," "God bless you," etc.

Early Dawn.

No. 703.

Early Dawn ; or, The Conversion of Annie Herbert. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting story of the conversion of a little girl. The way of salvation is stated in a very simple manner, easily understood by the young, especially by those who are seeking an interest in Jesus as their Saviour.

Biddy Malone.

No. 704.

Biddy Malone ; or, The Bundle of Silk. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A dishonest young servant-girl after committing a series of petty pilferings is detected and instructed by her mistress in regard to the requirements of God's law, and finally becomes a true penitent. An excellent book for all young people, but especially so for domestics.

Grapes from the Great Vine.

No. 705.

Grapes from the Great Vine for Young Fruit-Gatherers. By the Rev. W. P. BREED, D. D., author of "Lessons in Flying," "The Book of Books," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very pleasant book for young readers. It contains nine chapters: "A Little Maid," "The Hard Heart," "The Five Wonders," "The Holy Sabbath," "Honor to Parents," "Bad Company," etc. The statements are plain and easy of comprehension, the illustrations and anecdotes attractive and the doctrines evangelical and important.

Homes of the West.

No. 707.

Homes of the West, and how they were made Happy. By the author of "Johnny Wright." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-written narrative of the varied experiences of a family of Western emigrants, their trials, their destitution of the means of grace, their efforts to do good, their Sabbath-school, their visits to the Indians, etc. By their consistent Christian life their own home was made happy, and they exerted a benign influence upon those around them.

Harry Edwards.

No. 708.

Harry Edwards; or, The Boy who told Lies. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

No. 710.

Jack Myers; or, The Boy who Stole a Penny. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

These three books are designed for the younger classes of scholars in our Sabbath-schools. Their titles sufficiently indicate the nature of their contents.

Thoughts on Sabbath-Schools. No. 711.

Thoughts on Sabbath-Schools. By JOHN S. HART,
LL.D. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This work will possess a deep interest for all who are engaged in the religious training of children and youth, whether as parents, pastors or superintendents and teachers of Sabbath-schools. It is the production of a close observer and a careful and clear thinker, who has himself been actively enlisted for many years in the work whereof he writes, and whose suggestions are drawn from long experience.

Letters to a Young Convert. No. 712.

Familiar Letters to You, a Young Convert, from your Pastor. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A series of "Familiar Letters," addressed in a most affectionate spirit to a young convert needing guidance in the new ways of a Christian life. Its pages are full of most important practical suggestions for growth in grace and usefulness. Every pastor would find it well to have a copy by him to put into the hands of young converts.

The Five Gifts.

No. 716.

The Five Gifts and Harry's Honest Pennies. By the author of "Johnny Wright." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The five gifts are in the possession of almost every boy and girl. A learned author calls them "the five gateways of knowledge." These gifts are the five senses—seeing, hearing, tasting, smelling and feeling. This book consists of several conversations between a father and his daughter, showing the goodness of God in these gifts.

The Marriage Gift.

No. 717.

The Marriage Gift. By the Rev. JAMES PETRIE. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Its frontispiece is a neat blank certificate of marriage, while its successive chapters contain wise and appropriate counsels upon important topics. It is admirably suited for a "Marriage Gift" from a pastor, a parent or a friend to a newly-married couple.

Cherry-Bounce.

No. 718.

Cherry-Bounce; or, Wise Management of Human Nature. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A good man, an elder in the Church, lost his election to the Legislature through a false report that, notwithstanding his temperate professions, he was in the habit of indulging secretly in cherry-bounce. Hence the title of the book, which shows how he overcame evil with good, and put down the false report which had been circulated to his injury.

My Dog Rover.

No. 719.

My Dog Rover, and some Good that he Did in the World. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It is surprising how much good even a faithful dog can do. Rover sets an example which it would be well if all little boys and girls would imitate. "My dog Rover" did not live in vain, and he will long show how we can do good.

Uncle Alick's Sabbath-School.

No. 720.

Uncle Alick's Sabbath-School. . By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very interesting story of the establishment of a mission Sabbath-school in a wild district in the West. Like all of the author's stories, it is suggestive of common sense, and shows how this quality may be applied in religious as well as in other matters.

Teddy the Bill-Poster.

No. 721.

Teddy the Bill-Poster, and how he became Uncle Alick's Right-Hand Man. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of every-day life, the scenes being laid chiefly among some low Catholic Irish families, and the object being to show how we may do good to such people in the most effectual way.

Johnny McKay.

No. 722.

Johnny McKay ; or, The Sovereign. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A narrative of the life of a poor Irish boy, exhibiting a beautiful picture of early piety, and especially of inflexible honesty amidst powerful temptations—an honesty which brings its possessor finally to honor and comfort.

The Three School-Mates.

No. 723.

The Valley of Decision ; or, Divine Teachings in a Boarding-school. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A most interesting account of a revival of religion in a girl's boarding-school. Young ladies in course of education should be furnished with a copy of it. It may accomplish much in forming their character for holiness and heaven.

Frank Netherton.

No. 724.

Frank Netherton; or, The Talisman. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Frank's talisman was the Bible, by whose help he was enabled to achieve wonders in striving against sin and doing good to those around him. The aim of the author is to teach children that there are school and home, as well as foreign, missionaries. Frank Netherton was only a little school-boy, yet he did a great deal of good. We may all do something if we try.

Frank Eston.

No. 725.

Frank Eston; or, The Joy of Believing in Jesus. By MRS. CAROLINE L. BLAKE, author of "Alice Rosedale." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Exhibiting in a pleasing manner the providential care kindly exercised on behalf of a son of a pious mother, and his conversion and usefulness as he approached to manhood.

Frederick Gordon.

No. 726.

Frederick Gordon; or, Principle and Interest. By FLEETA. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale for the young conveying many important lessons of truth and duty, especially this one, that it is always in the end one's true interest to adhere to upright principle.

Susie's Mistake.

No. 727.

Susie's Mistake, and other Stories. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication by MARIAN BUTLER. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Willie Maitland.

No. 738.

Willie Maitland; or, The Lord's Prayer Illustrated.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An ingenious and beautiful story, the incidents so contrived as to illustrate successively the several petitions of the Lord's Prayer.

Nannie Barton.

No. 739.

Nannie Barton. By the author of "Blind Annie Lorimer." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting narrative of a young girl who gave up inviting prospects to take care of her widowed father and his motherless children, showing also how richly God rewarded her. The book presents an admirable example of Christian fortitude and heroism in humble life.

The Cap-Makers. ~

No. 740.

The Cap-Makers. By the author of "Blind Annie Lorimer." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A touching narrative of two sisters and a brother who were left orphans, but, having the love and fear of God in their hearts, by the exercise of patient industry and perseverance were enabled to attain comfort and prosperity after a long and severe struggle.

Norah Neill.

No. 741.

Norah Neill; or, The Way by which he Led thee.
By FLEETA, author of "Frederic Gordon." 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

Norah was a poor Irish Catholic who emigrated to this country, and under the guidance of Providence was taken into a pious family, where she learned the saving truths of the gospel and became a Christian.

The Little Sea-Bird.

No. 742.

The Little Sea-Bird. By the author of "Mackerel Will." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of a little girl who was picked up from the wreck of a vessel, and for years thrown among strangers. It shows the providential care of God for his people and for their children after them.

The Coins of the Bible.

No. 743.

The Coins of the Bible and its Money Terms. By JAMES ROSS SNOWDEN, A.M. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

There is much in brief space in this volume which is well worthy of being known, and which could not be more correctly taught than by the author, who was for many years Director of the United States Mint.

Anna Cradock.

No. 744.

Anna Cradock, and Little Samuel. By the Rev. JOSEPH H. JONES, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

"Anna Cradock" is an authentic narrative, a striking illustration of the manner in which God ordains strength out of the mouths of babes and sucklings. "Little Samuel" is the Scripture story of the Judge of Israel. The book is of the right stamp for children.

The Sheet Anchor.

No. 745.

The Sheet Anchor. By the Rev. J. E. ROCKWELL, D. D. 32mo.

A little book prepared expressly for sailors and admirably adapted to do them good. We trust that many thousands of copies may be distributed among them that go down to the sea in ships.

Davies' Sermons.

No. 746.

Sermons of the Rev. SAMUEL DAVIES, A.M., President of the College of New Jersey. With a Funeral Sermon by the Rev. SAMUEL FINLEY, D. D., his successor in that office, and some account of President Davies by the Rev. THOMAS GIBBONS, D. D., of London, and the Rev.

THOMAS BOSTWICK, M.A., of New York. Containing also an Introductory Memoir of President Davies by the Rev. WM. B. SPRAGUE, D. D. In three volumes. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

President Davies was the most eloquent American preacher of the last century, and his sermons—so full of the evidences of the author's profound scholarship, genuine piety and fervid eloquence—will always be regarded as a choice treasure by the Church of God.

This edition is beyond comparison the most complete and beautiful we have ever seen. The paper is fine and the type large and clear. Great care has been taken in the revision. Every Scripture text and other quotation has been compared with the source from which it was drawn, and numberless mistakes of former editions corrected.

The Stepmother's Recompense. No. 747.

The Stepmother's Recompense; or, Mrs. Ellerton's Trials and Rewards. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Diamonds Reset," etc. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The trials and rewards of an accomplished Christian lady who nobly and successfully discharged her whole duty in one of the most delicate and difficult relations of life are here portrayed most beautifully and graphically.

The Law of God. No. 748.

The Law of God, as Contained in the Ten Commandments, Explained and Enforced. By the Rev. WILLIAM S. PLUMER, D. D., LL. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Truth in Love. No. 749.

Truth in Love. Sermons by the late Rev. JOSIAH D. SMITH, D. D., Pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church at Columbus, Ohio. With a biographical preface by the Rev. JAMES M. PLATT, and an introduction by the Rev. M. W. JACOBUS, D. D. With a fine portrait of Dr. Smith. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

These sermons are the fruits of clear and vigorous thought, which is expressed with power and elegance. They abound with original and impressive views of gospel truth, as well as with pungent and earnest appeals to the conscience and the heart.

Lathrop on Ephesians.

No. 750.

An Exposition of the Epistle to the Ephesians in a Series of Discourses. With a Preliminary Sermon on the Evidences of the Gospel, especially those derived from the conversion, ministry and writings of the Apostle Paul. By the Rev. JOSEPH LATHROP, D. D., formerly pastor of the church in West Springfield, Mass. To which is prefixed a Memoir of the author by the Rev. WILLIAM B. SPRAGUE, D. D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

Eminently worthy of a place in the library of every minister and of every layman too. It is replete with able, judicious, convincing and impressive views of divine truth. It is at the same time so lucid and so practical that the most unlearned as well as the most learned may derive great advantage from its study.

Ellen and her Cousins.

No. 751.

Ellen and her Cousins. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Ten chapters in the life of Ellen Mercer, beginning with her public profession of her faith in Christ a few weeks before her father's death, and recounting some of her experiences after that sad affliction while residing with a beloved uncle and attending school with her cousins. The book contains much instruction in a very attractive form.

Ruth Cummings.

No. 752.

Ruth Cummings; or, The Girl who could not Deny Herself. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It exhibits the folly and evil of self-indulgence, and the beauty and excellence of self-denial when cultivated from right motives. The fault of Ruth Cummings is by no means an uncommon one. If any of our young friends have it, this is the very book to teach them a useful lesson.

Mysie's Work.

No. 753.

Mysie's Work and How she Did It. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Try," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting and instructive record of patient and self-denying perseverance in duty. Mysie's work, though trying, was well and cheerfully done, and her example is worthy of imitation.

Take Care of the Boys.

No. 765.

Social Influence; or, Take Care of the Boys. By ZELL.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An ingenious and skillful story, showing how social influences, particularly the influence of educated and attractive young women, may be used in preventing boys from being led astray by evil companions.

Bob Walker.

No. 766.

Bob Walker; or, The Boy who Couldn't get Up in the Morning. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Bob Walker's bad habit led him into many difficulties and caused him much trouble and mortification, as it will every boy that indulges it. He finally overcame it, and his experience will doubtless be of use to those who desire a similar victory, while it gives a timely warning to those who waste their morning hours in slothfulness.

The Evil Tongue.

No. 767.

The Evil Tongue. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

This book has for its motto, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." The tongue is a little member, but it wields an immense power either for good or for evil. The history of Gertrude Davenport in this volume will be a warning to all readers to "take heed that they sin not with their tongue."

The Sunny Mount.

No. 768.

The Sunny Mount and its Peaks. By the Rev. WM. P. BREED, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

No. 787.

Children in Heaven; or, The Infant Dead Redeemed by the Blood of Jesus. With Words of Consolation to Bereaved Parents. By the Rev. W. E. SCHENCK, D. D. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

Under this beautiful and suggestive title we have here a volume that will carry comfort to many a stricken heart. The doctrine that the infant dead are redeemed by the blood of Jesus is stated and enforced with a great variety of argument and illustration, drawn from the writings of eminent Protestant divines. These doctrinal and consolatory extracts are interspersed with beautiful pieces of poetry. Our literature is particularly rich on this subject, and exquisite taste and judgment have been shown in the selection and arrangement of these poetical gems.—S. S. Times.

Young on Ecclesiastes.

No. 788.

A Commentary on the Book of Ecclesiastes. By the Rev. LOYAL YOUNG, D. D., Pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Butler, Pa. With Introductory Notices by the Rev. A. T. MCGILL, D. D., Professor in Princeton Theological Seminary, and the Rev. M. W. JACOBUS,

D. D., Professor in the Western Theological Seminary,
Pa. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

Eminently judicious; enlivened with originality of thought, vivacity of expression and practical pungency, which must make it popular and useful, while it will be acknowledged as able and solid—a valuable contribution to sacred criticism.—Rev. A. T. McGill, D. D.

No. 791.

The Path and the Lamp. By the author of "Blind
Annie Lorimer," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume relates the varied experiences and wanderings of a little orphan girl, who through suffering and sorrow is at last brought to the enjoyment of home and abundance, and above all to the possession of those joys and hopes which are only to be found in Christ.

Lucy Clifton.

No. 792.

Lucy Clifton. By ABBY ELDREDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A deeply interesting story, especially suited to the older classes of girls. It is occupied in great measure with school-life, showing the trials that girls experience at school both from their companions and their teachers, and suggesting how these trials are to be met.

Alice and her Pupil.

No. 793.

Alice and her Pupil, and other Tales. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of brief stories for children. "The Children's Fortress," "Susie's Ghost" and "Hetty Marvin" will be read with peculiar interest.

The Hebrew Lawgiver.

No. 794.

The Hebrew Lawgiver. By the Rev. JOHN M. LOW-
RIE, D. D., author of "Esther and her Times" and
"Adam and his Times." In two volumes. Small 12mo.
(Cong. Lib.)

This work is not designed as an exposition of the Mosaic institutions, nor as a vindication of the authenticity and inspiration of the Pentateuch, although these important topics are not overlooked. It relates to the personal history of Moses, and consists of a series of chapters on the great events of his life. It is written in a clear and familiar style, and not only tends to elucidate a most important period of the history of the Church, but also to bring out the great lessons taught by the events of which it treats. It is a valuable contribution to the literature of our Church.

The Resurrection of Christ.

No. 795.

The Resurrection of Jesus Christ Historically and Logically Viewed. By the Rev. RICHARD W. DICKINSON,
D. D. Small 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The design of this work is to embody the facts and testimony in relation to the resurrection of our Lord; vindicate the credibility of the witnesses; rebut the position and expose the sophistries of infidelity.

Mary Raymond.

No. 806.

Mary Raymond. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Diamonds Reset," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A valuable little volume, fitted to be peculiarly useful in leading awakened and inquiring souls to Christ. It presents the case of a little girl whose mind the Holy Spirit has aroused to a conviction of sin, and who, through darkness and doubt, is finally brought to believe and rejoice in the Saviour and begin a new life of earnest labor for him.

Weeds and Seeds.

No. 807.

Weeds and Seeds, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A compilation from the current religious literature of the day, evincing great skill and excellent taste in the selection.

A Week in Lilly's Life.

No. 808.

A Week in Lilly's Life. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Try," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Lilly loved the dear Saviour and wanted to be like him. She began the week of which this book is the record with the desire to please her Saviour in all she did, and he was with her and helped her in the effort. Our little readers will find her example a very instructive one.

Emily Sherwood.

No. 809.

Emily Sherwood; or, The Girl who had a Disagreeable Temper. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

There are many Emily Sherwoods who are poisoning life for themselves and all who love them by a disagreeable temper. To all such we would say, Try her plan to overcome it in real earnest, and, like her, you will find rest and peace. Illustrated with two engravings.

The One Talent.

No. 810.

The One Talent, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Eleven interesting stories which cannot fail to benefit those for whose instruction they are here collected. The engravings are excellent.

The Curious Chapter.

No. 811.

The Curious Chapter, and How its Prophecies were Fulfilled by the young King Josiah. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume is a careful and pleasing examination of a chapter of Bible history and prophecy. It is adapted to interest and instruct any thoughtful child, and at the same time to foster and direct a taste for the more accurate and extended study of the Holy Scriptures among youth.

The First Temptation.

No. 812.

The First Temptation, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Several choice and instructive stories. "The First Temptation," which gives name to the compilation, illustrates the proverbial motto, "Never open the door to a little vice lest a great one should enter too." It is the story of Stuart Middleton, who, by yielding to temptation to go only once to the theatre, was led very far in the downward way of vice and dissipation, from which he was finally rescued by the grace of God in answer to the prayers of a loving, pious sister. The whole collection is excellent.

Our Passover.

No. 813.

Our Passover; or, The Great Things of the Law. By the Rev. WILLIAM J. McCORD, of Wassaic, N. Y. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This book consists of four parts, distinct and yet connected, presenting important truth in a manner that cannot but be profitable. Its weighty instructions may be epitomized as follows: I. Christ our Passover is slain for us. II. The great things of the law are fulfilled in him. III. Through him there is forgiveness with God. IV. Life and death are set before us: "How long halt ye between two opinions?"

College Days of Calvin.

No. 814.

The College Days of Calvin. By the Rev. WILLIAM M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A pleasing presentation of the early student-life of the great Reformer and profound theologian, John Calvin, in the colleges of Paris, Orleans and Bourges, between the years 1519 and 1530, including his conversion and religious experience. It is written in a vivacious, conversational style, and gleans from various sources more interesting matter than can perhaps be found in any other volume of its size.

Young Calvin in Paris.

No. 815.

Young Calvin in Paris, and the Little Flock that he Fed. By the Rev. WILLIAM M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A sequel to "College Days of Calvin," exhibiting the young and growing professor and ripening scholar in the new aspect of the earnest missionary and gospel preacher by his faithful labors fostering and advancing the incipient Reformation.

The Cloud and the Sunbeam.

No. 816.

The Cloud and the Sunbeam. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Diamonds Reset," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little book is designed to show how home mismanagement often perverts a naturally pleasant disposition until it becomes a cloud casting a dark shadow all around; and on the other hand, how a wise, discreet course may make a happy, joyous temper, so that its presence shall be a constant beam of sunshine. We are also shown how grace corrects and changes the disposition, so that it becomes pleasant in the sight of God and man.

Two Terms at Olney.

No. 817.

Two Terms at Olney. By MARION HOWARD, author of "Emma Herbert." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of school-days. Varied in incident and full of interest, it at times becomes quite absorbing, but is yet always pervaded by the highest Christian sentiment.

No. 818.

The New Boat, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of interesting and instructive narratives.

The Martyr's Daughter.

No. 819.

The Martyr's Daughter, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication by MARIAN BUTLER. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The opening narrative of this little collection, "The Martyr's Daughter," is one of great interest, and in its simple and almost antique style it has a charm and a pathos which are at times deeply moving. "The Lost Child," "Good at a Bargain" and other tales unite to make this volume one of real value and interest. Illustrated.

The Little Norwegian.

No. 820.

The Little Norwegian, and The Young Wood-Cutter.
True stories. By the author of "Annie Lorimer," etc.
18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The first of these stories is an account of Christina Spelter, the daughter of a Norwegian immigrant to one of our Western States, who, following her family to their new home, became to them a messenger of grace and the means of leading them into gospel light and peace.

The second part is the story of Stephen Knowlton, who long resisted the strivings of the Spirit and tried to stifle his convictions by the soul-destroying errors of Universalism, but was finally brought to a saving knowledge of Christ under the sanctified influence of severe personal affliction. Illustrated.

The Little Priest.

No. 821.

The Little Priest. By the Rev. WM. P. BREED, D. D., author of "Lessons in Flying," "Grapes from the Great Vine," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very simple and interesting presentation of an important scriptural doctrine—the priesthood of believers—especially in its practical aspect. Though embodied in the form of a little child's life-story, it is replete with sound instruction, and abounds in valuable suggestions with reference to holy living and devoted working for Christ.

The Convict's Family.

No. 822.

The Convict's Family. By the author of "Annie Lorimer," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting narrative of a family raised from the deepest degradation and poverty by the power of divine grace accompanying the persevering efforts of an elder daughter.

The Old Brown House.

No. 823.

The Old Brown House; or, Mother's Birth-day. By FLEETA, author of "Fred Gordon," "Norah Neil," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A touching story of a loving, widowed mother and her five affectionate children. It inculcates an important lesson which every household should learn, viz.: that there are other gifts than those that can be bought for money; that kindness and sympathy, shown in pleasant smiles, cheerful words and unselfish acts, are the most precious things that can be given. Illustrated.

Clouds after Rain.

No. 824.

Clouds after Rain; or, The Afflictions of Bertha Melville. By the author of "Early Dawn." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The life here sketched was one of unusual suffering, yet there was much of comfort and hope in it all. Bertha's every sorrow proved a blessing, and her every bereavement was followed by a manifest unfolding of the divine life within and increased meetness for the life above. May the narrative be blessed to all afflicted ones who shall read it!

The True Sister.

No. 825.

The True Sister, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of tales full of interest and instruction.

Hadassah.

No. 826.

Hadassah and the Court of King Ahasuerus. By theRev. JOSEPH H. JONES, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The history of Queen Esther and her contemporaries is written in a clear and attractive style, and the important lessons of instruction inculcated by it are presented in a forcible manner. The volume also contains "Obadiah; or, Four Advantages of Early Piety," by the same author.

William Farel.

No. 827.

William Farel, and the Story of the Swiss Reform.

By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D., author of

"The Rebel Prince," etc. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

In this volume we have a narrative of the life and times of William Farel, the forerunner of Calvin. The great Genevan Reformer owed much to this learned, earnest and holy minister of Christ, and repaid the debt by a lifelong friendship. This is a valuable contribution to our historical literature, and is well adapted to interest the young.

Anthropos.

No. 828.

Anthropos. By the Rev. WM. P. BREED, D. D. 12mo.(Cong. Lib.)

A valuable little work, exhibiting, in an attractive and instructive form, the varied relations sustained by man to the material and immaterial worlds around him, and deducing therefrom practical conclusions of great importance and impressiveness. A good book for a quiet hour.

Eva Merton.

No. 829.

Eva Merton; or, The Blue Morocco Shoes. By MAR-THA FARQUHARSON. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-written and very interesting narrative teaching the folly of listening to a flattering tongue, the sin and danger of putting off repentance and the importance of coming at once to the Saviour.

Terrenia.

No. 830.

Terrenia. By EDITH GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful and graceful allegory, in which human life, in its relation to earth around and eternity beyond, is exhibited under the aspect in which it would appear to an angel visitant. Much important truth is thus placed in a new and striking light.

Three Boys.

No. 831.

Three Boys and their Stories. A Tale for Youth. By

MARGARET E. WILMER. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In this little book three boys, in their several paths of idleness, vice and virtue, are followed as they pursue their course, and the results are vividly pictured.

The Shadow of the Rock.

No. 832.

The Shadow of the Rock. By FLEETA, author of "Norah Neil," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An entertaining book relating the story of four children who were drifted upon a little island on which there was a projecting rock, which gave them shelter during the three weary days and nights they remained there, and illustrating the scriptural phrase, "the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." Illustrated.

The Two Wallets.

No. 833.

The Two Wallets. By the author of "Aunt Betsy's Rule." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

"It was a saying of Thales the Milesian that every man carries two wallets, one hanging before and one hanging behind. In the wallet before he puts his neighbor's faults; in the wallet behind he puts his own faults." The old philosopher gives us a very valuable hint in these few quaint words, which it is the object of this book to illustrate. The author has succeeded well in the attempt.

The Prize Bible.

No. 834.

The Prize Bible, and other Tales. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting miscellany that cannot fail to instruct.

Grace and Clara.

No. 835.

Grace and Clara, and other Tales. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

These little narratives, collected by a careful hand, will be very interesting to our youthful readers.

A Week with Jesus.

No. 836.

A Week with Jesus; or, Lessons Learned in his Company. By the Rev. JOHN M. LOWRIE, D. D., author of "Esther and her Times," "Adam and his Times" and "The Hebrew Lawgiver." 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The week of our Lord's life which forms the subject of this volume begins with the day upon which he heard the tidings of the death of John the Baptist and ends with the scene of the Transfiguration. Not that all the events here recorded belong with chronological accuracy to the consecutive days of a single week, but they are placed very nearly together by the sacred writers, and derive much of their significance and interest from the time of their occurrence, and no violence is done to the narratives by regarding them as occurring during one week in the life of Jesus.

Aonio Paleario.

No. 837.

Aonio Paleario and his Friends. With a Revised Edition of "The Benefit of Christ's Death." By the Rev. WILLIAM M. BLACKBURN, D. D., author of "William Farel," etc. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A reviving of the memory of a learned and holy man, whose beautiful life and martyr death powerfully aided the cause of Christ at the dawn of the Reformation. "The Benefit of Christ's Death," his great work, originally written in Italian, was translated into several languages and read by hundreds of thousands with large spiritual profit. The Inquisition waged a fierce war against it, and it was supposed to be utterly lost. An English translation, made about the year 1573, was found, a few years since, at Cambridge, and the work was thus happily rescued from oblivion. The present edition is a faithful reprint of this translation.

Lilian Gordon.

No. 838.

Lilian Gordon; or, The Little Girl who was not Afraid to Die. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sweet story of a little girl who loved the Saviour and learned from him to look upon death as her friend. If our young friends who read this book will imitate her example and give their hearts to the Saviour, death will become a pleasant thought to them, and, like Lillian Gordon, they will not fear to die.

Baptized Children.

No. 839.

The Relation of Baptized Children to the Church. By the Rev. ROBERT DAVIDSON, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The subject of this little book is an interesting one, and has been much discussed during the last few years. Dr. Davidson treats it ably and judiciously, avoiding extreme views on either side of the question. He urges with earnestness and force a greater care on the part of parents, pastors and teachers in the instruction and training of the young.

Not Exactly So.

No. 840.

Not Exactly So. By ZELL, author of "Aunt Betsy's Rule" and "Social Influence." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The little girl who figures in this story brought many sorrows upon herself and others by a habit of exaggeration, but she was at last led to see its sinfulness, and through divine aid was enabled to overcome it.

Crooked made Straight.

No. 841.

The Crooked made Straight, and other Stories. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of instructive stories exhibiting Scripture truths and promises.

Kindness Wins.

No. 842.

No. 846.

The Broken Window, and other Stories. Compiled for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A volume of interesting tales for the young, each one of which is beautifully illustrated and enforces some Scripture promise or command.

Fern's Hollow.

No. 847.

Fern's Hollow. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The principal character in this book is Stephen Fern, a poor collier boy in Wales, the grandson of a returned convict. By the power of divine grace he was brought to a saving knowledge of the truth, enabled to resist severe temptations and manifest a forgiving spirit under injuries that were peculiarly trying.

A Christmas Story.

No. 848.

A Christmas Story, and other Tales. By ABBY ELDRIDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of interesting narratives, each of which beautifully and practically portrays some Scripture truth.

The Blue Umbrella.

No. 849.

The Blue Umbrella. By FLEETA, author of "Shadow of the Rock," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The umbrella, a shelter from storms and from the scorching rays of the sun, in this deeply-interesting story represents loving sympathy and protection. The young girl who figures in the book longed for such shelter from the world's rude blasts, yet from her associations and position in life she did not find it. At last she fled to Christ as her only covert from the storms of sorrow and affliction that assailed her, and under the shadow of his love, feeling that he would be her sure defence, she found the peace and rest the world could not give.

Persevering Dick.

No. 863.

Only this Once. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of "Sophia Bleeker," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Intended to show the sad consequences which may flow from yielding to the excuse, "Only this Once," when tempted to do wrong.

Harold.

No. 864.

Harold. By the author of "Jennie Graham," etc., etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sweet little volume in which young readers cannot fail to be greatly interested and profited.

Margaret Ashton.

No. 865.

Margaret Ashton; or, Work and Win. By Mrs. SARAH A. MYERS. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The history of a little girl who had a hard struggle to overcome a perverse and willful temper. By the help of God, through the teachings of her Bible and the counsels of an aged and humble friend, she became an excellent and lovely Christian.

The Sabbath.

No. 866.

The Sabbath. By CHARLES ELLIOTT, D. D. Small 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This very compact and able treatise on the Sabbath will be found an efficient ally to the Christian people of this land in the great contest now waging for and against the sanctification of God's holy day. In the very limited compass of about one hundred pages it clearly states and defends all the great principles which underlie that important subject.

Words of Truth and Love.

No. 867.

Words of Truth and Love. By the Rev. W. S. PLUM-
ER, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This little volume abounds with weighty words of tender warning and of invitation to come to Jesus, while it is also interspersed with striking and appropriate anecdotes illustrative of the truths presented.

Gathered Blossoms.

No. 868.

Gathered Blossoms. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume contains several stories, each intended to illustrate some important religious lesson.

Old Vigilance.

No. 869.

Old Vigilance and his Pet. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The scene of the larger portion of the story is in the western part of Texas, and the pictures of wild prairie life in that far-off part of our country are fresh and exhilarating. Old Vigilance was a shepherd's dog of extraordinary sagacity, whose character and doings will greatly interest the children. Little "Dew-Drop" was the pet. She was a little girl who loved Jesus early and led many others to do likewise. The book abounds with religious instruction as well as with entertainment.

Nelly's Neighbor.

No. 870.

Nellie's Neighbor. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Containing several stories, each intended to illustrate some important religious lesson. Pleasant as well as profitable reading.

 importance of training it for happiness and usefulness.

A Little Thing.

No. 882.

A Little Thing. By NELLIE GRAHAME, author of
 "Only a Child," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charming tale for small children, showing how dangerous it is to sin in what seems to be only a little thing, and what great and serious consequences may flow from such an offence against God.

Hodge on the Atonement.

No. 883.

The Atonement. By the Rev. ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER HODGE, D. D., Professor in the Western Theological Seminary at Alleghany, Pa. Large 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

A valuable contribution to American Theology. It discusses, in twenty-one chapters, the Nature of the Atonement, and in the remaining seven chapters the design or intended application of the Atonement. It is written in an earnest spirit, and presents the whole subject in a clear and logical manner. It has had an extended sale, and has been republished in England.

The Book of Remembrance.

No. 884.

The Book of Remembrance. A New Year's Gift. By Professor CHARLES W. SHIELDS, D. D., of Nassau Hall, Princeton, N. J. 18mo. Beveled boards. (Cong. Lib.)

This beautiful allegory cannot fail to make deep and salutary impressions upon every reader, bringing before him, as it does, the rapid flight of time, the fearful retributions of eternity and the need of a Saviour's righteousness.

Nearing Home.

No. 885.

Nearing Home; or, Comforts and Counsels for the Aged. Compiled for the Board of Publication by the Rev. WILLIAM E. SCHENCK, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume is very similar in its arrangement and execution to "Children in Heaven," issued by the Board not long since. "The preparation of it is a beautiful thought. The editor well says in his preface: 'In this day, when so much labor is expended in producing almost innumerable books for the young, there is danger of our neglecting the generation who are about to pass off the stage of life. Yet there is a host of men and women in the decline of life who will be glad to receive a few words of instruction, of sympathy and of kindly cheer.' This design has been faithfully and feelingly carried out in the volume before us. It is a book of selections, containing some of the sweetest hymns in the language, with many from the German. Dr. Archibald Alexander's "Letters to the Aged," so full of ripe Christian counsel, are also freely drawn upon. The type is beautifully large and clear, just suited for the aged; and, indeed, it is altogether a labor of love in behalf of the mothers and fathers in Israel which they must appreciate."—S. S. Times.

Oak-Mot.

No. 886.

Oak-Mot. By the Rev. WILLIAM M. BAKER. Small 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A book for young readers which they will find very attractive. It takes us to the prairies of Texas, and introduces us to a variety of strange scenes and characters drawn from nature and from real occurrences in that State. There is just enough of the romantic to charm the young imagination, while interwoven with the story we see the practical bearings of gospel truth.

Earnest Ministry.

No. 887.

An Earnest Ministry the Want of the Times. By JOHN ANGELL JAMES. With an Introduction by the Rev. JONATHAN B. CONDIT, D. D. Small 12mo. (Min. Lib.)

This valuable book was republished many years ago in New York, but has for a long time been out of print. A generous friend of the Board of Publication recently found an opportunity to purchase the stereotype plates, which he did wholly at his own cost, and presented them to the Board. The book, after having been carefully revised and corrected, is now sent forth upon a new and, we trust, an enlarged mission of usefulness.

Translated Prophet.

No. 888.

The Translated Prophet. By JOHN M. LOWRIE, D. D., author of "The Hebrew Lawgiver," etc. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An account of the life of the prophet Elijah, from the first mention of his name in the Bible until his appearance with Moses at the transfiguration of our Lord in the "Holy Mount." It is full, well told and deeply interesting.

Ulrich Zwingli.

No. 889.

Ulrich Zwingli, the Patriotic Reformer: A History. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the Seminary of the Northwest. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The life of the great Swiss reformer is portrayed in a vivid and characteristic manner. The author has succeeded admirably in his attempt, as announced in the preface, "to set forth the man and his friends as they grew in piety and labored in studying the word of God, teaching and preaching the truth and restoring the Church to the foundation of Christ and his apostles."

Promises of God.

No. 890.

The Promises of God Considered in their Nature, Source, Certainty, Trueness, Preciousness and Sanctifying Power. By E. C. WINES, D. D., author of "Adam and Christ," "A Treatise on Regeneration," etc. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A charming and comforting little book whose name indicates the nature of its contents. It will repay a perusal.

St. Bartholomew's Eve.

No. 891.

Grandma's Story about St. Bartholomew's Eve. By COUSIN GEORGIE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A thrilling sketch of the horrors of an eventful night. It contains much important historical information in a style adapted to youthful readers.

The Children's Church.

No. 892.

The Children's Church. By FAITH LATIMER. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author has gathered up a large number of facts from the Bible and from other sources showing how God cares specially for children, that they have a work to do for Christ and that they belong to him now. We wish our baptized children would read this book.

Sunset.

No. 893.

Sunset; or, The Last Days of William Howard. By the author of "Early Dawn," "Shining Light," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful exhibition of a true Christian experience in the declining and dying days of a pious young man. It is admirably adapted to lead young persons to feel the worth of true religion and to perceive its essential characteristics.

Rosa.

No. 894.

Rosa. Translated from the French of Madame de Pressense. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The narrative of the life of a little French girl who was committed to an aunt in the country, and through a series of happy providences was led to a saving knowledge of Christ. She then in turn became the means of leading her aunt to the feet of the blessed Saviour. Too much cannot be said in praise of the beauty of the translation, which is admirably accomplished.

Annie's Influence.

No. 895.

Annie's Influence; or, She hath Done what She Could. By MARION HOWARD, author of "Emma Herbert," "Two Terms at Olney," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A touching story of a young Christian who, an invalid for life by reason of an injury, exerts an unconscious yet powerful influence on those around her. Annie Rutherford is an illustration of what a power for good may be wielded by even the most helpless child of God.

Irasule.

No. 896.

Irasule, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of short articles judiciously selected and well fitted to leave a good impression on the minds of young readers.

Cousin Amy.

No. 897.

Cousin Amy, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two interesting and valuable little books for little readers. The stories are short, the reading simple and easy and the instruction good.

Footsteps in the Light.

No. 898.

Footsteps in the Light. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sketch of child-life and child-experience very pleasantly presented, and well adapted to draw the thoughts and affections of the young to the Redeemer as the friend of children.

Tell the Truth.

No. 899.

Tell the Truth, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Another instructive compilation.

Edith's Two Account-Books.

No. 900.

Edith's Two Account-Books. By the author of "Annie Lincoln's Lesson." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-told story, inculcating an important lesson—the account we must render to God for all our blessings and all our conduct.

Margaret Lawrence.

No. 901.

Margaret Lawrence, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Eleven chapters, each illustrative of an important lesson, setting forth in an attractive manner a portion of divine truth.

Silversmith of Jerusalem.

No. 902.

The Silversmith of Jerusalem. By the author of "Asa and his Family." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

"The design is to give a general outline of the history of the chosen people from the time of their establishment in the Holy Land, to locate the places where the principal events in their history took place, and to bring into order occurrences and times which, upon a cursory reading, seem confused and obscure." A most instructive as well as interesting volume.

The Bitter Dose.

No. 903.

The Bitter Dose, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A variety of excellent stories, each imparting some useful lesson.

The Prisoners.

No. 904.

The Prisoners. By the Rev. W. P. BREED, author of "Lessons in Flying," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting story of a boy whose father was in prison for crime, and who was left in consequence to earn his living and make his way into the world as best he could. Providence brought him into a Christian household, wherein his temporal and spiritual welfare was properly cared for. At length he became a sincere Christian, and devoted himself to the ministry. Anger, appetite, the tongue, a hard heart, etc., are represented as taking the soul prisoner. Very interesting for young readers.

Little Street-Sweeper.

No. 905.

The Little Street-Sweeper. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charming tale of child-life in one of its phases not seldom seen in our great cities. Interesting to the young and very suggestive to those who would benefit the outcast and degraded.

Mabel Clark.

No. 906.

Mabel Clark; or, Looking unto Jesus. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful portrait of the Christian experience of a young Christian struggling against difficulties, and trying to glorify her Master and do good to the souls of her companions.

Brave Heart.

No. 907.

The Brave Heart. By FLEETA. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A moving picture of endurance and struggle against adversity.

Stories for the Little Ones.

No. 908.

Stories for the Little Ones. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

1. Home Missionary.
2. Contrast.
3. The Lion's Den.
4. The Golden Rule.
5. Stray Lambs.
6. The Watchful Eye.
7. Carrie's Hard Lesson.
8. Alice Townsend's Garden.
9. Shining Light.
10. The Casket of Gems.

Ten small books, charmingly written and very instructive. They are put up in a small box, and are just the thing for young children.

Golden Hills.

No. 909.

Golden Hills: A Tale of the Irish Famine. 16mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

This tale admirably depicts one of the sharp trials through which unhappy Ireland has passed, and holds out in bold and clear relief the depressing and destructive influence of popery upon its population. It also shows that, difficult and discouraging as some labors may appear, it is not in vain that God's children labor to let in the light of divine truth upon those whose minds are darkened by superstition. The volume is full of life and interest.

Laws of the Ancient Hebrews.

No. 910.

Commentaries on the Laws of the Ancient Hebrews.
With an Introductory Essay on Civil Society and Government. By E. C. WINES, D. D., LL.D. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

This is a new issue of a work which was received with great favor some years ago on its first appearance, and elicited warm commendations from many eminent men. The work is one which ought to have a place in the library of at least every lawyer and every clergyman. It is replete with information most valuable for all in those professions.

Life of St. Patrick.

No. 911.

Saint Patrick and the Early Church of Ireland. By the Rev. WILLIAM M. BLACKBURN, D.D., Professor in the Theological Seminary of the North-west at Chicago, and author of "William Farel." 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A handsome volume, in which Prof. Blackburn thoroughly discusses the character and history of St. Patrick, and endeavors to separate the facts and probabilities of his life and labors from the mass of legends which has accumulated around his name. The work extends over a portion of Church history with which few readers are familiar, and which is yet extremely interesting. None can read it without profit, or without arriving at a conviction that St. Patrick was no papist, but a faithful and pious missionary of the Cross of Christ.

From Dawn to Dark in Italy.

No. 912.

From Dawn to Dark in Italy: A Tale of the Reformation in the Sixteenth Century. 16mo.

It is a "historical tale of the Reformation, prepared with great care from the best authorities on the subject. It presents a faithful picture of a period—the most eventful in the religious history of Italy—when the light that had always lingered among the Vaudois in the recesses of the Alps seemed rising and spreading on the horizon." But this rising light after a brief interval, amid blood and fire, gave place to a deep darkness which has continued to our own day. Until lately we have known little about the Italian Reformers, their labors and their sufferings. This admirable volume will help us to know them and to appreciate them.

The Prophet Elisha.

No. 913.

The Prophet Elisha. By the Rev. JOHN M. LOWRIE, D. D., author of "Esther and her Times," etc. To which is prefixed "A Memoir of the Author," by the Rev. WILLIAM D. HOWARD, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The life of Elisha and the deeply interesting times in which he lived are set before us in a most lively and impressive manner. The Holy Scriptures are elucidated and expounded in fact, though not in form. Much value is added to the volume by Dr. Howard's prefixed Memoir, in which the life, labors and character of Dr. Lowrie are judiciously and touchingly depicted. The book also has an admirable portrait of the author for its frontispiece.

Jenny Geddes.

No. 914.

Jenny Geddes; or, Presbyterianism and its Great Conflict with Despotism. By the Rev. W. P. BREED, D. D.
16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author takes the well-known incident of Jenny Geddes hurling her stool at the prelate in the High Church at Edinburgh to go into a historical discussion of the vital principles of Presbyterianism. The book, though popular in its cast, shows much reading and reflection, and is a valuable addition to our denominational literature.

Admiral Coligny and the Huguenots. No. 915.

Admiral Coligny and the Rise of the Huguenots. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D., Professor of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History in the Theological Seminary of the North-west, and author of "William Farel," "Ulrich Zwingli," etc. 2 vols. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A very full and perspicuous account of the rise of the Huguenots and of their history until after the horrible massacre of St. Bartholomew. The author has made use of a large number of works, many of them exceedingly rare. The work has all the distinctness and vivacity of a dramatic picture. The noble and pious Admiral Coligny occupies the central position as a sort of personification of Huguenotism, the chief historical character of that age in France. All who read it will regard it as a most thrilling and instructive picture of the times of the Reformation.

Commentary on Conf. of Faith.

No. 916.

A Commentary on the Confession of Faith. With questions for theological students and Bible classes. By the Rev. ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER HODGE, D. D., author of "The Atonement," and Professor of Didactic and

Polemical Theology in the Western Theological Seminary at Allegheny, Pa. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An analysis of the Confession of Faith, with proofs and illustrations of its teachings. It aims to bring out into full relief the natural, obvious and generally-admitted sense of the text. Its design is simply to stimulate and facilitate the study of this eminent embodiment of Christian truth among Bible-class scholars, theological students, ruling elders and ministers. The first chapter contains a short history of creeds and confessions; the second, some account of the origin of the Westminster Confession and Catechisms; the remainder is what the title imports—a commentary on the successive chapters and sections of the Confession.

Pomponia.

No. 917.

Pomponia; or, The Gospel in Cæsar's Household. By Mrs. WEBB, author of "Alypius of Tagaste." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This exceedingly interesting narrative describes the way in which the leaven of Christianity worked and spread among the people in the days of its early purity and power. The scene is laid partly in Britain and partly in the city of Rome while the Apostle Paul was still living. Many of the personages mentioned are historical; some of them are mentioned in Scripture. The author depicts in vivid colors the difficulties and the triumphs of early Christianity in the courts of Tiberius Cæsar and of Nero. The volume will be found both delightful and instructive to all its readers, young and old.

Alypius of Tagaste.

No. 918.

Alypius of Tagaste. By Mrs. WEBB, author of "Pomponia." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume opens at Alexandria in Egypt, and gives a vivid picture of a terrible scene in the amphitheatre, where several Christians were devoured by wild beasts because of their Christian faith. It presents to the reader, in a well-connected and most attractive narrative, views of the persecutions and struggles of the Christians in an early age of the Church, and exhibits the power of Christian faith to triumph over all opposition.

Setma.

No. 919.

Setma the Turkish Girl. Translated from the German of Dr. BARTH. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of the daughter of a Turkish merchant who, by a series of remarkable providences, was brought to the knowledge of the true religion and to faith in the Saviour. It is full of interest, written in an attractive style, and is a narrative of real life.

Child of the Rock.

No. 920.

The Child of the Rock: A Tale for Youth. Translated from the German of Dr. BARTH. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An exciting tale of adventure, conveying much important instruction.

Mrs. Latimer's Meetings.

No. 921.

Mrs. Latimer's Meetings. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Pleasant and instructive Bible lessons given on successive Sabbath evenings by a mother to her children.

Willow Basket.

No. 922.

The Willow Basket. By Mrs. E. J. WYLIE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Mrs. Taylor gives her children a pleasant account of her early life and of the several members of her Sabbath-school class. A good work for young children.

Rivers of Water.

No. 923.

Rivers of Water in a Dry Place. An account of the introduction of Christianity into South Africa and of Mr. Moffat's missionary labors. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A delightful account of the missionary labors of Mr. Moffat and other Christian pioneers in Southern Africa, containing so many incidents of a highly instructive and sometimes amusing character, with many hairbreadth escapes from wild beasts and wilder men, presented in a most sprightly style, as to make it as fascinating as any book of adventures a child could desire.

Two Little Cousins.

No. 924.

The Two Little Cousins. By ZELL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Teaching by the contrasted example of two little girls the duty of obedience to parents and the folly and sin of disobedience.

Tim the Collier Boy.

No. 925.

Tim the Collier Boy. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A touching little story for the little ones of the Sabbath-school.

Lucy at Home.

No. 926.

Lucy at Home. By ZELL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Setting forth the careful training of a Christian mother, especially in the matter of her child's companions and associations.

A Little More.

No. 927.

A Little More, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Twelve short stories forming a pleasant volume.

Love's Labor.

No. 928.

Love's Labor; or, The Seed and its Blossoms. By ABBY ELDREDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Intended especially to illustrate the importance of Sabbath-schools and their influence in destitute neighborhoods.

Grace Harland.

No. 929.

Grace Harland; or, Christ's Path to Happiness. By the author of the "Little Watchman." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a young girl, a member of the church and a truly converted person, but one who had still many infirmities of temper and much work to do in the cultivation of her heart and the regulation of her conduct. Full of sound scriptural instruction.

Manuscript Man.

No. 931.

The Manuscript Man. By the author of "Golden Hills." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A picture of life in the western part of Ireland. A few rays of gospel light are introduced, by the agency of two or three pious persons, into the midst of a community plunged into papal darkness, superstition and bigotry. Of course, according to our Lord's prediction, the entrance of the truth produced variance in households and bitter opposition from the powers of error. Yet the truth gradually worked its way, and triumphed in many hearts and homes. It is an excellent book to circulate among Romanists, but will be found attractive to people of all sorts.

Margaret Gordon.

No. 932.

Margaret Gordon; or, Can I Forgive? By Mrs. S. A. MYERS, author of "Poor Nicholas," "Gulf Stream," "Railroad Boy," etc., etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A narrative of the early life, the pleasures and trials, and especially the spiritual struggles and triumphs, of Margaret Gordon. The book is founded upon facts drawn carefully from personal experience, and is full of important suggestions in regard to the Christian life.

I Have, and oh Had I.

No. 933.

I Have, and oh Had I; or, Lessons in Contentment. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A pleasant volume inculcating an important lesson.

Cornelia's Visit to Roseville.

No. 934.

Cornelia's Visit to Roseville. By the author of "Kitty Dennison." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It brings out the opposite traits in children who have been well or ill brought up.

Talks with Little Emily.

No. 935.

Talks with Little Emily. By ZELL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A little book, but full of wisdom in the matter and manner of its teachings. The sin of disobedience to parents is very judiciously and tenderly rebuked.

Straw-Bonnet Maker.

No. 936.

The Straw-Bonnet Maker; or, Ways of Usefulness.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of quiet usefulness in humble life.

True Riches.

No. 937.

True Riches, and other Stories. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Showing that a man's life consists not in the abundance of his possessions.

Martyrs and Sufferers.

No. 938.

Martyrs and Sufferers for the Truth. By the Rev. WM.

S. PLUMER, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent epitome of the whole general subject of persecution and martyrdom in the Church, peculiarly fitted for the information of young people on this sadly interesting part of the Church's history. It gives in an appendix a list of sixteen suitable books on the subject, all published by the Board, which may be read with profit.

Little Girls' Habits.

No. 939.

Little Girls' Habits. By ZELL. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Excellent in style, spirit and teaching.

Seed Thoughts.

No. 940.

Seed Thoughts; or, Selections from Carryl's Exposition of Job. With an introduction by the Rev. J. E. ROCKWELL, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The work of Carryl, from which these "Seed Thoughts" are selected, is not very widely known at the present day, but it is as rich in gems of thought as any California mine is in veins of gold. Dr. Rockwell has made his selections with care and good judgment. It is a pleasant and profitable book to have near one, and to pick up now and then for a few minutes of disconnected reading.

Inspiration of the Scriptures.

No. 941.

The Inspiration of the Scriptures. By the Rev. FRANCIS L. PATTON. 16mo. (Min. Lib.)

A lucid and most able argument for the plenary inspiration of the Scriptures. Its language is clear and precise, its chain of reasoning logical and cogent, and its grand conclusion on behalf of the word of God is irresistible to any unprejudiced mind.

Life of David.

No. 942.

The Life of David. By JOHN M. LOWRIE, D. D., author of "The Translated Prophet," etc., etc. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume, which is similar to its predecessors from the same honored and lamented author, was left by him in a state needing revision, which has been tenderly and well performed by his son, the Rev. M. B. Lowrie. The many important lessons deducible from the eventful history of the Psalmist King are ably set forth and urged impressively upon the reader.

Fountain Kloof.

No. 943.

The Fountain Kloof; or, Missionary Life in South Africa. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very interesting account of Southern Africa, with a view of the labors and trials of the Christian laborers in this field. It is a region peculiar in its characteristics, and where missionary life abounds with surprising adventures. The work is written in a sprightly and captivating manner, and the young will find it difficult to procure more interesting reading anywhere than it furnishes.

Greycliff.

No. 944.

Greycliff, and Vashti Lethby's Heritage. By KATE W. HAMILTON. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A delightful volume. The scenes and characters are arranged in an interesting and attractive manner, and it is pervaded in every part by the spirit of the gospel.

The Christ of God.

No. 945.

The Christ of God; or, The Relation of Christ to Christianity. By Rev. ROBERT DAVIDSON, D. D. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

The tenor of this little volume is indicated with sufficient clearness in its title. It is an able and valuable contribution to this branch of our religious literature.

Sunday Evenings at Northcourt.

No. 946.

Sunday Evenings at Northcourt. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very instructive volume, containing a narrative of Sabbath evening conversations on religious experience, many of them illustrated by narratives from real life.

The Faith in Hungary.

No. 947.

The Faith in Hungary. By the author of "From Dawn to Dark in Italy." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a truthful and most interesting narrative of the introduction of Christianity into Hungary, and of its various conflicts with paganism and popery. "Few English Christians," says the author in the preface, "are aware how very nearly a Protestant land Hungary once became. Only three families among all her magnates were Roman Catholics, and the proportion of Reformed among her people was thirty to one when Queen Elizabeth ascended the English throne. But priest and potentate used all the arts of evil to suppress the religion of the Bible, with too much success for a time." The volume ought to be widely read by Americans.

Vivian and his Friends.

No. 948.

Vivian and his Friends; or, Two Hundred Years Ago. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The scene of this story is laid in London and its vicinity over two hundred years ago. It is a vivid picture of the religious condition of England in those days, and will convey to its readers much important information in reference to the state and struggles of true religion in England in that century.

Village Pastor.

No. 949.

The Village Pastor; or, Incidents in Ministerial Life in Great Britain. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume contains experiences of ministerial life not only exceedingly interesting as narratives, but well adapted to throw much light upon the secrets of ministerial success, and the surprising methods by which God leads his servants to make them instruments in accomplishing good for their fellow-men.

Jessica's First Prayer.

No. 950.

Jessica's First Prayer, and Jessica's Mother. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charming narrative relating the history of a poor little outcast girl of London, the child of a drunken beggar-woman, who was reclaimed and converted under kindly Christian influences. It is one of the most pathetic tales we have ever read, and should teach Christian people that none are beyond the power of the gospel to elevate and save.

Honor Bright.

No. 951.

Honor Bright; or, The Faithful Daughter. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a poor girl who by being diligent, true and faithful gained the respect, sympathy and assistance of many good people.

Fred Wilson's Sled.

No. 952.

Fred Wilson's Sled. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a little boy whose sled was taken from him by a rude boy, and what he felt and did on the occasion. It contains good instructions pleasantly conveyed.

God Sovereign and Man Free.

No. 953.

God Sovereign and Man Free. By the Rev. NATHAN L. RICE, D. D., President of Westminster College, Missouri. 16mo. (Min. Lib.)

An able and exhaustive argument upon the great and difficult theme indicated in its title.

Tales of the Family.

No. 954.

Tales of the Family; or, Home-Life. Illustrated.

16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A delightful and instructive volume of tales bearing upon topics connected with home-life, and teaching many lessons that are not heeded as they should be in the nearer social relations.

Tales of the Persecuted.

No. 955.

Tales of the Persecuted. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Glimpses of the sufferings endured by the people of God, at different times and in different countries, for the truth's sake. A volume of thrilling interest, and one which it will do all our young people good to read.

Sweet Herbs.

No. 956.

Sweet Herbs. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Full of solid instruction conveyed in a most pleasing manner.

Aspenridge.

No. 957.

Aspenridge. By JULIA CARRIE THOMPSON. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a family of children left by the death of their father to the care of their mother and their own exertions. All the incidents are skillfully woven together, and the whole volume inculcates the nature and value of youthful piety and consecration to God and his service. A most interesting and instructive book, of superior literary merit.

Old Manor House.

No. 958.

Chronicles of an Old Manor House. By G. E. SARGENT. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The old manor house was an English mansion in the reigns of Henry VIII. and his daughter Mary, and the chronicles relate in a very attractive style incidents connected with the religious history of those times. In its descriptions of the trials of those struggling through the errors of popery to the light of the gospel, and the cruelties inflicted upon them, this book shows the hand of a skillful scribe.

Two Voyages.

No. 959.

The Two Voyages; or, Midnight and Daylight. 16mo.

(S. S. Lib.)

A picturesque exhibition of the degraded and savage condition in which Christian missionaries first found the natives of the Pacific islands, of the patience and perseverance of the missionaries, and of the wonderful success in many cases attending their labors.

Barnes' Apostolic Church.

No. 977.

The Apostolic Church: An Inquiry into its Organization and Government, Particularly with Reference to the Claims of Episcopacy. By ALBERT BARNES. 18mo. (Min. Lib.)

A very convenient manual, both in size and character, for the use of those who would inquire into the organization of the Christian Church. The foundation of the argument was first embodied in two reviews of Bishop Onderdonk's tract entitled "Episcopacy Tested by Scripture." It was afterward rewritten and published in its present form. The characteristic of the volume is that it is an appeal to the Bible as the only authority in the case, and as a sufficient authority to settle the question. The discussion is conducted with a manly and charitable spirit, and the argument is clear and conclusive.

Martyrs of the Mutiny.

No. 978.

Martyrs of the Mutiny; or, Trials and Triumphs of Christians in the Sepoy Rebellion in India. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Evidence is here furnished that Christianity has not lost its power, and that it can make even the timid Hindoo a bold confessor of Christ at the cost of life itself.

Benefit of Christ's Death.

Two English narratives, the one inculcating faith and the other works.

Two Watches. No. 988.

The Two Watches. With the Two Ladders and the Drinking Fountain. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Three narratives illustrating important truths.

Far Away. No. 989.

Far Away; or, Life at Tanna and Samoa. By the author of "Money," "Bessie Lane's Mistake," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A true and instructive picture of life in the South-Sea Islands, for young readers.

Law of Baptism. No. 990.

An Exposition of the Law of Baptism as it Regards the Mode and the Subjects. By EDWIN HALL, D. D., Professor of Theology, Auburn Theological Seminary. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Eminently adapted to meet the difficulties and doubts of inquirers, and to overthrow the prejudices and misconceptions of those in error as to the subjects or mode of Christian baptism.

Heroes for the Truth. No. 991.

Heroes for the Truth. By the late W. K. TWEEDIE, D. D., of Edinburgh. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Brief sketches of Columba of Iona, of John Huss, William Tyndale, Bernard Palissy, Hans Egede, Robert Raikes, Carey, Marshman and Ward, and Claudius Buchanan, which the pen of the compiler, as well as the Christian heroism of the subjects, must commend to the reader.

Martyrs of France.

No. 992.

Martyrs of France; or, The Witness of the Reformed Church of France from the reign of Francis I. to the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes. By the Rev. JOHN W. MEARS, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It is sought, in this volume, to keep alive the memory of the heroic ages of the Church, to awaken admiration and gratitude for the faithfulness under trial of those who suffered for the truth.

Way of Peace.

No. 993.

God's Way of Peace: A Book for the Anxious. By the Rev. HORATIUS BONAR, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

For pointing inquirers to Christ and leading troubled Christians to rest solely, fully, unwaveringly on him, "God's Way of Peace" can be commended in the strongest terms.

This One Thing I Do.

No. 994.

This One Thing I Do. A Call to Christian Earnestness Addressed to New Disciples. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent and edifying little book, well adapted to excite the young Christian to diligence in duty.

Discontented Little Girl.

No. 995.

The Discontented Little Girl. By the author of "Money," "Lessons for Little Ones," "Far Away," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The character of discontent is drawn to the life, and it will, we hope, put discontented ones quite out of conceit of their ugly ways and help to smooth their faces and improve their hearts.

Boyd's Catechism.

No. 996.

The Westminster Shorter Catechism. With Analysis, Scripture Proofs, Explanatory and Practical Inferences and Illustrative Anecdotes. Intended for Bible Class and Family Instruction. By the Rev. JAMES R. BOYD, D.D.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This work has been extensively used and found a valuable aid for teachers in catechetical instruction.

Sunset Thoughts.

No. 997.

Sunset Thoughts; or, Bible Narratives for the Evening of Life. By the author of "New Tracts for Working Homes," etc. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A series of devout and sober meditations, each founded on the career of some eminent Scripture character, as, "Methuselah; or, Length of Days," "David; or, Old and Gray-headed," "Eli; or, Old Age Sorrowing," "Samuel; or, Old Age Honored," etc. The author writes with a chastened and sober earnestness suited to the character of the work she has undertaken, and her "Thoughts" will bring cheer and comfort to many a heart already rich in Christ and in Christian experience.

Strong Tower.

No. 998.

The Strong Tower; or, Strength, Salvation and Joy for the Believer. In three parts. Selected from the works of the Rev. JAMES SMITH, of Cheltenham, England. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Containing "God our Refuge and Strength," "Christ Alone," and the "Great Comforter." Like a golden treasury, this little book is full of precious thoughts for the strength and comfort of the people of God.

Zulu-Land.

No. 999.

Zulu-Land; or, Life among the Zulu Kaffirs of Natal and Zulu-Land, South Africa. By the Rev. LEWIS GROUT. With a map of the country and eleven illustrations, largely from original photographs. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The aim of the book is to condense and combine both valuable facts and pleasing incident—embrace enough of the popular to please the common reader, and enough of the scientific to give the work a place in the library of the scholar.

Manliness.

No. 1000.

Manliness. For Young Men and their Well-Wishers.

By the Rev. B. B. HOTCHKIN. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An excellent little volume designed to counteract false views of what it is to be manly. It ought to be in the hands of every young man in the country.

History of the Presbyterian Church. No. 1001.

History of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. By E. H. GILLETT, author of "Life and Times of John Huss," etc. 2 vols. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Gillett begins with the earliest known dates of Presbyterianism in this country, and with remarkable success follows the Church through nearly two hundred years of steady, onward, widening growth, becoming a great power in the land, founding institutions of learning, schools of theology, preaching the gospel on the frontiers and in waste places, extending itself north and south, and seeking to embrace the whole land in its evangelizing and elevating labors. The names of illustrious men that adorn her annals are followed by graphic biographies; and the author has explored old manuscripts, and brushed away the dust of forgotten records, and rescued from oblivion names, dates and events that deserve to be held in lasting remembrance.

Why Delay?

No. 1002.

Why Delay? By the Rev. JACOB HELFFENSTEIN,

D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An earnest appeal to delaying souls urging an immediate acceptance of the offer of salvation.

Manly Piety.

No. 1003.

Manly Piety in its Spirit. By the Rev. ROBERT PHILIP, of Maberly Chapel. With an Introduction by the Rev. ALBERT BARNES. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

As is said by Mr. Barnes in the "Introduction," the author's "writings are full of strong, original, manly thought. His style is nervous and vigorous. The truths which he presents are devout, and yet free from affectation and cant. His writings are such as I should wish to put into the hands of an open and ingenuous young man, as adapted, I should think, to excite him to thought, to manly views of piety and of the great object of human life."

Dick and his Donkey.

No. 1004.

Dick and his Donkey; or, The Boy who Helped his Mother. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a little boy who helped his mother pay the rent, and who by honest industry prospered in the world.

Law of Love.

No. 1005.

The Law of Love. For Little Boys and Girls. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It illustrates the duty and beauty of love in this life by seventeen interesting tales.

Invalid's Work.

No. 1006.

The Invalid's Work. By M. E. F. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

To illustrate the truth that feebleness of health and lack of means are not insuperable barriers to usefulness, and to show how much may be done by the proper improvement of time, is the object of this book, which tells of the life of an invalid girl in Western New York.

John Brainerd.

No. 1007.

The Life of John Brainerd, the Brother of David Brainerd, and his Successor as Missionary to the Indians of New Jersey. By the Rev. THOMAS BRAINERD, D. D. 8vo. (Cong. Lib.)

A work of great interest to all who admire deep piety, purity of life and a quenchless desire for the salvation of souls. It is not only a well-written Memoir of a devoted minister of the gospel, but it abounds in the most interesting and satisfactory information relative to early missionary effort among the Indians, and of Christian life and culture in this country more than a century ago.

Cherries.

No. 1008.

Buy Your Own Cherries, and Poor Little Ellen, the Drunkard's Daughter. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two excellent and popular temperance stories.

Five Years in China.

No. 1009.

Five Years in China; or, the Factory Boy made a Missionary. The Life and Observations of Rev. William Aitchison, late Missionary to China. By the Rev. CHARLES P. BUSH, D. D. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A fresh, lively and picturesque account of missionary life in the vast Empire of China, to which the humble and earnest piety of the missionary, developed by severe affliction, adds a peculiar charm. Much of the space is occupied by extracts from Mr. Aitchison's journal and letters, thus admitting us to intimate acquaintance with a fellow-Christian and a suffering brother of refined and exemplary spirit.

Bessie Lane's Mistake.

No. 1010.

Bessie Lane's Mistake; or, Wealth is not Happiness. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Money," "Far Away," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Bessie's mistake consists in a desire to appropriate to herself all of the pleasures and gratifications which she sees or imagines, without considering her station in life or whether her desires are right or wrong. Her experiences are given at some length, showing that her wishes were not in accordance with facts, and that she was both happier and better off in every way in her natural sphere than in the one for which she had sighed. The lesson is applicable to adults as well as youth, and is enforced in a practicable, sensible manner which will carry weight.

Bowen's Daily Meditations.

No. 1011.

Daily Meditations. By the Rev. GEORGE BOWEN, American Missionary at Bombay, India. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Bowen's Daily Meditations is one of those rare books which come forth at long intervals, and can come only from a heart profoundly versed in the divine life, aided by a lively imagination and the ability to put thoughts into words. Those who long for a higher Christian life will find food for the soul in these meditations. To such they are suggestive in an eminent degree. The volume has a reading for every day in the year.

Leaves of Consolation.

No. 1012.

Leaves of Consolation for the Afflicted ; or, Voices from the Silent Land. Selected and edited by Mrs. H. DWIGHT WILLIAMS. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume will be welcomed into many stricken and sorrowing households. It is composed of judicious selections from the choicest literature in our language, addressed to the desponding and desolate, who, in times of bereavement, love to linger among the "graves of their household" and dwell upon the state of the departed. The aim of the compiler is to induce them to make a good and wise use of afflictive dispensations, to see the hand of God in them all, and to feel that "the Judge of all the earth" will do right.

Love to the End.

No. 1013.

Love to the End : A Book for the Communion Sabbath.

By the Rev. CHARLES E. KNOX. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Beginning with the opening of the thirteenth chapter of John and closing with the seventeenth, the author presents a vivid and affecting view of the various acts and emotions of our Lord in connection with the institution and observance of the Lord's Supper.

Brookside Farmhouse.

No. 1014.

Brookside Farmhouse from January to December.

For the Little Folks. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Mysie's Work," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The vicissitudes of the "Farmer's Year," from January to December, with their very natural and profitable lessons, are pleasantly depicted in this volume for the young. A good illustration accompanies each of the months. The type is large and the book decidedly attractive.

Niff.

No. 1015.

Niff, and other Tales. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Containing three narratives: "Niff and his Dog," "The Young Soldier" and "Uncle Johnson." A very interesting little work.

What to Do.

No. 1016.

What to Do. For the Little Folks. By E. L. LLEWELLYN, author of the "Little Brown Bible," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very pleasant little book for the little folks. Its contents are: Something to Do, Nothing to Do, Too Much to Do, Little Acts, Kind Words, Never Give Up. Beautifully and appropriately illustrated.

Dutch Tiles.

No. 1017.

Dutch Tiles; or, Loving Words about the Saviour. By EMMA S. BABCOCK. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two little orphan children, living in an old-fashioned house with their grandparents, have their curiosity excited by the curious pictures on the tiles that surround and enclose the antiquated fire-place. Each tile represents some scene in the life of Christ, and the "aunt," in explaining these "Dutch Tiles," makes the children familiar with the wonderful New Testament story. It is written in a style perfectly adapted to reading to very young children, who will look with interest at its numerous pictures.

England Two Hundred Years Ago. No. 1018.

England Two Hundred Years Ago. By E. H. GILLET, author of "Life and Times of John Huss," "History of the Presbyterian Church," "Life Lessons," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sketch of the times of Charles II. The thread of the narrative is the life of the Rev. Joseph Alleine, one of the most eminent of the nonconformist ministers, but it embraces a period in which some of the most startling events in the history of England and of the Church occurred—the Restoration, the Act of Uniformity, the trial and execution of Sir Henry Vane, the persecution and imprisonment of many godly ministers of Christ, etc., etc. The record is a thrilling one, which can never lose its interest because of its relation to that kingdom that shall never come to an end.

Little Red Cloak.

No. 1019.

Little Red Cloak. With eight illustrations. Square svo. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale in rhyme by Miss Harriet B. McKeever. The square pictures are printed in colors, and are very taking with the young people. A gift book.

Books in care of
H. B. McKeever

Miss Muff.

No. 1021.

Miss Muff and Little Hungry. With four illustrations. Square svo. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale in verse by Miss Anna Warner, author of "Dollars and Cents," etc., etc., told with great power and pathos and illustrated by colored engravings. More sympathy for the souls and bodies of poor children could not well be inculcated in fewer words.

Ram-Krishna-Punt.

No. 1022.

Ram-Krishna-Punt, the Boy of Bengal. With four illustrations. Square svo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of a Hindoo boy who became servant to a Brahmin priest, a robber of the idol, a runaway and finally a Christian. A gift book.

Hindoo Life.

No. 1023.

Hindoo Life. With pictures of the Men, Women and Children of India. By the Rev. EDWARD WEBB, late of Madura, South India. Square svo. (S. S. Lib.)

It throws a clear light on that far-distant land of heathen darkness.

The old will read it as readily as the young.

These five books (Nos. 1019-1023) are illustrated with beautiful oil-colored engravings, and may be had separately, or together as a set, under the title of BEAUTIFUL BOOKS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS, in a neat box. They are very suitable for gifts.

Flowers in the Grass.

No. 1024.

Flowers in the Grass. By E. L. LLEWELLYN, author of "What to Do," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A pleasing narrative by a popular writer, the scene of which is laid on the Susquehanna River, teaching the young Christian patience under trial, courage in duty and trust in God.

Diamond Cross.

No. 1025.

The Diamond Cross; or, The Story of Florence Clifton.

"Charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A popular book from the pen of Miss McKeever.

May Castleton's Mission.

No. 1026.

May Castleton's Mission. "Charity suffereth long and is kind." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A companion to the "Diamond Cross," and by the same author.

Rose Delaney's Secret.

No. 1027.

Rose Delaney's Secret; or, "Charity Envieth not." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A third volume of the series on charity by Miss McKeever. The three together are sold as "The Diamond Cross Series," in a box.

Only in Fun.

No. 1028.

Only in Fun; or, The Teasing Boy. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Money," "Far Away," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Its title tells its intent. The plea of "only in fun" is shown to be no reparation for the mischief done by a teasing boy.

Allan's Fault.

No. 1029.

Allan's Fault. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Brookside Farmhouse," "Annandale," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Allan's fault was heedless forgetfulness. How he and others suffered in consequence of it, and how he was enabled by the grace of God to conquer it, Martha Farquharson tells in her best style. It is one of our best books for young readers.

Anna Clayton.

No. 1030.

Anna Clayton; or, The Inquirer after Truth. By the Rev. F. M. DIMMICK. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A popular treatise, presented through the medium of family and social conversations and discussions, on the subject of baptism. It is adapted to seize upon the attention of the reader, whether young or old, and to hold it, and also to carry conviction in favor of the views which it defends and illustrates. It is well fitted to serve as a guide to the inquirer after the truth in regard to the nature, mode and proper subject of the baptismal ordinance, and will be read and appreciated where a more didactic treatise, however ably written, would not be read at all.

Out at Sea.

No. 1031.

Out at Sea; or, From Boston to Ceylon. By EMMA. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The incidents of a long sea-voyage from Boston to Ceylon are very gracefully and graphically pictured by a female hand. There is no attempt at exaggeration, but all the scenes are naturally and quietly described for the entertainment of youthful listeners.

Life by the Ganges.

No. 1032.

Life by the Ganges; or, Faith and Victory. By the late Mrs. MULLENS, of Calcutta. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale of thrilling interest, in which the author lifts the veil from a heathen household, and shows the reader the terrible conflicts through which the Hindoo must pass to the light of Christianity. Mrs. Mul-lens opened the way for the "Zenana Missions," and wrote as one only can who is admitted to the privacy of Hindoo homes.

Berry-Pickers of Wisconsin. No. 1033.

The Berry-Pickers of Wisconsin. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A book of more than usual excellence, teaching lessons of self-reliance and independence, as well as of Christian faith and hope. It tells how a brother and sister struggled with poverty, and by energy and perseverance acquired an education and secured positions of usefulness and honor in life.

George Lee. No. 1034.

George Lee ; or, Making the Best of Trials. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Money," "Bessie Lane's Mistake," etc., etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of three boys, one of whom calmly denies himself the coveted privilege of a college education for the sake of his mother and fatherless brothers, while the others, early companions of George, sons of rich men, are enjoying all the advantages of a finished education. The contrast between the boys gives opportunity for lessons of the highest value to the young.

Parental Training. No. 1035.

Parental Training. By the late Rev. WILLIAM BACON, author of "Salvation Made Sure," etc. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is a common-sense treatise. It is brief, forcible and to the point. The author sets aside as pernicious much of what is received on this subject, and would have parents to regard their children as naturally rebellious, and as needing authority, decision, perseverance, to subdue them to obedience. Much do parents need to study such a book as this and reduce it to practice.

Weakness and Strength.

No. 1036.

Weakness and Strength; or, Out of the Deep. By Mrs. HERBERT. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent book for the Sunday-School library. It teaches very effectively the danger of young people trusting to their own strength, instead of relying upon divine aid. Some of the most vigorous of its illustrations of this principle are drawn from the sin of intemperance. It is a book which will interest almost any class of readers.

Life Lessons.

No. 1037.

Life Lessons in the School of Christian Duty. By the Rev. E. H. GILLET, D. D., author of "The Life and Times of John Huss," etc. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

There are forty-one chapters in this book, each with its theme, but all bearing on one prominent subject—the stirring up the mind of the reader to a thoughtful consideration of what he is, whither he is tending, what objects he proposes to himself, and what are the claims of God on him and the obligations on his part to obey God.

Ancient Cities.

No. 1038.

Ancient Cities and Empires: Their Prophetic Doom
Read in the Light of History and Modern Research. By the Rev. E. H. GILLET, D. D., author of "Life and Times of John Huss," "History of the Presbyterian Church," "England Two Hundred Years Ago," etc.
12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Egypt, Nineveh and the Assyrian Empire, Babylon, Petra, Bashan, Moab and Ammon, Philistia and its Five Cities, Tyre, Sidon, Samaria, Damascus, Jerusalem and the Cities of Galilee, together with the Seven Churches of Asia, are all arrayed as witnesses for the divine authority of the sacred Scriptures. Their present condition, described with chaste and elegant simplicity of style, undeniably proves that the "holy men of God" who ages ago predicted their fate "spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." The work is well done, and brings the new facts presented by the discoveries of Layard, Robinson, Stanly, Porter and other recent travelers to bear on the elucidation of prophecy.

Flora Morris' Choice.

No. 1039.

Flora Morris' Choice; or, "Be not Conformed to the World." By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Bessie Lane's Mistake," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Two sisters in a fashionable and ambitious family are thrown into the society of plain but sterling and pious people, with contrary effects upon each. Flora acquires good sense and judgment, and chooses Mary's good part after some struggles. Blanche persists in despising plain people, reads novels on Sunday (and every day), lounges on the bed instead of learning to make it, goes to operas and matinées at theatres, falls in with a handsome, gentlemanly fellow, who marries her secretly and deserts her in six months. Certain forms of amusement of worse than doubtful character, but which seem to be growing in popularity with respectable people, are held up to just reprobation and a general rebuke administered to "fashionable" ways of rearing a family.

Beggars of Holland and Grandees of Spain.

No. 1040.

Beggars of Holland and Grandees of Spain. A History of the Reformation in the Netherlands from A. D. 1200 to 1578. By J. W. MEARS, D. D. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This valuable work gives a deeply-interesting account of the early struggles against Romanism, commencing before the time of Luther, following all along down through the reigns of Charles V. and Philip II., and ending with the thrilling narrative of the hardships and battles of the "Beggars of Holland" against the "Grandees of Spain." The great battle of civil and religious liberty was nobly fought by the brave Hollanders for the benefit of generations yet to come. We trust this book will find its way into every library and family in the land.

Tenement-Life in New York.

Nos. 1041-1043.

Consisting of "Shoe-Binders of New York," "New York Needle-Woman" and "New York Bible-Woman." Put up in a neat box. See Nos. 1041, 1042 and 1043.

New York Shoe-Binders.

No. 1041.

Shoe-Binders of New York ; or, Fields White to the Harvest. By Mrs. J. McNAIR WRIGHT, author of "Almost a Nun," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This book gives a picture of life in New York among some of its most wretched scenes, and the good that may be done by earnest Christian sympathy and effort. A family is introduced to us in the very lowest walks of life, with everything in its condition that is loathsome and repulsive, and then as the heart of one who had richly experienced the love of Christ was set upon it, and day after day, and in connection with earnest prayer and kindly deeds, effort was put forth to relieve and change, the happiest results gradually followed ; and the whole book most affectingly shows how much may be accomplished where there is a true heart set, Jesus like, upon going about and doing good.

New York Needle-Woman.

No. 1042.

New York Needle-Woman ; or, Elsie's Stars. By Mrs. J. McNAIR WRIGHT, author of "Shoe-Binders of New York," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A beautiful picture of Christian work where such work is most needed. By the daily effort of one poor needle-woman several families are reclaimed from their degraded and vicious associations, ignorant children are taught and helped upward in paths of knowledge and respectability.

New York Bible-Woman.

No. 1043.

The New York Bible-Woman. By Mrs. J. McNAIR WRIGHT, author of "Shoe-Binders of New York." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A companion volume to "The Shoe-Binders of New York" and the "New York Needle-Woman." Like them, it takes us to the homes of the poor and degraded in our commercial metropolis, and, whilst painting their sorrows, their sins and their woes, suggests what may be done to soothe these sorrows, check these sins and heal these woes. The bitter streams that flow from intemperance—giant evil of our land!—are brought vividly to light, and the power of prayer, patience, piety and the pledge to arrest the stream shown.

Future Punishment.

No. 1044.

Future Punishment. By the late MOSES STUART.

16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An examination of all the passages of the New Testament in which terms relating to future punishment occur, including the kindred Hebrew words of the Old Testament.

The Shannons.

No. 1045.

The Shannons; or, From Darkness to Light. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Allan's Fault," etc.

16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent work, written in an interesting manner, and detailing the rescue of a family from intemperance, ignorance, poverty and unbelief by the earnest, faithful work of a devoted Christian Sunday-school teacher.

Pet Lamb.

No. 1046.

The Pet Lamb, and Lambs of the Flock. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Pleasing, instructive and simply-told narratives for very young readers.

Cliff Hut.

No. 1047.

Cliff Hut; or, The Fortunes of a Fisherman's Family.

18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An English tale pleasantly told. It sets forth the blessedness of religion and the advantage of right training in early life.

Bird and Arrow.

No. 1048.

The Bird and the Arrow, The Boy that Did not Like Work, The First Trial, and a Night among the Mountains. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Just the book Christian parents will be happy to put into the hands of their children. The simplicity of style, the pleasing narrative form and positive Christian teaching make it all we could desire as a helper in the religious nurture of children.

Wild Roses.

No. 1049.

Wild Roses : A Story for Little Readers. By COUSIN

SUE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A charmingly-told tale, in large type, for little people.

China Cup.

No. 1050.

The China Cup; or, Ellen's Trial. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting and instructive story of the daily temptations which surround the path of the young, and the blessed results of patient waiting on God for the establishment of truth when character is falsely assailed.

Almost a Nun.

No. 1051.

Almost a Nun. By Mrs. JULIA McNAIR WRIGHT.

16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very popular story, telling how an estimable young orphan Protestant girl would not be a nun, and narrated in a fascinating manner. The wily efforts and subtle intrigues of Jesuits and papal relatives to win this girl over to the papal faith, and with her fortune, are laid open, and how they all failed, together with the blessed results flowing from the consistent walk of one earnest-hearted, devout Christian.

Chinaman in California.

No. 1052.

The Chinaman in California. By the author of "Rich and Poor," "The Back Court," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A residence of fourteen years in California awakened the attention of the author of this book to the Chinese who are pouring so rapidly into that State. By a deeply-interesting tale, the principal incidents of which are true, she seeks to interest others also in this peculiar people. The Sacramento flood is an event which will be remembered by Californians.

Dr. Leslie's Boys.

No. 1053.

Doctor Leslie's Boys. By the author of "Bessie Lane's Mistake," "Discontented Little Girl," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Dr. Leslie and Mrs. Leslie adopt as their own the three orphan boys of a niece. In detailing the difficulties and joys which their adoption entailed, the author brings out lessons for both parents and sons. The importance of a present preparation for death is one of these lessons.

Amy Hall Books.

No. 1054.

A series of six volumes of stories by Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, forming a miniature library for children. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.) They are:

1. Amy Hall; or, Pleasing One's Self.
2. Carrie's Peaches; or, Forgive Your Enemies.
3. Daisy Delafield; or, The Lost Lamb.
4. Fannie's Rule; or, Better than Gold.
5. Miss Clare's Party; or, The Pattern Child.
6. Three Cents; or, Lettie's Way of Doing Good.

This is a dainty little library. Uniform in size and style, each book is complete in itself. The stories inculcate good lessons suitable for young children, the groundwork of which is based upon sound Bible teaching. They are just the thing for a holiday present.

Do-Good Library.

No. 1055.

A series of nine little books, by MARTHA FARQUHARSON, each containing two pretty illustrations. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.) Their titles are as follows:

1. Anna Hand, the Meddlesome Girl.
2. Grandma Foster's Sunbeam.
3. Little Patience.
4. Little Helper.
5. Little Dick Positive.

6. Loitering Linus.7. Maud's Two Homes.*8. Milly, the Little Girl who Tried to Help Others.*9. Stupid Sally.

They are very interesting little stories, teaching important lessons that children are constantly in need of learning. Among these lessons are very pointed ones on meddling, loitering and other faults of youth, with examples of patience, helpfulness, contentment, piety, etc. They will make together a valuable addition to an infant-class or child's library.

Loving Jesus Early.

No. 1056.

Loving Jesus Early. A True Life. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A sweet narrative of a little girl's life which was early devoted to Jesus. The story is told by the mother, with the ever-recurring memories of the child's loving words and ways.

Captain Waltham.

No. 1057.

Captain Waltham: A Tale of Southern India. By Mrs. JOSEPH SCUDDER. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Written in a sprightly and attractive style by one familiar with life in India, this book gives a most accurate picture of the scenes it narrates. The worldly English civilian, the godly officer, the missionary and the various classes of Hindoos are graphically portrayed in a tale of most lively interest. "Captain Waltham" will be found to be a book quite out of the beaten track, fresh, lively and instructive.

Sacraments of the Church.

No. 1058.

The Sacraments of the Church. By the Rev. S. W. CRITTENDEN. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A well-digested manual in four chapters. The first gives a historical notice of papal errors on the subject and of Luther's views. The second and third treat of the design, import, mode and proper subjects of Baptism. The fourth reviews and refutes the errors that have prevailed at different periods in the celebration of the Lord's Supper.

Lost Father.

No. 1059.

The Lost Father : A Story of a Philadelphia Boy. By the author of "Chinaman in California." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of a boy who went to California in quest of his father, but only to find the fortune which the father accumulated before his death, and with which (growing up to be a good, pious man) he accomplished much good. It is based upon facts.

Tennesseean in Persia.

No. 1060.

The Tennesseean in Persia and Koordistan. Being Scenes and Incidents in the Life of Samuel Audley Rhea. By Rev. DWIGHT W. MARSH, for Ten Years Missionary in Mosul. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Mr. Rhea labored as a missionary in some of the most interesting, because least known, portions of Asia. A man of fine culture, large ability and eminent piety, the story of his life is one of unusual interest as well as of unusual profitableness. His letters and journals, from which this volume is made up, are replete with valuable information concerning the strange countries in which the young Tennesseean sojourned. The volume is illustrated with twenty-nine engravings, and is one that we can commend with more than ordinary positiveness.

True-Story Library. No. 1.

No. 1061.

A series of twelve original books for little children by Mrs. JULIA MCNAIR WRIGHT, author of "Almost a Nun." 32mo. (S. S. Lib.) They are as follows :

1. Brave Max: The Story of Captain Hammond.
2. Good Louise: The Helper of Oberlin.
3. Henry Martyn: The Missionary.
4. Indians' Friend: David Brainerd.
5. Lizzie, the Girl Soldier: Mrs. Lizzie Calderwood.
6. Little King: King Joash.
7. Our Class: The Author's Class in Sabbath-school.

8. Richard Knill: Missionary to India and Russia.
9. Story of a Prophet: Elisha.
10. Story of a Tinker: John Bunyan.
11. Three Seats Full: In an Infant Class.
12. Tom Scott: The Commentator.

Upward.

No. 1063.

Upward, from Sin, through Grace, to Glory. By the Rev. B. B. HOTCHKIN. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little book is meant to reflect the dealings of God with the heart of his child; in other words, to be a book of Christian experience. It treats of such subjects as "Reconciliation with God," "Conscience," "The Victory that Overcometh the World," "Assurance," "Love," "The Service of Doing," "The Service of Suffering," "The Border Land" and "Heaven,"—all topics of the deepest interest and discussed with excellent skill. It is a good book to read for spiritual improvement.

Annie's Gold Cross.

No. 1064.

Annie's Gold Cross and its Mysterious Motto. By the author of "Nellie Grey." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-told story of a family consisting of a father, mother and three children. Each child has a besetting sin, the struggles against which are faithfully described. Annie has a cross given her on which is engraved the motto, "He pleased not himself." This she was not to show until after a certain time. The cross had its effect, and little Annie succeeded in overcoming a very ungracious habit. Whilst the grand lesson which it enforces is the beauty of following Him who "pleased not himself," it also attacks several faults common among the young.

Frank Harvey in Paris.

No. 1065.

Frank Harvey in Paris, and How he Spent his Sundays.
By the author of "Money," "Bessie Lane's Mistake," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of an American boy who made a visit with his parents to Paris. There everything he saw was new and strange to him, but nothing more so than the manner in which the Sabbath was spent. He yielded in some measure to the temptations that surrounded him, and did things for which his conscience afterward severely upbraided him. The chief lesson of the book is that no situation or circumstances afford an excuse for a violation of God's holy day.

Saviour we Need.

No. 1066.

The Saviour we Need. By the Rev. JACOB HELFFEN-
STEIN, D. D. With an introduction by the Rev. HARVEY
D. GANSE. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The work of the Redeemer in its relations to lost men is here developed in a series of earnest chapters. Man's need of a Saviour, the Saviour revealed, his divinity and humanity, his atonement and intercession, the completeness and sufficiency of his vicarious sacrifice, are advocated, and earnest appeals made to the impenitent reader. The introduction, by the Rev. Henry D. Ganse, of the Reformed Church, is suggestive and effective.

Freedboy in Alabama.

No. 1067.

The Freedboy in Alabama. By Miss ANNE M. MIT-CHELL, author of "Crystals," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of a poor colored boy on a plantation. His industry, intelligence and Christian deportment win the confidence of his employer. He establishes a Sabbath-school among the freedmen which proves a success. The story is one full of interest, and illustrates the truth that where there is a willing heart a way for usefulness will be opened.

Christmas Stockings.

No. 1068.

Chronicles of Four Little Christmas Stockings. 18mo.
(S. S. Lib.)

This is an uncommonly well written story of four children, showing how they laid up their pennies in order to fill the Christmas stockings of certain poor German children.

Olden's Mission.

No. 1069.

Olden's Mission: A Tale of Famine in Leyden. By the author of "Chronicles of Four Little Christmas Stockings." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A deeply-pathetic story connected with the terrible siege of Leyden. It depicts the horror of the famine as well as the strength of faith and of human affection.

Stories by Two Sisters.

No. 1070.

Stories by Two Sisters. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A collection of ten short, sparkling, original stories for children.

Ella Dalton.

No. 1071.

Ella Dalton: A Narrative for Girls. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of school-life. Its readers will learn that it is not wise to permit our happiness to rest upon the approval of the world. If we thus depend upon the good opinion of those around us, our peace will be lost when our companions frown. But if we look to Christ and rest in his strength, desiring his approbation above all things, then shall we be able to bear the reproaches of men with quietness and peace, waiting for him to make our righteousness appear.

Too Big for Sunday-School.

No. 1072.

Too Big for Sunday-School: A Story for Boys. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A story contrasting the career of two lads, one of whom loves the Sunday-school and is not too proud to work, the other feeling himself too big to go to the Sunday-school and to do the humbler duties of a store and errand-boy. The result shows which was right.

Back Court.

No. 1073.

The Back Court; or, How to Help the Poor. By Mrs. MARGARET C. HOSMER, author of the "Chinaman in California," etc. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It carries the reader to the home of a newly-married young Christian woman in Philadelphia, who finds her work for her Master in the court back of her own house. "Work for every day and near at hand" is the idea of the book.

Golden Songs.

No. 1074.

Golden Songs and Ballads. Compiled by the author of "Annie's Gold Cross." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Many children and many mothers will thank the lover of poetry whose taste, enthusiasm and labor have been devoted to the preparation of this little volume. In it will be found the cream of many good books compiled for the young, together with other pieces not in those volumes.

Seeing Jesus.

No. 1075.

Seeing Jesus. By the Rev. HENRY A. NELSON, D. D. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A series of twelve discourses to children on the life and love of Jesus, dedicated to the children whose pastor the author has been, "with the prayer that they may all be so happy as to 'see Jesus,' the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth." We commend this book to mothers for reading aloud to little ones.

Italian Girl.

No. 1076.

The Italian Girl; or, The Victory that Overcometh the World. By the author of "Broken Idols" and "Bearing our Burdens." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In this story of Susette, the daughter of the Italian organ-grinder of Washington (which is not all a tale), the reader will find good lessons pleasingly conveyed. Whilst his sympathies will be awakened for the strangers in a strange land, he will also learn by the history of Susette the vital truth that "this is the victory that overcometh the world, even your faith." The value of the Sabbath-school in leading the teacher to visit the home of the scholar is also here well brought to light.

Way Lost and Found.

No. 1077.

The Way Lost and Found: A Book for the Young, especially Young Men. By the Rev. JOSEPH F. TUTTLE, D. D., President of Wabash College. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It aims to lead the young to a life of virtue by winning them to the cross, and enlists the reader's attention by combining illustration with direct teaching. Give it to young men.

Republics.

No. 1078.

Republics; or, Popular Government an Appointment of God. By the Rev. JOHN CROWELL, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

An able and thoughtful discussion of the relations of Government to God's word and Christianity, aiming to prove that republican governments are a gift from God to man.

Snow-Drifts.

No. 1079.

Snow-Drifts; or, A Year of Orphanage. By the author of "Ella Dalton." 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Well written and full of incident. Its keynote is the importance of trust in God as the only refuge in trouble, and not a vague, unfounded trust, but a trust based upon faith in Jesus Christ—that faith which secures covenanted blessings to God's children and their seed after them.

Joseph.

No. 1080.

Joseph. In Bible language. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

His story told in Bible language; and where shall we find the story better told? It is illustrated by nine pictures.

Ohio Ark Series.

No. 1081-1087.

Comprising seven volumes of prize competitors, selected as the best of over thirty manuscripts offered in competition as "books of medium size for the Sunday-school library." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Ohio Ark.

No. 1081.

The Ohio Ark, and Where it Floated. By Mrs. J. MCNAIR WRIGHT, author of "Almost a Nun," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Sorry we are, but so it is, that the tragedy of "The Spider and the Fly" is constantly re-enacted in the world. Especially are snares laid for the feet of youth depending for support on their own labors, often orphans or wellnigh friendless. With relatives careless of duty or incapable of giving them godly counsel, these boys and girls fall too often a ready prey to the ensnarer of souls with his many servants. To illustrate these dangers, to warn against them, to lure to better ways, is the aim of Mrs. Wright in "The Ohio Ark." Sabbath-breaking, bad company, bad books, deceit, fraud, are the sins pointed out as to be resisted; resting in God is shown to be the armor of defence. With frontispiece, and ten initial illustrations by the author.

Craythorns.

No. 1082.

The Craythorns of Stony Hollow. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Money," "Bessie Lane's Mistake," etc., etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting and instructive temperance story, showing the evils of intemperance and the necessity of grace in the heart to overcome temptations. It is just the story for the boys to read, presenting the only sure and safe refuge in times of severe trial and strong temptation.

Madge, Kate and Dick.

No. 1083.

Madge, Kate and Dick; or, Ripening Lives. By AGNES DUDLEIGH. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Its great purpose is expressed in its alternate title, "Ripening Lives." Unsensational, it is yet interesting and well written. Our friends will find it an excellent book for young Christians, teaching by example and alluring to a devoted life for the Master.

Rich and Poor.

No. 1084.

Rich and Poor. By Mrs. MARGARET HOSMER, author of "Chinaman in California," etc., etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author of "Rich and Poor" has in its pages aimed to illustrate the difficulties which attend a merely human philanthropy. She has sought to show that, by the manifestation to the wretched of our sympathy with them, we may lead them to a faith in the love which Christ, our Master, more fully bears to them. She has written mainly from actual characters and events, depicting in the Carringtons worldliness without philanthropy; in the Goldings, correctness without Christian love; in Blanche, unguided natural impulses missing their mark; whilst in Miss Thornley is shown true love to man based on the love of Christ, zealous yet guided by prudence.

Man with Two Shadows.

No. 1085.

The Man with Two Shadows. By ERNIEST HOVEN. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The shadows cast by the Felix Mervin of the tale thus entitled were shadows of unbelief and soul-darkness. These, lying on the old man's life, fell also on that of the boy (who in later years tells the story), darkening his spirit. Doubts of God's providence, of God's goodness, of his paternal rule extending to all his works, had grown to strength. But the shadows were dispelled by the hand of God leading to a closer scrutiny of their sources and opening the doubter's eyes to discern spiritual things. It is a book for the thoughtful among the young and the old.

Mr. Wallingford's Mistake.

No. 1086.

Mr. Wallingford's Mistake. By Mrs. A. K. DUNNING, author of "The Stepmother's Recompense," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

So fearful are the ravages of intemperance in our land that the press cannot hold its peace and be guiltless. It is not upon the families of the poor and the degraded only that the curse falls. In homes of wealth, of culture, of piety even, are seen the footprints of the demon. Hence we need temperance tales that shall not shock by extravagance nor disgust by vulgarity. That "Mr. Wallingford's Mistake" may not be repeated by the fathers of our land is the prayer with which this book is given to the public.

Virgilia.

No. 1087.

Virgilia: A Story of Rome under Nero. By GEORGIA GREY. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Virgilia, the heroine, and the lovely daughter of a Roman Senator, converted to Christianity, is followed in her confession of Christ by her brother Diomed. With much skill other representative characters of the days of Nero are introduced and life breathed into the records of the past. This volume will meet a favorable reception from the public.

Old Château Series.

Nos. 1088-1093.

The best of thirty competitors for prizes as "books of large size for the Sunday-school library." Six volumes in a box, including No. 1018.

Old Château.

No. 1088.

The Old Château. By Miss HARRIET B. MCKEEVER. First prize book. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale of the Huguenots in the days of Louis XIV. of France. The story is one of deep and at times of painful interest. It follows the trials and the persecutions of a noble French Protestant family until the survivors found a new home in Ireland. The author has endeavored to make selections from established facts; and while she desires to bring out in bold relief the persecuting character of the great apostasy, she has tried to deal with these facts not in a bitter or acrimonious spirit, or so as to excite evil feelings toward individuals. She holds up the two systems, Protestantism and Romanism, and asks, "Which bears the marks of the meek and pure Lamb of God—the proud, the arrogant, the intolerant, or the lowly, the loving, the patient, the holy?"

Happy Light.

No. 1089.

Happy Light. By Miss EMMA N. BEEBE. Second prize book. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

"Happy Light" is a contraction of the name of the boy-hero of the book, Master Hapwell Light. A good boy he is made by the author, yet a true boy. In fact, the boys of the book are real boys, and will be followed by the boys generally with a ready reading of their histories. They will from them learn the value of obedience, self-denial and true Christian principle in the young.

Gertrude Terry.

No. 1090.

Gertrude Terry. By MARY GRAHAME. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It very pleasantly and skillfully portrays the workings of Christian principles and motives in the heart of a young girl, and their practical effect upon her life and character. The influence for good which a teacher may exert over her pupils forms, also, an important element in the story. Its readers will feel incited to more active effort in the Master's cause.

Cast Out.

No. 1091.

Cast Out. By ABBY ELDREDGE, author of "Hattie Powers," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It takes us into a field less trodden than many. The heroine is a young Jewess, around whose conversion and expulsion, together with a younger sister, from their father's house, gathers the interest of a very interesting and instructive narrative. Prayers for that race "of whom Christ came as concerning the flesh" will be quickened by its perusal.

Influence.

No. 1093.

Influence. By F. J. P. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Tracing the power, seen only in its effects, exerted by brothers and sisters, parents and children and friends over each other, the author seeks to deepen the sense of accountability to man and to God in the minds of those who read the story of the Cleavelands and Sherwins.

Oriel.

No. 1094.

Oriel: A Tale of Boarding-School Life. By MARION HOWARD, author of "Annie's Influence," "Two Terms at Olney," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In it the reader of the story of Isabel Allison's school-life will get a glimpse of the sorrows and mortifications which a sensitive and proud spirit entails upon its possessor, while not sustained by Christian faith or controlled by Christian principle. Coldly shutting herself up in the pride of rectitude, and repelling well-meant advances, Isabel alienates her friends, while she makes herself wretched. But, changed by God's grace, she finds that the open heart attracts love, and that resting on a divine Saviour is better than standing upon the poor pride of a mere human morality. The rest not found in earthly things is found at the foot of the cross.

Helen's Lesson.

No. 1095.

Helen's Lesson. By E. C. T. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The "lesson" of the tale is, that we are to glorify God with our bodies and all their powers, since, if we are his children, we are "temples of God." Hence, to keep the temple pure, a fit habitation for the Holy One, should be our aim; to banish anger, evil-speaking, revenge and all sin from the temple of God should employ our powers; remembering that "if any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy."

Halfway.

No. 1096.

Halfway. By MAGNET STARR. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Halfway is a tale of life at a boarding-school for girls. It is a narrative of much interest and truth to nature; in it the lesson of living wholly and not "halfway" for Christ is impressively taught.

Little Books for Little Readers.

No. 1097.

Little Books for Little Readers. Large 32mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A new library of six true stories for the youngest readers from the pen of Martha Farquharson, author of "Allan's Fault," "Casella," etc. The six books are prettily bound in muslin, illustrated and enclosed in a box. Their titles are:

1. The White Dress.
2. The Broken Basket.
3. Jamie by the Lake.
4. Bertie Page.
5. Amy and her Kitten.
6. Jane Hart.

Rufus the Unready.

No. 1098.

Rufus the Unready. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Allan's Fault," "Casella," etc. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A very interesting book illustrating the old truth that "Procrastination is the thief of Time" in matters temporal and spiritual. The story of Rufus is a sad one—sad because it brings out the wretched results of "putting off"—but the lesson is a most wholesome and needed one.

Whither Bound?

No. 1099.

Whither Bound? By A. M. M. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A book for the impenitent, in five chapters: The Giver of Life, The Conqueror of Death, The Redeemer from Sin, The Constraining Love of Christ, and What shall the End be? It is written in a style adapted to cultivated readers.

True-Story Library. No. 2.

No. 1100.

More true stories for little ones. By Mrs. J. MCNAIR WRIGHT. Large 32mo.

The subjects of these stories are the distinguished men and women of the Reformation. Many adults will find in these brief histories information with regard to the heroes of the Reformation which they will be glad to get in so small a compass. The titles of these books are :

1. George Wishart.
2. John Knox.
3. William Tyndale.
4. John Huss.
5. Martin Luther.
6. Philip Melanchthon.
7. Queen Margaret.
8. Renée of Ferrara.
9. John Calvin.
10. William Farel.
11. Admiral Coligni.
12. Richard Baxter.

Heavenward Bound.

No. 1101.

Heavenward Bound. By OLIVE A. WADSWORTH, author of "Bill Riggs, Jr.," etc. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

To this book was awarded the prize of two hundred and fifty dollars offered for the best book of small size for the instruction of young converts. It will be found eminently adapted to the purpose for which it is intended.

Child Captives.

No. 1102.

The Child Captives: A True Tale of Life among the Indians of the West. By MRS. MARGARET HOSMER. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

It details the captivity of three little children taken by the Sioux Indians, and their escape, in a manner that will secure the interest of every reader. The facts are related with a full sense of the providential care that marked their course, and an earnest desire to represent Indian life as it truly is, not totally without humanity and even tenderness of instinct, but sadly and bitterly benighted.

The Moravian Indian Boy.

No. 1103.

The Moravian Indian Boy: A Tale of the Pilgrimage of the Moravian Indians from the Susquehanna to the Muskingum. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In this narrative the author gives us a glimpse of a little-remembered period of American history—the period of Moravian missions to the Indian tribes of our Middle States.

Westward.

No. 1104.

Westward: A Tale of American Emigrant Life. By Mrs. J. McNAIR WRIGHT. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Its lesson is that Christian men and women, when they migrate Westward, should feel themselves to be missionaries; and it shows how even plain people may carry out this idea and prove of immense service in their new homes.

Ruth Hawthorne.

No. 1105.

Ruth Hawthorne; or, Led to the Rock. By the author of "Happy Light." 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In it we have an illustration of the perverseness with which one trained in the faith of the Bible may turn away from the religion of her parents, and choose falsehood rather than truth, vague unbelief rather than the firm foundation of God's revelation of himself. In it is also shown how unsatisfying is the rest that skepticism, misnamed philosophy, can give, how imperatively, in the hour of grief, the soul demands something higher than itself, something above mere human hope, and how firm is the Rock to which at last the wanderer's feet are led.

Theodore.

No. 1106.

Theodore: A Story about Baptism. By a True Baptist. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A book which clothes with all the interest of a romance the most thorough discussion of the mode of baptism. It takes up the characters of a popular Baptist tale and gives a sequel to their history, which throws light upon the teachings of the Bible with regard to this much mooted subject. The aim of the author is bold, but fully sustained.

Basket of Barley Loaves.

No. 1107.

A Basket of Barley Loaves. By the author of "The High Mountain Apart" and "Sacramental Sabbaths." 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

To those who crave more of Christ in the soul and in the daily life, to those who long for holiness and assurance, this "Basket of Barley Loaves" will bring welcome refreshment and nourishment. What of sweetness and strength there is in these meditations is due to God's word, of which they are full.

Life in Narrow Streets.

No. 1108.

Life in Narrow Streets. By JULIA CARRIE THOMPSON, author of "Aspenridge," etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This is not an overdrawn sketch of imaginary beings, but a true story of actual characters in the city of Philadelphia. The central figure is a plain working-girl engaged in homely toil, yet living a Christian life, and radiating Christian influences all about her. The poor will here learn patience, industry and trust, whilst the rich will be taught to sympathize with those less favored in worldly matters than themselves.

Theban Legion.

No. 1109.

The Theban Legion; a Story of the Times of Diocletian. By the Rev. WM. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of this illustrious troop is made a thread upon which to run the leading facts in the last great persecution of the Church by heathen Rome. It also shows the numbers, condition and location of Christian churches about A. D. 300, as well as the nature of the trials to which the confessors of Christ were then subjected.

The Foundling.

No. 1110.

The Foundling, and other Tales. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The "Foundling of the Fens" is a tale of a little girl saved from drowning by a remarkable providence.

Jessie Wilson.

No. 1111.

Jessie Wilson, and other Tales. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The chief story, that of Jessie Wilson, shows the danger of yielding to covetousness under the influence of bad company.

Hope Foster's Mistake.

No. 1112.

Hope Foster's Mistake, and other Tales. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Hope Foster's mistake is one into which many young ladies fall who think that there is nothing for them to do in the world. Hope learned her error, and found that there was much for her to do.

False Friendship.

No. 1113.

False Friendship, and other Tales. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The Board is indebted to the valuable publications of the Religious Tract Society of London for a large part of the contents of the preceding four books.

Grace and Polly.

No. 1114.

Grace and Polly. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. Two Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale for young readers, showing a home with love in it and a home with no love in it, and how love grows in the heart.

Bet and Bounce.

No. 1115.

Bet and Bounce. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. Two Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A capital book for little readers, about a fine cat and a fine dog, but with habits so bad that they lost a good home and came to grief. The lessons of their misdeeds are happily used for the instruction of boys and girls.

Mary's New Friends.

No. 1116.

Mary's New Friends. By NELLIE GRAHAME. 18mo. Two Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

"Mary" is the "Polly" of "Grace and Polly," but with new friends and a new home, where she learns to overcome old habits of sin and to follow Christ.

Christ Liveth in Me.

No. 1117.

Christ Liveth in Me. By the Rev. WILLIAM P. BREED, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This book has been written by the author with the conviction that the mass of professing Christians need to rise to a higher life, and that many hearts more or less vaguely long for it, and will thankfully accept any aid offered to point them to it and guide them to its attainment. It has already proved helpful to such persons, and called forth their thanks.

Communion.

No. 1118.

Communion; a Treatise on Christian Fellowship with God and his Saints. By the Rev. LOYAL YOUNG, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This little volume is appropriately dedicated to "all those who long for more intimate communion with God and his people, and are in sympathy with that spirit of fellowship which is more and more pervading the Christian world."

Rathfelder's Hotel.

No. 1119.

Rathfelder's Hotel. A Story of the Cape of Good Hope. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A phase of life in South Africa showing the power of the gospel to subdue the wicked heart.

Robin the Runner.

No. 1120.

Robin the Runner. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Well adapted to interest children and impress upon their minds lessons of piety.

Ella and Maggie.

No. 1121.

Ella and Maggie; or, Working for Jesus. By LILIAN. 18mo. Two Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A tale simple in plan and clear in style, showing young Christians, especially girls, how they may work and witness for Christ. So natural and so common is the idea of future usefulness that this lesson of present usefulness for the youngest of Christ's fold is one of great moment.

Boy Life.

No. 1122.

Boy Life. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This collection of incidents from real life gives the boys suggestions that they will do well to heed.

Immortality of the Soul.

No. 1123.

Immortality of the Soul and Destiny of the Wicked.

By the Rev. N. L. RICE, D. D., President of Westminster College. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

To meet the many calls for a reply to the arguments of Annihilationists, the Board requested Dr. Rice to prepare a small volume on the immortality of the soul. This he has done, and in a manner that will prove satisfactory to those who need such a book to present to a numerous class of errorists.

The contents of the volume are, Statement of the Question; Preliminary Considerations; the Creation of Man; the Rational Argument; the Intermediate State; Opposing Arguments Considered; the Final Destiny of the Wicked.

The Great Revival of 1800.

No. 1124.

The Great Revival of 1800. By the Rev. WILLIAM SPEER, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Speer has culled out from a great mass of materials the facts of greatest interest and value. He traces the revival in all parts of our country, but gives most prominence to those in which the work was most powerful. The objects in view in the publication of the book are to inspire the churches to efforts for another "Great Revival," and to suggest the means necessary to the enjoyment of such plentiful gifts of the Holy Spirit. Its wide circulation cannot fail to stimulate piety and arouse effort.

Diamond in the Cage.

No. 1125.

The Diamond in the Cage; or, Hours with the Children. By the Rev. J. E. ROCKWELL, D. D. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume is the result of many years' labor in behalf of children. Its author, as a pastor, has always endeavored to keep himself in communication with the youth of his flock by holding frequent Sabbath or weekly services with them. Many of the thoughts and illustrations of "The Diamond in the Cage" have thus been used in those pleasant "Hours with the Children."

Among the Lilies.

No. 1126.

Among the Lilies and Elsewhere with Jesus. Pleasant talks with the young on passages of Scripture. 16mo. Four Illustrations. By the Rev. CHARLES A. SMITH, D. D. (S. S. Lib.)

Dr. Smith carries his readers among the lilies, to the birds, the vine, the field, and holds pleasant converse with them whilst inculcating truths of high importance. By lively description and fresh illustration he renders his lessons pleasant as well as valuable.

A Summer by the Sea.

No. 1127.

A Summer by the Sea; or, Lilian Howard's Choice. By the author of "Forgiveness," "Honor Bright," etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Its readers, while spending with Lilian Howard "A Summer by the Sea," will enjoy society refined and elevating. They will find piety made attractive, and will learn that to do good to others is better than to live for self.

Gaffney's Tavern.

No. 1128.

Gaffney's Tavern, and the Entertainment it afforded. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "Money," "The Craythorns," etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This excellent temperance tale will inspire its readers with a fresh zeal for the suppression of those fountains of sin and woe, the dram-shops.

Neither Rome nor Judah.

No. 1129.

Neither Rome nor Judah. By ERNEST HOVEN, author of "The Man with Two Shadows," etc. 16mo.
Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The author carries us to Rome, and thence to Jerusalem, in the days following the death and ascension of our Lord. The Roman maiden and the Jewish youth seek after soul-rest, but they find it neither in the idolatry of Rome nor the formalism of Judah. Led onward, the truth breaks in upon them, and in Christ they gain the object of their desire.

Bible Work in Bible Lands.

No. 1130.

Bible Work in Bible Lands; or, Events in the History of the Syria Mission. By the Rev. ISAAC BIRD. With Map and twenty-three Illustrations. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A valuable contribution to the history of missions, by one of the first American workers in Palestine and Syria. It is a full and deeply interesting narrative of the replanting of the gospel in Bible lands by American Christians. Whilst it has a special interest for Presbyterians, who have a noble mission band laboring in Syria, it conveys facts that will be valued by all who desire an intelligent comprehension of the progress of the truth in the East.

Out of the Dark.

No. 1131.

Out of the Dark: The Story of Alice Leith's Experience. By the author of "Harold," "Jennie Graham," etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-delineated picture of the temptations of the young girl at home and of the young man at college, bringing out the truth that God's grace is needful for the salvation of sinful beings.

Chinks of Clannyford.

No. 1132.

Chinks of Clannyford. By KATE W. HAMILTON, author of "Shadow of the Rock," etc., etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

An excellent book for young or old, showing how much may be done by those who do not deem themselves equal to building great structures, by "helping along a little in what others are doing—filling up the chinks."

Through the Wilderness.

No. 1133.

Through the Wilderness. By MARY E. WILLARD.

16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

"Through the wilderness of sorrow and trouble lies the way to the Canaan of love, peace, joy and eternal rest," is the motto and the key to the book. It is the history of a minister's widow and children. Though giving scenes in time of civil war, its spirit is kindly and Christian.

Following the Master.

No. 1134.

Following the Master. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S.

S. Lib.)

This well-told story vividly illustrates the title of the narrative, Following the Master. The sore wants of sinning, sorrowing, suffering humanity in the great city (New York) are laid open, and laggard feet are led into walks of usefulness. Scenes graphically portrayed reveal the work to be done by Christian hands and hearts. In its style "Following the Master" is unusually sprightly, sharp and taking.

Trials and Trust.

No. 1135.

Trials and Trust. By T. A. B. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A story of the French Revolution.

The Open Door.

No. 1136.

The Open Door; or, Valera in Search of a Mission.

By JOSEPHINE N. POLLARD. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A narrative of actual experience from the pen of a well-known author.

Honest Jim Series.

No. 1137.

The Honest Jim Series. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Allan's Fault," "Rufus the Unready," etc.,

etc. Six volumes. 32mo. Twelve Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Little volumes, in very simple style, and for very young readers, from a practiced pen. The titles of the books are:

1. Honest Jim.	4. The Twin Babies.
2. Contented Jim.	5. Noll, the Beggar Boy.
3. How Jim did it.	6. Noll in the Country.

Archie and Pussy Stories.

No. 1138.

Archie and Pussy Stories. By MRS. MARY J. HILDEBURN, author of "The Craythorns," "Money," etc., etc. Six volumes. 32mo. Twelve Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Another series of books for our little friends that will entertain whilst instructing them with true stories. The volumes of the series are:

1. Archie and Pussy.	4. Mrs Lee and Bertie.
2. Little Mischief.	5. Uncle Hugh's Horse.
3. The New Sled.	6. Polly and her Friends.

The Wildfords in India.

No. 1139.

The Wildfords in India. By MRS. J. M. CHURCH, author of "Michael Graham," etc. 16mo. Six Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume carries its readers to Bombay, and gives them an insight into Hindoo life and missionary labors in Eastern India, whilst following the fortunes of "The Wildfords." It will certainly meet the approbation of those who desire books for the Sabbath-school that are instructive as well as interesting.

George Paull.

No. 1140.

George Paull, of Benita, West Africa. By the Rev. SAMUEL WILSON, D. D. 16mo. Six Illustrations and Steel Portrait. (S. S. Lib.)

The memoir of one greatly honored by God and early called to his reward. It has been prepared mainly for the young, with the earnest prayer that God's blessing may rest on all who read it. It will make Africa more real, and bring it nearer to the head and heart of the reader.

Trye's Year Among the Hindoos. No. 1141.

Trye's Year Among the Hindoos. By JULIA CARRIE THOMPSON, author of "Aspenridge," "Life in Narrow Streets," etc. 16mo. Twelve Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

Another volume on missions, tending to make them real and attractive.

Its aim is to place before the minds of its readers pictures of the North India of to-day, principally of its people, their religion and habits, the mission work among them and the great need of more laborers. Its map and numerous engravings add to its value as well as to its attractiveness.

Love Revealed. No. 1142.

Love Revealed. Meditations on the parting words of Jesus with his disciples, in chapters xiii., xiv., xv., xvi., xvii. of the Gospel by John. By the Rev. GEORGE BOWEN, of Bombay, author of "Daily Meditations." 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

To the lovers of experimental devotional reading who have used "Bowen's Daily Meditations," it will only be necessary to announce this fresh book from the same author, who has labored for thirty years in Bombay, a missionary of apostolic consecration and zeal. His "Daily Meditations" are admitted by men competent to judge to be of rare value, and this new volume from his pen is marked by the same characteristics.

Presbyterianism 300 Years Ago. No. 1143.

Presbyterianism Three Hundred Years Ago. By the Rev. WILLIAM P. BREED, D. D. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This valuable contribution to Presbyterian historical literature brings out in brief compass the historical features of the Reformation as it was three centuries ago, and especially in its relations to Presbyterianism. It should go into the hands of our teachers and older pupils in the Sabbath-school. Its perusal will help to beget some additional interest in our church system and history, at least in the minds and hearts of our younger Presbyterians.

Across the Desert.

No. 1144.

Across the Desert. A Life of Moses, with Maps and Illustrations. By the Rev. S. M. CAMPBELL, D. D. 12mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The author of this new book modestly says: "What the apostle Paul was to the Christian Church, that Moses was before him to the Church of the Old Testament times. The world needs a life of Moses corresponding in some good degree to the great work of Conybeare and Howson on the life of the apostle Paul. While we are waiting for such a production, however, it may be that a volume of smaller proportions and of less scholarly pretensions would be of service."

It is thoroughly readable, sprightly, vivacious and suggestive. Thirty-two engravings and maps add much to the beauty and value of the book.

Pray for your Children.

No. 1145.

Pray for your Children; An Appeal to Parents to Pray continually for the Welfare and Salvation of their Children. By the Rev. WILLIAM SCRIBNER. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The topic of which this book treats is of vital interest to so many persons that it cannot fail to have a wide circulation.

Tercentenary Book.

No. 1146.

The Tercentenary Book. A volume commemorative of the Completion of the Life and Work of John Knox, of the Huguenot Martyrs of France and the Establishment of Presbytery in England. 12mo. With Illustrations. (Cong. Lib.)

This memorial volume contains an account of the "Tercentenary Celebration" as observed by the Presbyterians of Philadelphia, November 20, 1872; the oration of Professor S. J. Wilson, D. D., LL.D., on John Knox; and the historical papers of the Rev. R. M. Patterson, on Presbyterianism in Philadelphia; of the Rev. J. B. Dales, D. D., on Presbyterianism in the United States; and of the Rev. James McCosh, D. D., LL.D., on Presbyterianism in Foreign Lands; with an Introduction by the Rev. Henry C. McCook, full of interesting facts and stimulating suggestions. The book is handsomely illustrated with descriptive wood engravings, and is one that should be read by all Presbyterians in the United States who prize the faith and order of their Church.

The Communion Table.

No. 1147.

The Communion Table: The Approach—The Service—The Retrospect. By the Rev. JAMES R. BOYD, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

To Christians who would quicken the pulse of spiritual life when coming to the Lord's table the book will prove a welcome helper. The gift of a copy to those first professing faith in Christ would be most appropriate and helpful.

Thoughts on the Decalogue.

No. 1148.

Thoughts on the Decalogue. By the Rev. HOWARD

CROSBY, D. D., LL. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This discussion of the extent, import and permanency of the "Ten Words" given by God on Sinai will prove valuable at this time, when lax views on this subject are so prevalent, even within the Christian Church, and so much more widespread without its bounds. The positive thought and straightforward yet reverent style of the author will commend the book to the attention of many who are not wont to be attracted by discussions on so old, even though so vital, a theme.

Story of Madagascar.

No. 1149.

The Story of Madagascar. By the Rev. JOHN W. MEARS, D. D., author of the "Beggars of Holland," "The Martyrs of France," etc., etc. 16mo. Eleven Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The "Story of Madagascar," with all the interest of a romance, is but the narrative of the facts of God's wonderful work in that imperial island. The latest developments of the spread of Christianity there form a splendid contrast to the dark days in which its power was shown in the faithfulness unto fetters and death of its early martyrs. Eleven engravings add to the attractiveness of the book, which is one of more than ordinary value.

Parsonage in the Hartz.

No. 1150.

The Parsonage in the Hartz. Translated and adapted from the German, by Mrs. CORNELIA MCFADDEN. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A truly German tale, all alive with German thought, feeling and action, and unfolding phases of daily life and spiritual conflict striking to the American reader. It brings out the thought that the Christian heart lives in a supreme devotion to Christ as the Lord and centre of the believer's soul. Love and marriage enter into the current of the story, but they are tributary to this idea, and to that of implicit submission to the orderings of an all-wise God.

Which is the Apostolic Church?

No. 1151.

Which is the Apostolic Church? By the Rev. THOMAS WITHEROW, D. D., Professor of Church History, Londonderry, Ireland. Edited and annotated by the Rev. R. M. PATTERSON. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This admirably compact and convincing book goes directly to the Scriptures with the inquiry as to the form of church government there taught. Then it asks what modern church most largely embodies those principles in its government, and thus is nearest to the apostolic Church. Valuable notes have been added by the Rev. Robert M. Patterson of Philadelphia.

Inlets and Outlets.

No. 1152.

Inlets and Outlets. Familiar Talks about the Five Senses. By the Rev. CHARLES A. SMITH, D. D., author of "Among the Lilies," etc., etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The "inlets and outlets" by which the soul holds intercourse with the outer world are the five senses. In this attractive volume the organs of sense, their structure and uses, are so brought to the apprehension of young readers as to interest whilst instructing them. Fiction has its place, but fact is better.

Presbyterian Digest.

No. 1153.

The Presbyterian Digest. A Compend of the Acts and Deliverances of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. Compiled by the order and authority of the General Assembly. By the Rev. WILLIAM E. MOORE, D. D. With full Syllabus and Alphabetical Index. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

The Presbyterian Church will recognize in this Digest both the intelligence and the scrupulous fidelity to truth of its compiler. Its arrangement is luminous, while the Syllabus of Contents with which it opens, and the Alphabetical Index with which it closes, add immensely to its value as a book of reference. It should be owned not only by the Synods and Presbyteries, but by each Session of the Presbyterian Church.

Little Lights.

No. 1154.

Little Lights, and How they Shone. 18mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A pleasant book for the home and the Sabbath-school, telling the story of an industrial school in the city of New York. Its pupils, guided by their teacher, out of their deep poverty secured money that they might give for the enlightenment of others.

Paradise.

No. 1155.

Paradise. The Place and State of Saved Souls between Death and the Resurrection. By the Rev. R. M. PATTERSON. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume has already met a gratifying welcome from the public. Sound and scriptural in its views, clear in its style and cheering in its tone, it strengthens the reader while instructing him as to the state of the blessed in the mansions prepared for them by Christ. It has a special value to those from whom loved ones have been taken to the better land. It discusses the word "Paradise" and the place; its inhabitants and locality; the state of souls in Paradise, and their employments; their holiness, happiness and home-life.

Christian Love.

No. 1156.

Christian Love, as manifested in the Heart and Life. By JONATHAN EDWARDS. Edited from the original manuscript by the Rev. TRYON EDWARDS, D. D. 16mo.

(Cong. Lib.)

This volume consists of a series of sixteen lectures on the "Charity" depicted by Paul in the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians. They were first preached by President Edwards in 1738, and were written out in full, apparently for publication. After his death they were selected for publication by Drs. Hopkins and Bellamy, but did not see the light until 1851, when they were edited by Dr. Tryon Edwards. The plates having been put into the hands of the Board of Publication, the book is sent forth anew on its mission of love.

"Had I seen this noble work of Edwards before I published on the same subject," says John Angell James, "I should hardly have allowed my work (Christian Charity Explained) to go to press. It is admirable, every word of it."

Farmer Tompkins and his Bibles. No. 1157.

Farmer Tompkins and his Bibles. By the Rev. WILLIS J. BEECHER, D. D., Professor of the Hebrew Language and Literature in Auburn Theological Seminary. 16mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a book in an original vein. Under the garb of a pleasing narrative, it discusses questions of vital importance with regard to the Bible, and meets prevailing forms of doubt and skepticism as to the inspiration, credibility and authenticity of the Scriptures. Farmer Tompkins, with his "Biblearium," is a character that impresses itself upon the reader vividly. His plain method of dealing with some of the most important departments of biblical criticism will prove of value to the ordinary reader.

Preparing to Teach. No. 1158.

Preparing to Teach. A Normal Class Book for study by Sabbath-school Teachers and for use in Training-classes. 12mo. With Map and Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume is a contribution to the elevation of that important department of church-work the teaching in our Sabbath-schools. Noble as is the zeal and devoted as is the labor of faithful teachers, there can be no question of their need of instruction in order to their highest usefulness. To aid them in their efforts after fitness for their duties this book has been published. It consists of five parts:

1. Bible Evidences. By the Rev. John Hall, D. D.
2. Ceremonial Institutes. By the Rev. Edward P. Humphrey, D. D.
3. Bible History, Geography and Archæology. By the Rev. W. H. Green, D. D.
4. Summary of Christian Doctrine. By the Rev. Francis L. Patton, D. D.
5. How to Teach the Bible. By J. Bennet Tyler.

God's Rule for Christian Giving. No. 1159.

God's Rule for Christian Giving. A practical essay on the Science of Christian Economy. By the Rev. WILLIAM SPEER, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author of this really elaborate discussion, first, of the "divine gift of money," and then of "the divine rule for the Christian use of money," has been led to its preparation by the fact that the work of the Church is ever dragged to the earth by the want of that which Christians in America have in abundance to give.

The Dawn of Light. No. 1160.

The Dawn of Light; a Story of the Zenana Mission. By MARY E. LESLIE. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This lifelike picture of Christian labor in the Hindoo home is drawn by a voluntary laborer in mission work in Bengal. Her personal contact with respectable Bengalee families has enabled her to depict with truth the habits and wants of Hindoo ladies.

The Peddler of La Grave. No. 1161.

The Peddler of La Grave. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Allan's Fault," "Rufus the Unready," etc., etc. 18mo. Three Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This true tale of three hundred years ago has its scene in the Cottian Alps. It traces the history of a Waldensian family, the arrest of the father, his martyrdom, and the flight of his bereaved family to Geneva. Let it be read that we may know the sorrows of God's saints, and imitate their fidelity to the truth, if spared their sufferings.

Mr. Warner's Household. No. 1162.

Mr. Warner's Household. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Parents will find Mr. Warner a model in the training of children, and the young will read the story of his household with pleasure.

Alice Dunbar.

No. 1163.

Alice Dunbar; a Story of the Times of John Knox.

By LUCY SPOTTSWOOD. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Many of the incidents and characters in this interesting book are life-like and true, and much of the history of those times of papal persecution is skillfully interwoven.

How to Teach the Little Folks.

No. 1164.

How to Teach the Little Folks. I. The Primary Department. By J. BENNET TYLER. II. Methods in the Class. By MRS. G. R. ALDEN. III. How to Teach an Infant Class. By FAITH LATIMER. IV. Methods in Mission Schools. By MRS. GEORGE PARTRIDGE. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A little manual containing suggestions on the management and teaching of primary Sabbath-school classes.

Deacon Gibbs' Enemy.

No. 1165.

Deacon Gibbs' Enemy. By MRS. A. K. DUNNING (Nellie Grahame), author of "Mr. Wallingford's Mistake," "The Stepmother's Recompense," etc. 16mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

This is a well-conceived, well-written temperance tale. Honest Deacon Gibbs has a subtle foe—a foe not recognized in his insidious movements. The deacon's boys, lacking their father's powers of resistance, fall before the treacherous enemy. The source of the sorrows that come upon the family is revealed at length, but too late to arrest the evils already inflicted.

Word Pictures.

No. 1166.

Word Pictures. By E. B. M. 6 vols. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

No. 1. Lou Benton's Thanksgivgiving. | No. 2. Uncle Jed's Experiment.

No. 3. The Golden Cluster.No. 4. Grandmamma's
Story-book.*No. 5. Building Blocks.*No. 6. Lou's Neighbor.

Pleasant narratives for readers of the younger class—say those from seven to ten years of age.

Presbyterians and the Revolution. No. 1167.

Presbyterians and the Revolution. By the Rev. WM.

P. BREED, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Breed here presents the relations of Presbyterians and Presbyterianism to the Revolution which, one hundred years ago, gave the United States a place among the independent nations of the earth. The record is one well fitted to awaken the gratitude of Presbyterians for the part taken by their forefathers in those heroic times and deeds.

Leaves and Fruit. No. 1168.

Leaves and Fruit. By M. E. GRIFFITH, author of "Boys at Eastwick." 16mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

It contrasts the steady progress of a conscientious boy, who perseveres in all that he undertakes, with the failures of a friend, brilliantly gifted but unstable.

Grace Westervelt. No. 1169.

Grace Westervelt; or, The Children of the Covenant.

A Sequel to Theodore. 16mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

In "Theodore" the author gave a masterly reply to the Baptist novel "Theodosia Ernest," as to the mode of baptism. In the present volume the same characters will be found, and infant baptism is discussed—its author, benefits and office in the Church. It is a strong book, and full of interest. It should be in every Presbyterian family.

Wat Adams. No. 1170.

Wat Adams, the Young Machinist, and his Proverbs.

By Mrs. MARY D. R. BOYD, author of "Stepping-Stones over the Brook," etc. 16mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A book for boys. Wat is a wise little fellow, always quoting proverbs and getting the sobriquet of "Old Proverbs" from his companions. But his proverbs stand him in good stead. He fears God, works hard and gains success. It is an instructive book.

Pewit's Nest Series.

No. 1171.

Pewit's Nest Series, twelve little books for the youngest readers. By MARTHA FARQUHARSON, author of "Allan's Faults," "Rufus the Unready," etc., etc. 32mo. With Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

1. Pewit's Nest.	7. Harry and his Chickens.
2. Harry's Fourth of July.	8. Aunt Kitty's Fowls.
3. Harry's Ride.	9. Harry's Grandma.
4. Harry's Walks.	10. Rose and Robbie.
5. Harry's Little Sister.	11. Harry at Aunt Jane's.
6. Harry's Christmas.	12. Harry and his Cousins.

Boys at Eastwick.

No. 1172.

Boys at Eastwick. By M. E. GRIFFITH, author of "Leaves and Fruit." 16mo. Illustrated. (S. S. Lib.)

In an attractive style this volume brings into strong relief the hatefulness of deceit in a boy, its tendency to draw the deceiver deeper and deeper into the meshes of sin, and to involve him in trouble and ruin at last unless it be forsaken and repented.

Centennial Historical Discourses.

No. 1173.

Centennial Historical Discourses, delivered in the city of Philadelphia by appointment of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America; with the Moderator's sermon before the General Assembly of 1876. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This valuable volume embraces five papers, prepared respectively by the Rev. Doctors A. T. M'Gill, S. M. Hopkins, S. J. Wilson, E. P. Humphrey and E. D. Morris, and covering the entire period from the foundation of the Church to the present time.

Eyes and Ears.

No. 1174.

Eyes and Ears; or, How to See and Hear. By Aunt Yewrownckie. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

One of the best books for the young issued by the Board. It combines vivacity of style with a thorough discussion of the anatomy and physiology of our "eyes and ears" and the inculcation of sound religious instruction. It is fully illustrated, and is heartily commended for reading in the family and Sabbath-school library.

Witherspoon.

No. 1175.

Witherspoon. Proceedings and Addresses at the Laying of the Corner-stone and at the Unveiling of the Statue of John Witherspoon, in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia. Compiled by the Rev. William P. Breed, D. D. With steel-plate likeness of Dr. Witherspoon and wood-cut of the statue. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The "Higher Life" Doctrine.

No. 1176.

The "Higher Life" Doctrine of Sanctification, Tried by the Word of God. By the Rev. Henry A. Boardman, D. D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The views of the "higher life" teachers are presented fairly and fully, are candidly discussed, and their errors clearly pointed out. It was written at the request of the Board, and in the clear and graceful style which characterizes all the productions of the author, whose last work it was.

Manual of Forms.

No. 1177.

Manual of Forms for Baptism, Admission to the Communion, Administration of the Lord's Supper, Marriage and Funerals; Conformed to the Doctrine and Discipline of the Presbyterian Church. By Archibald Alexander Hodge, D. D. 16mo. (Min. Lib.)

A convenient hand-book for the use of pastors.

We Three.

No. 1178.

We Three. By Kate W. Hamilton. 16mo. with illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

In this book the fortunes of three brothers are graphically sketched. Perseverance, patience, industry and courage are made conspicuous as elements of success, and God's love in the heart as the source of these good traits. The danger from gay companions and the intoxicating cup forms a sad background to the picture, yet relieved by light at eventide.

Pastoral Theology.

No. 1179.

Pastoral Theology. The Pastor in the various Duties of his Office. By the Rev. Thomas Murphy, D. D., Pastor of Frankford Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. With full Index. 8vo. (Min. Lib.)

In this volume Dr. Murphy gives the results of a long experience. Few pastors are there who may not gather some important suggestions from it, whilst to the young pastor it will furnish many valuable hints. In addition to his personal experience and observation, Dr. Murphy, when preparing for the ministry, enjoyed the privilege of listening to lectures and familiar conversations on the character, duties and responsibilities of the pastoral office by the Rev. Dr. Archibald Alexander. Dr. Murphy took copious notes of these lectures, and has been enabled by them to enrich his pages. He also quotes judiciously from writers of excellence on topics bearing upon his theme, seeking to give what will be of positive value.

The Sunbeam Book.

No. 1180.

The Sunbeam Book for 1875 and 1876. Square 8vo. Profusely Illustrated. (S. S. Lib.)

With its bright pictures and its easy readings in prose and verse, it makes a charming book for any family in which children form a part.

Visions of Heaven.

No. 1181.

Visions of Heaven for the Life on Earth. By the Rev. R. M. Patterson, D. D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This volume exhibits the revelations of the Bible, in reference to the life of the redeemed on earth and in heaven, under the headings of The Redemption-work of Christ, The Number of the Redeemed, The Devotional Life, The Social Life, The Active Life, The Æsthetic Life. Dr. Patterson's style is vigorous and clear, his thoughts sharply defined, and the whole tendency of his books elevating and stimulating.

Light for the Day.

No. 1182.

Light for the Day; or, Heavenly Thoughts for Earthly Guidance. A book of Daily Readings for a Year. By the Rev. Tryon Edwards, D.D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is a daily monitor, leading the reader to question himself, and apply the truths of a chosen text to his own heart and life. It also gives choice thoughts from others, in prose and verse, to quicken his meditations.

Consequences.

No. 1183.

Consequences; or, A Bowl of Punch, and What Came of It. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An effective temperance tale, by one of our most popular writers for the young. It paints in vivid colors the mischief that flowed from opening the way to a taste for intoxicating drinks.

Jennie Prindle's Home.

No. 1184.

By the author of "Paul Brewster and Son," "The Broken Fuchsia," etc. Two Illustrations. 18mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A bright narrative, telling of the reform of an ill-ordered household through the agency of two little girls.

Outside the Gate.

No. 1185.

Outside the Gate. By the author of "A Basket of Barley Loaves," "Sacramental Sabbaths," etc. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-written book, clear and sprightly in style, showing by the story of the experiences of a bright colored boy how to enter in at the gate.

Silas Gower's Daughters.

No. 1186.

• Silas Gower's Daughters. By Annette Lucille Noble.
16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

In "Silas Gower's Daughters" we have an illustration of the little leaven leavening the lump. Into a rough, selfish home comes the influence of the gospel, first touching a sensitive girl, and then reaching, one after another, every member of the household.

Rambles among Insects.

No. 1187.

Rambles among Insects. By the Rev. Samuel Findley, D. D. Seventy Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This volume will open a new world to readers, old as well as young. The author introduces them to near neighbors, of whose wonderful lives and deeds they now have little idea. Whilst popularizing his theme so as to interest the young, he has sought scientific accuracy in every statement, and for this purpose has had his work carefully examined by an eminent entomologist. Lessons of thrift, courage, forethought and piety are ingeniously drawn from the habits of insects and applied with pertinency.

The New Life not the Higher Life.

No. 1188.

The New Life not the Higher Life; or, The Believer's Holiness, Personal and Progressive. By the Rev. A. W. Pitzer, D. D. 18mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Dr. Pitzer discusses his topic—the all-important one of growth in holiness—with acuteness, force and evangelical warmth, and from a purely scriptural standpoint. He shows that the Christian life delineated in the Bible is a new life to sinful man and a life of progress in personal holiness, to be consummated in perfect conformity to Christ.

"These Little Ones."

No. 1189.

"These Little Ones." What God has commanded touching their Church membership, and what he has graciously promised concerning their salvation. By the Rev. William Scribner. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

Few topics more need the study of the ministry and of parents. We commend Mr. Scribner's volume to both of these classes.

Notes on the Shorter Catechism. No. 1190.

Notes on the Shorter Catechism. By the Rev. Alfred Nevin, D.D. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Dr. Nevin condenses into 336 pages a great amount of analysis, exposition, biblical reference and illustration, all throwing light upon the text of the Shorter Catechism. We commend the volume especially to the attention of pastors and Sabbath-school workers.

Feeding on Christ. No. 1191.

Feeding on Christ. The Soul's Hungering and Thirsting, and its Satisfaction. By the Rev. William P. Breed, D.D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

A delightful devotional book, filled—as good devotional books must be—with sound doctrine. The Saviour's beatitude, "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled," is the keynote of the volume. The very essence of personal piety is here given in the tenderest and best manner.

Daisy and her Friends. No. 1192.

A charming picture of child-life.

Old Portmanteau. No. 1193.

Old Portmanteau. By Kate W. Hamilton. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A well-told temperance tale. The author impressively shows the efficacy of the religion of the cross in conquering the vice of intemperance and thoroughly reforming the inebriate.

The Life and Times of John Huss. No. 1194.

The Life and Times of John Huss; or, The Bohemian Reformation of the Fifteenth Century. By the Rev. E. H. Gillett, D.D., late Professor of Political Science in the University of New York. In two volumes, octavo. (Cong. Lib.)

A new edition, carefully revised, with important additions and an appendix. These volumes were popular on their first appearance; with the improvements now made in them they will be still more so. It is a luxury to read such large, clear and beautiful typography. Dr. Gillett's style is forcible and lucid. John Huss and Jerome of Prague were among the foremost and the noblest of martyrs for the truth of God, and their names and memories should be carefully preserved and transmitted to our children's children to the latest generation.

Scotch and Irish Seeds.

No. 1195.

Scotch and Irish Seeds in American Soil: The Early History of the Scotch and Irish Churches, and their Relations to the Presbyterian Church of America. By the Rev. J. G. Craighead, D.D. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

It shows the indebtedness of the American Presbyterian Church to the churches of Scotland and Ireland for the elements which entered into its original constitution, as also for its subsequent rapid growth and influence.

A Good Name a Goodly Heritage.

No. 1196.

A Good Name a Goodly Heritage. By Mrs. Mary D. R. Boyd. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A capital book for young men. It illustrates its motto by the contrasted courses of two young men, one of whom attained honor and usefulness by walking in right paths, while the other, by his evil courses, brought disgrace upon himself and sorrow upon his parents and friends.

Heroes of Bohemia.

No. 1197.

Heroes of Bohemia—Huss, Jerome and Zisca. By the Rev. John W. Mears, D. D., author of "Beggars of Holland," etc. With Map. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Dr. Mears is well known by his former works on kindred subjects, and this volume fully sustains his reputation as a careful, painstaking collector of historic facts and a graphic delineator of scenes and character. We know no other work that gives within so short a compass so much that is really valuable in the lives of the three heroes whose names stand on the title-page.

Home Worship.

No. 1198

Home Worship: A Series of Topical Prayers for Use in the Family Circle. By the late James W. Weir, of Harrisburg, Pa. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The author was eminently a man of prayer, and his prayers were always models enriched with Scripture thought and language. Those contained in this volume may be called "studies in prayer." They are not "forms" for use in public or private, but are intended to guide and help the reader by suggesting trains of thought and modes of expression in prayer.

The Pet Series.

No. 1199.

The Pet Series: six volumes. With Illustrations. (S. Lib.) By Mrs. Mary J. Hildeburn, viz.:

1. The White Rabbits.
2. Gertie's Doll, and What became of It.
3. Baby Gracie at the Seaside.
4. Bessie's Birds.
5. Mary's Doll and her Young Mistress.
6. Doll Flora, and how She became a Blessing to Two Little Girls.

This series is intended specially for very young children.

The Sunrise Kingdom.

No. 1200.

The Sunrise Kingdom; or, Life and Scenes in Japan, and Woman's Work for Woman there. By Mrs. D. Carrothers. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A picture of seven years of missionary life in Japan. The author had unusual opportunities of gaining access to the homes and hearts of this interesting people, and diligently improved them. Her book contains much that is new and valuable concerning their social, intellectual, moral and religious character and the recent improvements that have been introduced among them.

The Literary Attractions of the Bible. No. 1201.

The Literary Attractions of the Bible. By the Rev. L. J. Halsey, D. D., Professor in the Theological Seminary of the North-west. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This is a volume of sterling merit, and well worthy the careful study of all lovers of the Bible.

Westminster Normal Class Outlines. No. 1202.

Westminster Normal Class Outlines. Junior Course.
By the Rev. James A. Worden. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This is the first volume of a series for the use of Sabbath-school normal classes. It contains outlines of twenty-six lessons, each of which gives an analysis of some theme of biblical study, together with a suggestive sketch of some topic related to the aim or method of Sabbath-school teaching.

The Sabbath Month. No. 1203.

The Sabbath Month. Devotional Thoughts for Young Mothers. By Louise Seymour Houghton. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

This charmingly-written manual for those who have just become mothers, during their "Sabbath month," is from one who is herself a "joyful mother of many children." It contains thirty-one comforting and instructive meditations which will prove grateful to many.

The Model Christian Worker. No. 1204.

The Model Christian Worker, John Potter. By the Rev. William P. Breed, D. D. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

An interesting biography of John Potter, for many years a colporteur of the American Tract Society, and subsequently missionary of the Presbyterian Board of Publication and of a church in Philadelphia.

Bessie and I. No. 1205.

Bessie and I. By Lilian F. Wells. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

The story of two girls in somewhat different circumstances who formed for one another a strong attachment. School-girls will learn from this book how to bear some of their trials more patiently and how to perform their duties more faithfully.

Finding Jesus.

No. 1206.

Finding Jesus, and Johnny's Vacation. By Miss E. P. Strong. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This book contains two narratives. The first is an account of an ignorant circus-boy who heard of Jesus, and, thinking that he could relieve his troubles, set out to find him. The second relates the adventures of a boy during his school-vacation in the country.

Now and Then.

No. 1207.

Now and Then at Daisy Dingle Farm. By Meade Middleton. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

A series of interesting Sunday talks with the children of a household in the country, which other children, as well as grown people, may read with profit.

Mohammedan Missionary Problem.

No. 1208.

The Mohammedan Missionary Problem. By the Rev. Henry H. Jessup, D. D., of Beirut. With Map. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

It will not be questioned that Dr. Jessup has especial qualifications for the discussion of the problem as to the giving of the gospel to the Moslem. He details the features of Mohammedanism unfavorable to the spread of Christianity, and those favorable, and throws much light upon a subject eminently important yet little understood.

Vagabond and Victor.

No. 1209.

Vagabond and Victor. The Story of David Sheldon. By Kate W. Hamilton. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

This tale faithfully illustrates the steps by which intemperance drags a man down physically, mentally and morally, yet shows also that there is hope for those far gone in the downward road.

Twelve Noble Men.

No. 1210.

Twelve Noble Men. By Mrs. Julia McNair Wright. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In this volume, intended for the younger class of Sabbath-school scholars, Mrs. Wright gives bright sketches of twelve men bearing themselves nobly in very different stations and callings in life.

Chumbo's Hut.

No. 1211.

Chumbo's Hut; or, The Laguna School. By Mrs. Margaret Hosmer. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

"Miss Herbert" gives in this book the story of her connection with the Laguna School in the neighborhood of San Francisco, the difficulties and discouragements which she had to meet and the success that rewarded her persevering efforts. It is well written, and shows that workers for Christ shall reap in due season if they faint not.

Week-day Religion.

No. 1212.

Week-day Religion. By the Rev. James Russell Miller. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

In a series of thirty-two chapters the author presses upon Christians, and especially young Christians, such points as "Help for Hurried Week-days," "Religion in the Home," "The Marriage Altar and After," "Weariness in Well-doing," "Books and Reading," "Personal Beauty," etc. The style of these chapters is such as to attract as well as instruct. It is a good book for distribution.

The Westminster Bible Dictionary.

No. 1213.

The Westminster Bible Dictionary. Prepared for the Board by the Rev. Thomas J. Shepherd, D. D. 8vo. 194 Illustrations, 6 Colored Maps.

Our Sabbath-school workers will be pleased to know that the Board has published a Bible Dictionary specifically adapted to their wants. Its title, "Westminster Bible Dictionary," is a key to its construction. It is a Bible Dictionary, including (with a very few exceptions) only words in our authorized English version of the Scriptures; and it also treats, with entire freedom of statement, the words which underlie the faith and order of the Christian churches, such as Baptism, Bishop, Elder, Election, Predestination. Presbyterianism finds abundant support of its faith and order in a faithful exposition of Bible terms. The work was entrusted by the Board of Publication to the Rev. Thomas J. Shepherd, D. D., who has devoted to it much study and patient, as well as skillful, labor. Numerous engravings and maps especially engraved for the book furnish valuable illustration to the text of the work, which, we venture to say, condenses more of the results of ancient and modern scholarship than can elsewhere be found in the same space.

The Chinese Slave Girl.

No. 1214.

The Chinese Slave Girl. A Story of Woman's Life in China. By the Rev. J. A. Davis, formerly of Amoy, China. With Illustrations. 16mo. (S. S. Lib.)

Though not literally a "true story," the chief incidents of this narrative are actual occurrences; the characters are taken from real life, and the customs are such as prevail in Southern China. Its object is to give a fair view of woman's life in the middle and lower classes of that remarkable people. It is so graphic in detail and so interesting in incident that it is sure to be both popular and useful.

The House that Jack Built.

No. 1215.

The House that Jack Built. By Kate W. Hamilton. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

A wisely-told temperance tale, in which an orphaned family, by adding liquor-selling to the business of a country store, increase its business, but at a fearful cost to seller and buyer.

Elijah, the Favored Man.

No. 1216.

Elijah, the Favored Man. By the Rev. Robert M. Paterson, D. D., author of "Paradise," "Visions of Heaven," etc. 16mo. (Cong. Lib.)

The lessons of the life of that "favored man," Elijah, are here made to tell upon the actions and interests of the men of the present day.

Five Women of England.

No. 1217.

Five Women of England. By Meade Middleton. 16mo. Four Illustrations. (S. S. Lib.)

The author presents in vivacious and conversational style the stories of five women who should be known to our young people—Ann and Jane Taylor, Mrs. Sherwood, Hannah More and Mrs. Elizabeth Fry.

The Ride through Palestine.

In press.

The Ride through Palestine. By John W. Dulles, D. D. 12mo. Fully Illustrated. (S. S. Lib.)

A book for popular reading, especially by the young, in which the narrative of a personal tour through Palestine is made to throw light upon the Bible and to give reality to its history and teachings. Numerous illustrations aid the text in bringing the Holy Land as it is to the reader's apprehension.

The Parables of Jesus.

In press.

The Parables of Jesus. By the Rev. Alfred Nevin, D. D., LL.D. 12mo. (Cong. Lib.)

From Exile to Overthrow.

In press.

From Exile to Overthrow: A History of the Jews from the Babylonian Captivity to the Destruction of the Second Temple. By the Rev. John W. Mears, D. D.

Teacher's Commentary.

Series 3 and 4.

The Teacher's Commentary on the Gospel Narrative of the Last Days of Jesus. By the Rev. HENRY C. MCCOOK.
12mo. With Index, Maps and Illustrations.

These companion volumes are designed to aid teachers in the Sabbath-school and the family. The arrangement of the different Gospel narratives generally accords with the Harmony of Dr. Edward Robinson. The Historical Connection, Analysis and Questions, as well as the Notes, will be found practical, suggestive and stimulating. The complete indexes, together with the maps and illustrations, add much to the value of the volumes.

BIBLICAL HELPS.

Cruden's Concordance.

A Complete Concordance to the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. By ALEXANDER CRUDEN, A. M. Royal 8vo. Unabridged.

Coleman's Historical Text-Book and Atlas.

The Historical Text-Book and Atlas of Biblical Geography. By the Rev. LYMAN COLEMAN, D. D. Containing seven colored maps and full letter-press instructions on the Geography and History of the Bible. The maps are :

CATECHISMS.

Green's Lectures on Shorter Catechism.	No. 86.
Fisher's Catechism.	No. 163.
Vincent's Shorter Catechism.	No. 409.
Illustrations of Shorter Catechism.	No. 774.
Boyd's Catechism.	No. 996.

Larger Catechism.

The Larger Catechism of the Westminster Assembly.

With Proofs from the Scriptures. 18mo.

The Larger Catechism is usually bound up with the Confession of Faith, and is seldom found in a separate form; but as advanced classes may wish to commit it to memory as a fuller summary of divine truth than the Shorter Catechism, it has been bound in a neat little volume for their use.

Shorter Catechism.

The Shorter Catechism of the Westminster Assembly.

32mo.

Shorter Catechism with Proofs and Notes.

The Shorter Catechism of the Westminster Assembly.

With Proofs from the Scriptures, Analysis and Notes.

A form of the Catechism well adapted for use in families and Sabbath-schools.

Each point in the answer is first distinctly stated and then established by appropriate proof-texts.

Hall's Catechism.

The Shorter Catechism of the Westminster Assembly.
With Analysis and Scripture Proofs. By EDWIN HALL,
D D. 18mo.

The Analysis is very complete, and, being in the very words of the text, furnishes essential help to the memory. The answers are proved and illustrated by abundant quotations from the Holy Scriptures. It ought to be in the hand of every member of the Church, of every teacher in the Sabbath-school and of every pastor.

Boyd's Child's Book on the Shorter Catechism.

Forming an easy introduction and help for understanding that work and committing it to memory. 18mo.

Catechetical Assistant.

Catechetical Assistant for the Use of Parents and Sabbath-School Teachers. Containing,

1. A Catechism for Young Children Introductory to the Shorter Catechism.
2. The Shorter Catechism of the Westminster Assembly.
3. The Child's Catechism of Scripture History, in two parts. Muslin. 32mo.

What we are to Believe.

The first thirty-four questions of the Shorter Catechism, with Proof-Texts, for Use in Infant Classes and Sunday-Schools. 32mo. Paper.

Catechism for Young Children.

Catechism for Young Children. Being an Introduction to the Shorter Catechism. Written for the Presbyterian Board of Publication. 32mo.

Incomparably the best Catechism for young children. It has been translated into several languages, and nearly a million copies put into use. It was prepared by the late Joseph P. Engles, Esq.

Four Catechisms.

Four Catechisms. Containing "The Shorter Catechism," with Analysis and Proofs; "Watts' Historical Catechisms;" "A Catechism for Young Children;" "Prayers and Hymns." 18mo. Paper.

Catechism of Scripture History.

The Child's Catechism of Scripture History. 4 vols. 18mo.

Vol. I. Genesis to Numbers.

Vol. II. Deuteronomy, Joshua and Judges.

Vol. III. From the Accession of David to the Death of Jehoshaphat.

Vol. IV. From the Death of Jehoshaphat to the end of the Old Testament.

The volumes may be purchased separately. It is an excellent compend of Scripture history, which should be found in every Sabbath-school and Christian family in our Church.

Church Catechism.

Church Catechism. By Rev. B. B. HOTCHKIN. For Children and Youth in the Presbyterian Church. 18mo. Paper.

Catechism of Pres. Gov'tment and Discipline.

A Catechism of the Government and Discipline of the Presbyterian Church. 18mo.

Well adapted to instruct the young in the peculiar and distinguishing doctrines and practices of our Church.

The Pastor's Catechism.

The Presbyterian Pastor's Catechism. 18mo.

This Catechism is intended by the compiler to be located on the simple and definite line of self-defence. It makes no unfriendly mention of any body of Protestant Christians. It declares what views we entertain, and gives "a reason with meekness" in answer to the captious question, "Why are you a Presbyterian?"

Communicant's Catechism.

Plain Catechetical Instruction for Young Communicants. Designed to assist them in forming scriptural views of the Lord's Supper. With an Address to Young Persons not yet Communicants, and a Few Meditations and Helps for Self-Examination. By the Rev. JOHN BARR, of Glasgow. 18mo.

A well-written and instructive little work, which will be found particularly serviceable to young communicants.

Protestant Catechism.

The Leading Errors of the Church of Rome Exposed and Refuted. 18mo.

Comprehensive Scripture Catechism.

By Rev. W. C. DANA, D.D. A Catechism presenting a summary of Christian doctrine in the very words of the Scriptures.

QUESTION BOOKS.

Jacobus' Questions.

The Catechetical Question Book. By the Rev. MELANTHON W. JACOBUS, D. D. 18mo.

Matthew. 1 vol.

Mark. 1 vol.

Luke. 1 vol.

John. 1 vol.

Acts. 1 vol.

Genesis. 1 vol.

These volumes are suitable accompaniments to the author's commentaries. They have this peculiarity, which should recommend them to Presbyterians, that they incorporate, in proper places, the whole of the Shorter Catechism.

Hodge's Questions on Romans.

Questions on the Epistle to the Romans. Designed for Bible classes and Sabbath-schools. By the Rev. CHARLES HODGE, D. D. 18mo.

These questions are accommodated to the author's Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans. They are too well known and too widely used to need any commendation.

Janeway's Questions.

An Exposition of the Acts of the Apostles. In the form of Questions and Answers. Designed for Bible classes, Associations and Country Congregations. By the Rev. J. J. JANEWAY, D. D. 18mo. Parts I and II.

An Exposition of the Epistle to the Romans. In the form of Questions and Answers. Designed for Sabbath-schools and Bible classes. 18mo.

An Exposition of the Epistle to the Hebrews. In the form of Questions and Answers. Designed for Sabbath-schools and Bible classes. 18mo.

For Sabbath-schools and Bible classes these books are a valuable aid. The author may be safely relied upon as judicious, instructive and uniformly orthodox.

Weed's Questions on the Confession of Faith.

Questions on the Confession of Faith and Form of Government of the Presbyterian Church. With a Selection of Scripture Proofs. Designed for the instruction of classes in the doctrines of said Church. By the Rev. HENRY R. WEED, D. D. 18mo.

Lessons for the Little Ones.

Lessons for the Little Ones. Adapted to use in the family, the infant school and the younger classes of Sabbath-schools. By Mrs. MARY J. HILDEBURN.

Bible Lessons on Palestine.

Bible Lessons on Palestine. By the Rev. WM. P.

BREED, D. D. 18mo.

Forty-two lessons for Bible classes on the most important and interesting characteristics of the Holy Land.

Church of Christ.

The Church of Christ: its Constitution and Order. A Manual for the Instruction of Families, Sabbath-schools and Bible classes. By the Rev. SAMUEL J. BAIRD, D. D. 18mo.

This little work is highly recommended by eminent representative men in the several branches of the Presbyterian Church. It is sound, able and thorough, with ample Scripture references to establish its teachings.

Questions on the Shorter Catechism.

Questions on the Shorter Catechism. With an Alphabetical Table of Definitions. Designed to Aid in the Work of Catechetical Instruction. By the Rev. JOHN DICKEY. 18mo.

A series of valuable questions upon the successive answers of the Shorter Catechism. It is constructed very much on the plan of Fisher's Catechism, over which it has a great advantage in compactness and cheapness.

Westminster Question Book.

The Westminster Question Book. International Series. A Manual for Teachers and older Scholars. By the Rev. WILLARD M. RICE, D. D.

The Westminster Question Book is published annually as a link in the chain of Bible study for our Sabbath-schools. It is a hand-book for teachers and older scholars, rather than a mere question book, containing the Text of the Lesson, Helps for Scholars, Questions, Lesson Plan, Golden Text, Home Studies and Catechism.

SABBATH-SCHOOL REQUISITES.

Westminster Bible Dictionary. Bound Book 1213.

How to Teach the Little Folks. " 1164.

Preparing to Teach. " 1158.

Coleman's Historical Text Book and Atlas.

Westminster Question Book.

Series for Memorizing. 32mo Tracts 32-39.

Training-Class Series. 18mo Tracts 158-161, 163-172.

The Lord's Prayer, 31 × 41 inches, mounted.

The Ten Commandments, 47 × 76 inches, muslin.

These wall sheets meet a demand, as they are so printed, in bold letters, on muslin, as to be legible across the room, and are put at a very low price.

The Beatitudes.

Printed on muslin, in two colors, for responsive reading in the Sabbath-school.

The Ten Commandments, Lord's Prayer and Creed, on Card.

Scripture Atlas, 12 maps, colored.

Just the thing for Sabbath-school teachers to carry with them to their classes. Small, compact and containing what they need to point out to their scholars, though not taking the place of larger and more costly books, such as Coleman's Biblical Atlas.

PLUMER, D. D.

How to Bring up Children. pp. 12. No. 64.

By the Rev. W. S. PLUMER, D. D. Four rules of parental duty are given and enforced in this tract: "Teach well," "Rule well," "Live well," "Pray well." Could the whole matter be better stated?

Jehovah our Righteousness. pp. 4. No. 65.

From one of Whitefield's sermons.

Words of Warning. pp. 4. No. 66.

Founded on the text, "Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him."

Now! pp. 4. No. 67.

This tract has for its motto, "To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your heart."

Luther's Conversion. pp. 12. No. 68.

A striking account of the manner in which this "chosen vessel" was brought to the saving knowledge of the truth.

Sin our Enemy, God our Friend. pp. 4. No. 69.

"It is an evil thing and bitter that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God."

Anchor of the Soul. pp. 4. No. 70.

A very excellent illustration of Heb. vi. 19 : "Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul both sure and steadfast."

Do you go to the Prayer-Meeting? pp. 4. No. 71.

This tract shows the insufficiency of the usual excuses for neglecting the prayer-meeting.

Night, Daybreak and Clear Day. pp. 12. No. 72.

"Awake, thou that sleepest." "Let us put on the armor of light."

Who shall dwell with Devouring Fire? pp. 4. No. 73.

Without God. pp. 4. No. 74.

The False Peace and the True. pp. 4. No. 75.

God's Purpose of Grace. pp. 16. No. 76.

The Sin-Bearer. pp. 16. No. 77.

"Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree."

The six tracts last named are all of a practical character, and well adapted for usefulness to the several classes for whom they are intended.

Sovereignty of God. pp. 24. No. 78.

The Sovereignty of God Explained and Vindicated. By the Rev. DANIEL BAKER, D. D.

Message from God. pp. 16. No. 79.

By the Rev. WILLIAM S. PLUMER, D. D. Very valuable practical hints for profitable Bible reading.

How Sinners are Accepted. pp. 4. No. 103.

Union with Christ. pp. 4. No. 104.

Two four-page tracts of excellent practical character.

Application of Redemption. pp. 16. No. 105.

The Application of Redemption; or, What is Effectual Calling? Extracted from Dr. Green's Lectures on the Shorter Catechism. Published in tract form at the suggestion of a ruling elder who had found it very useful.

Brotherly Love. pp. 106. No. 106.

From James' "Christian Professor."

Come to Jesus. pp. 48. No. 107.

Come to Jesus. By NEWMAN HALL, B. A. "I visited," writes a colporteur, "a dying man who inquired in great agony of soul, 'What must I do to be saved?' I read to him the tract, 'Come to Jesus.' He was interested in it, and said, 'That just suits my case.' After I was gone his wife read it to him again. So far as man can judge, he was saved at the eleventh hour. The same tract has been blessed to his wife."

It is I! pp. 44. No. 108.

It is I! or, The Voice of Jesus in the Storm. By NEWMAN HALL, B. A. An admirable tract, which has been widely circulated and greatly blessed.

What Presbyterians Believe. pp. 20. No. 109.

By the Rev. A. G. FAIRCHILD, D. D.

Plain Divinity. pp. 24. No. 110.

Plain Divinity; or, A Brief Sketch of the Doctrines of Revelation. By the Rev. JAMES McEWEN.

Young Convert Instructed. pp. 20. No. 111.

Letters to the Aged. pp. 34. No. 112.

Extracted from "Thoughts on Religious Experience." By the Rev. A. ALEXANDER, D. D.

Danger of Self-Deception. pp. 24. No. 113.

From James' "Christian Professor."

Dying Professor. pp. 24. No. 114.

From James' "Christian Professor." Few writers abound more in the evangelical and the pungent than John Angell James. The matter of these tracts is well worthy of being put into a form such as this, that it may reach those for whose benefit it is so well suited.

Communion with God. pp. 12. No. 115.

Communion with God the Best Succor in the Worst Seasons.

What Think ye of Christ? pp. 4. No. 116.

Full of gospel truth presented in an earnest, pointed manner.

Remarkable Experience. pp. 16. No. 117.

A Remarkable Experience. In a Letter to a Friend. By the Rev. A. FULLER, D. D. A very instructive narrative of the remarkable dealings of God's grace in the conversion of a soul.

First-Day Sabbath. pp. 20. No. 118.

The First-Day Sabbath; or, The Lord's Day the Christian Sabbath. A conclusive argument for observing the first and not the seventh day of the week as the Christian Sabbath.

Sympathy of Jesus. pp. 12. No. 119.Who shall Dwell in Heaven? pp. 8. No. 120.Counsels for the Afflicted. pp. 8. No. 121.

To not a few of the smitten of God's people these pages will prove as streams of water in a dry and thirsty land.

What shall I Do? pp. 8. No. 122.

An important question put into the mouth of professing Christians, and especially of those who have just begun a religious life.

Plea for Sabbath Afternoon. pp. 24. No. 123.

A very earnest remonstrance with once-a-day church-goers, written by one of our most prominent ministers.

Noah's Carpenters. pp. 4. No. 124.

Under this quaint title the author draws a comparison between those who lend a helping hand in religious matters, and yet remain unconverted, and the carpenters who were employed by Noah. They helped to build the ark by which others were saved, but never got into it themselves.

Are you Holy? pp. 28. No. 125.Question for All. pp. 16. No. 126.

A Question for All; or, "Lord, is it I?"

Time Lost. pp. 16. No. 127.

Three excellent practical tracts.

Dream of the Dying. pp. 20. No. 128.

A Dream of the Dying; or, The White Ticket and the Strait Gate. We are not great believers in dreams, but this is a very striking one, and is used merely as an illustration, and with great solemnity and impressiveness.

To a Young Man. pp. 20. No. 129.

A Friendly Letter to a Young Man. By the Rev. W. S. PLUMER, D. D. This letter points out the dangers to which young men are exposed, and gives admirable advice as to the means of escaping the snares of the destroyer.

The New Jerusalem. pp. 8. No. 130.

The New Jerusalem; or, The Soul's Breathing after her Heavenly Country. By the Rev. DAVID DICKSON. The numerous admirers of the beautiful hymn beginning,

"Oh, mother dear, Jerusalem,
When shall I come to thee?"

will be delighted to find it here put in tract form.

Salvation by Grace. pp. 16. No. 131.

Rich material for edification, presented in a lucid and logical method and in the right spirit.

Are Infants Saved? pp. 24. No. 132.

By the Rev. DAVID M'CONOUGHY, D. D. Not a few parents will be thankful for these words of comfort on a most interesting subject.

By the Rev. W. H. BULKELEY. This tract contains very excellent and very timely hints.

Sins of the Tongue. pp. 32. No. 135.

Sins of the Tongue, with Rules and Reasons for Avoiding them. The best tract on the sins of the "unruly member" which has ever fallen under our notice. By the Rev. W. S. PLUMER, D. D.

Self-Examination. pp. 32. No. 136.

How Stands my Case with God? A Help to Self-Examination. Searching, instructive, evangelical and well calculated to do good. By the Rev. W. S. PLUMER, D. D.

VOLUME VIII.Posture in Prayer. pp. 24. No. 137.

The Posture in Prayer; or, God to be Worshiped with the Body as well as the Mind. By the Rev. ISAAC TODD. A most excellent tract on a most important subject. An entire congregation standing reverently whilst their prayers are going up to the throne above is a spectacle most appropriate and impressive; and we cannot perceive why persons who can be upon their feet hours at a time elsewhere cannot stand up ten minutes in the house of God.

Old Age Anticipated. pp. 16. No. 138.

Old Age Anticipated and Realized. By the Rev. REUBEN SMITH.

Paul's Inquiry. pp. 4. No. 139.

Emily J——; or, The Danger of Worldly Conformity. An unusually interesting narrative illustrating a prevailing sin and danger of professing Christians.

Universalist's Deathbed. pp. 8. No. 141.

A sad narrative, showing the folly of trusting in this refuge of lies.

Qualifications of a Sabbath-School Teacher. pp. 16. No. 142.

By the Rev. JAMES HAMILTON, London. Worthy the careful consideration of every Sabbath-school teacher.

Day of Judgment. pp. 16. No. 143.

A very solemn subject handled in a becoming manner by an experienced pen.

Worldly Conformity. pp. 16. No. 144.

This tract, by the Rev. J. M. BROWN, exhibits in a very striking light the importance of consistency of conduct in the professor of religion, and the evils of conformity to the maxims and habits of a sinful world.

What do you Wish for? pp. 4. No. 145.

An experienced Christian answered this question thus: "I greatly desire these three things: To be found in Christ, to be like Christ and to be with Christ." This tract is an expansion of his answer.

Value of Shorter Catechism. pp. 16. No. 146.

The Value of the Shorter Catechism as a Text-Book for Sabbath-schools: A Lecture to Sabbath-School Teachers. By the Rev. WM. NICHOLSON.

Uses of a Rainy Sabbath. pp. 8. No. 147.

The Spirit Quenched, and the Soul Lost.

Right Soon! pp. 8. No. 149.

Three admirable practical tracts which should be widely circulated.

Evidences of a Future State. pp. 36. No. 150.

Scripture Evidences of a Future State. Found among the papers of an aged Christian lady. We have here collected in one view all that is written in the Scriptures in proof or confirmation of the doctrine of a future state of being.

Value of Family Prayer. pp. 8. No. 151.

Blessedness and Efficacy of Family Prayer.

Do you Pray? pp. 36. No. 152.

By the Rev. J. C. RYLE.

True Philosophy for Mechanics. pp. 4. No. 153.

True Philosophy for the Mechanic. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLES, D. D.

Family Religion. pp. 20. No. 154.

An excellent sermon, by the Rev. JAMES R. HUGHES, from "Feed thy kids beside the shepherd's tents." Bring the children and youth of your families under the best possible influences.

Light of the World. pp. 28. No. 155.

The Light of the World; or, The Character, Office, Resources and Responsibilities of the Church. By the Rev. ISAAC COCHRAN.

Respect for the Aged. pp. 8. No. 156.

This tract, by the Rev. REUBEN SMITH, enforces, with much earnestness and affection, a duty alarmingly neglected in these days of so-called progress.

Too Late. pp. 16. No. 157.

Too Late; or, The Danger of Delay Illustrated in two Striking Incidents. The incidents are entitled, "The Bank is Closed" and "The Disappointed Student."

Conversion of Colonel Yeadon. pp. 28. No. 158.

Conversion and Character of Col. Wm. Yeadon. By the Rev. THOMAS SMYTH, D. D. A remarkable instance of divine sovereignty and grace scarcely less striking and interesting than the case of Col. Gardiner.

Bible the Basis of Character. pp. 22. No. 159.

The Bible the Basis of Moral Character: A Tract for Young Men. The author argues with much eloquence and force that the Bible contains all the elements adapted to the formation of a character of the highest purity and excellence. It is truly a tract for the times. By the Rev. DAVID ELLIOTT, D. D.

College Student. pp. 20. No. 160.

The College Student; or, How to Promote a Revival of Religion. Should be read by every student in college who professes to be a follower of Christ.

Shall I go to the Lord's Supper? pp. 12. No. 161.

The Cross. pp. 28. No. 162.

A fervid and pointed address full of weighty evangelical truth. By the Rev. J. C. RYLE.

Infant Membership. pp. 24. No. 163.

Infant Membership Secured by the Abrahamic Covenant. By the Rev. N. HOYT, D. D.

The author of this tract was for ten years a member of the Baptist Church, strongly attached to it from early associations and prepossession. He adopted the views here so ably sustained after painful and laborious investigation.

Individual Responsibility. pp. 20. No. 164.

Individual Responsibility; or, Work enough for every Church Member. By the Rev. J. LEYBURN, D. D.

A Friend Indeed. pp. 4. No. 165.

A short and suitable summary of the duty and privilege of every sinner. Let all read and ponder.

VOLUME IX.

Is your Pastor Supported? pp. 20. No. 166.

Is your Pastor Supported? An Address to the Churches connected with the Synod of Philadelphia. First published many years ago, but never more timely than now.

Church Attachment. pp. 8. No. 167.

A solemn warning in regard to the hearing of the preached word.

Loss and Gain. pp. 16. No. 213.

Loss and Gain; or, The World and the Soul. By the Rev. W. J. McCORD. An earnest expostulation with those who are willing to jeopard the interests of a precious soul for the possession of a world that perishes in the using.

Future Destiny of the Wicked. pp. 8. No. 214.

Future Destiny of Sinners. By the Rev. WM. M. ENGLER, D. D. A solemn and impressive exhibition of the doctrine of future punishment, with important practical inferences.

Christian Forbearance. pp. 20. No. 215.

Christian Forbearance; or, How to Cure our Quarrels. By the Rev. W. P. CARSON. This delightful tract, if permitted to speak, will act like oil spread on the swelling billows, calming the angry passions and infusing a spirit of peace and love.

Evil of Intemperance. pp. 20. No. 216.

By the Rev. WILLIAM F. FINDLEY. A well-written, calm and forcible appeal, in which it is argued that "the essential evil" of intemperance is "a voluntary extinction of the rational and moral nature of man."

Universalism Renounced. pp. 4. No. 217.

A four-page tract showing that Universalism is a delusive and fatal dream which will not support in the dying hour.

What's the Harm? pp. 4. No. 218.

The doctrine of this tract is that we should never occupy debatable ground, but should avoid even the appearance of evil.

Do you love the Sanctuary? pp. 8. No. 219.

An excellent eight-page tract, showing why the Christian loves the Sanctuary, and applying this trait as a test of Christian character. By ALPHEUS H. HOLLOWAY.

Peace of Mind. pp. 4. No. 220.

What is it? Whence does it come? How can it be obtained? These are the important questions discussed in this brief but valuable tract.

Burning Amazon. pp. 8. No. 221.

The Burning Amazon and the Life-Boat. This tract improves a terrible and unlooked-for calamity to urge the careless to flee to Christ as the only Refuge.

The Nature of Conversion to God as Exhibited in Christian Experience. By the Rev. G. D. ARMSTRONG, D. D.

Converted Sailor. pp. 4. No. 226.

The Converted Sailor. By the Rev. CHARLES J. JONES. A very interesting narrative of conversion brought about through the instrumentality of a tract given to a sailor by a little girl. It affords much encouragement to tract distributors.

How was Jesus Baptized? pp. 4. No. 227.

This short tract shows, we think, with unanswerable clearness, that Jesus was baptized, not by immersion, but by the sprinkling, pouring or affusion of the water of Jordan on his head.

Hints to Professors. pp. 4. No. 228.

Hints to Professors. A Pastoral Letter, which pastors would do well to place in the hands of all their members.

Are Infants Elected? pp. 8. No. 229.

Are Infants Elected? Extracted from "The Great Supper," by the Rev. A. G. FAIRCHILD, D. D. This tract refutes the slander, often industriously circulated, that Presbyterians believe in infant damnation, and shows that they believe that children who die in infancy are included in God's eternal purpose to save.

Ten Reasons for being a Presbyterian. pp. 16.

No. 230.

The first of these reasons is, "I know of no Church that in Doctrine, in Discipline, in Government and in Worship rests so entirely on the word of God." This one reason is of itself conclusive, and the remaining nine are like unto it.

VI. Soldiers' Series. No. 2.

1. The Good Soldier; or, High Promotion.
2. The Thief on the Cross.
3. The Wounded Man.
4. A Friendly Word.
5. Right About, Face!
6. Good News.
7. What is your Hope?
8. The Two Soldiers.
9. The Open Fountain.
10. Just in Time.
11. The Ransomed Slave.
12. The Heavy Knapsack.

13. The Balm of Gilead.
14. God's Message to Man.
15. Soldiers in Hospital; or, Come to Christ.
16. The Passover.
17. Are you Sure you are Safe?
18. Sins that are Past.

These two packages for soldiers contain well-selected tracts admirably fitted to make deep and profitable religious impressions.

VII. Sailors' Series. No. 1.

1. The Shipmates.
2. Love not the World.
3. Christ is All.
4. The Sinner's Return to God.
5. The Wreck; or, Christianity in a Time of Danger.
6. George Noscoe, the Norwegian Sailor.
7. The Jedore Ledges.
8. Be Decided.
9. The Aged Sailor.
10. British Seamen.
11. Old Gearing.
12. The Crippled Sailor.
13. All Hands on Deck!
14. An Old Tar's Story.
15. Prayers for Sailors.
16. To Sailors Coming into Port.
17. The Swearer's Prayer; or, His Oath Explained.

VIII. Sailors' Series. No. 2.

1. The Seaman's Spy-Glass; or, God's Ways and Works Discovered at Sea.
2. The Converted Sailor; or, An Account of E. W. Stanley.

3. "A Man Overboard!" or, What Comes After Death?
4. The Resurrection of Sailors.
5. Jerry Creed; or, The Blaspheming Sailor Reclaimed.

14. The Missing Ships; or, The Search for Sir John Franklin and his Companions.
15. The Sinner Directed to the Saviour.
16. An Address to Seamen.
17. How the Sabbath may be Sanctified at Sea.

These two packages have been prepared with especial reference to the benefit of sailors. Some of them are doctrinal, some are hortatory, but the larger part are narrative. They are admirably adapted to arrest the attention of "them that go down to the sea in ships," and to benefit their souls. We trust that God's people will cause them to be scattered by thousands among the sailors.

IX. Large-Type Tracts.

A packet containing twelve large-type four-page tracts.

1. The Swearer's Prayer.
2. Too Late.
3. The Pious Negro.

9. The Cities of Refuge.
10. Conviction and Conversion.
11. Naaman the Syrian.
12. Young Servin.

TRACTS. 18MO SERIES.

Those of this series which are bound in flexible muslin will be found noted below.

Address to Mothers. pp. 48. No. 1.

An Affectionate Address to Mothers. By the Rev. DANIEL BAKER, D. D., of Texas. Flexible muslin. A most important subject is here presented in a form which cannot fail to interest and profit those to whom it is addressed.

Address to Fathers. pp. 36. No. 2.

An Affectionate Address to Fathers. By the Rev. DANIEL BAKER, D. D., of Texas. Flexible muslin. Plain truths earnestly enforced. An excellent counterpart to the "Address to Mothers."

Alexander on Patience. pp. 40. No. 3.

Patience. By the Rev. JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. D. Flexible muslin. This excellent little book was originally written as a pastoral gift to an esteemed friend who had been more than two years confined to her dwelling by a dangerous, lingering and sometimes exceedingly painful malady. It brings out the subject of which it treats with great simplicity and directness, and is well fitted to act as a cordial to a wounded spirit.

Mary Searching for Jesus. pp. 32. No. 4.

Mary Searching for Jesus. By the Rev. JAMES DRUMMOND. Flexible muslin. This is an interesting little work founded upon Luke ii. 40-52, and makes an ingenious use of Mary's search for her son Jesus, and final discovery of him in the temple, to press home upon its readers the all-important duty of seeking and finding Jesus as a Saviour.

The Warning Cry. pp. 42.

No. 5.

A Warning Cry from Niagara. By the author of "Come to Jesus," etc. Flexible muslin. The author has seized upon the thrilling incident of a man discovered some years ago in the midst of the roaring rapids of Niagara, to illustrate the awful danger of the unconverted sinner and the power and love of the Redeemer.

God's Word to Inquirers. pp. 56.

No. 6.

God's Word to Inquirers. Compiled by the Rev. J. A. BOCKCK. With an Introductory Notice by the Rev. W. S. WHITE, D. D., of Lexington, Va. Flexible muslin. This is a judicious and well-arranged compilation of Scripture, adapted to instruct the religious inquirer's mind upon those great and vital subjects about which it most concerns him to have clear and scriptural views. This little manual will meet a want of which many a pastor has been deeply sensible.

Ye will not Come. pp. 36.

No. 7.

Ye will not Come; or, The Sinner without Excuse. Flexible muslin. As the title indicates, this is an attempt to reach by the press those whom the author can no longer address from the pulpit, and to convince delaying sinners that if they do not come to Christ the fault is their own. It is an earnest and pungent but affectionate appeal.

The Peaks of Otter. pp. 36.

No. 8.

The Peaks of Otter: A Monograph of the Religious Experiences of a Young Man. Flexible muslin. This is a deeply-interesting narrative of a skeptical young man who received his religious impressions whilst alone on the summit of the Peaks of Otter in Virginia. It exhibits one of the manifold and wonderful ways in which God leads sinners to salvation. It is a good book to put into the hands of educated young men who are inclined to skepticism.

Comfort for Afflicted Youth. pp. 36.

No. 9.

Comfort for Afflicted Youth in Letters from a Father to his Children. Flexible muslin. The title of this little book sufficiently denotes its contents. It is well written and in a tender, sympathizing tone, which clearly indicates a fellowship of the writer in the sorrow he undertakes to alleviate.

The Bible on Baptism. pp. 70. No. 10.

Bible Baptism; or, The Scripture Directory to Baptism. By a Layman. Designed to give the reader an opportunity for ascertaining what the word of God says on that subject, and showing that immersion as the only mode of baptism is not a Bible doctrine. Flexible muslin and paper cover.

Episcopal Invitation. pp. 48. No. 11.

The Episcopal Invitation. Flexible muslin and paper. The question, "Should I not become an Episcopalian?" answered by a Presbyterian.

How to Give. pp. 43. No. 12.

How to Give: The Bible Way. An admirable popular treatise, adapted for circulation among business-men. By the author of "The Episcopal Invitation." In flexible muslin and paper cover. The distribution of a hundred would be a paying investment.

Muzzled Ox. pp. 78. No. 13.

The Muzzled Ox. Thoughts on the Support of the Gospel Ministry. By the Rev. CHARLES F. BEACH. Flexible muslin and paper.

Peace for the Troubled. pp. 68. No. 14.

Peace for the Troubled; or, Friendly Words for Earnest Seekers. By the Rev. DAVID PECK. Flexible muslin and paper. The prize of one hundred and fifty dollars offered for the best book, small in size, to guide the inquirer, was awarded to this volume.

Twelve Hints to Young Men. pp. 68. No. 15.

By the Rev. J. C. RYLE. A glance at the Table of Contents will show the importance of the hints here given: "Ought not a Young Man to Think?" "What are your Prospects?" "The Soul's Poison," "The Soul's Remedy," etc. Much good may be done by its liberal distribution.

Duff on the Jesuits. pp. 112. No. 16.

The Jesuits: Their Origin and Order, Morality and Practices, Suppression and Restoration. By the Rev. ALEXANDER DUFF, D. D. It presented in a very succinct form, a fearful array of facts, enough, one would think, to open the eyes of any community to the true character of this dangerous society.

46 PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

The Church in the House. pp. 40. No. 17.

The Church in the House. By the Rev. JAMES HAMILTON, D. D. An affectionate argument in favor of family worship, with practical suggestions as to its proper observance.

Remember Eli. pp. 16. No. 18.

A solemn call upon Parents to Remember the Account which they must give for their Children's Souls. By the Rev. R. M. MCCHEYNE.

The Vine. pp. 28. No. 19.

— "I am the True Vine."

The Cedar. pp. 28. No. 20.

— "The Righteous shall grow like a Cedar in Lebanon."

The Palm. pp. 28. No. 21.

— "The Righteous shall Flourish like the Palm Tree."

The Olive. pp. 28. No. 22.

"The Lord called thy Name a Green Olive Tree, Fair and of Goodly Fruit." These four tracts were written by the Rev. James Hamilton, D. D., of London. The Scripture mottoes indicate their character.

Order and Rites of the Church. pp. 28. No. 23.

The Order, the Rites and Ceremonies of the Christian Church. By the Rev. JAMES WHAREY. Much important matter in a few pages.

May I Go to the Ball? pp. 52. No. 24.

By the Rev. ALEXANDER BULLIONS, D. D.

A Quaker and a Presbyterian. pp. 28. No. 31.

A Dialogue between a Presbyterian and a "Friend." By the Rev.
A. ALEXANDER, D. D. Conclusive on the topics discussed.

Address to Students. pp. 30. No. 32.

An Address to Students. By the Rev. JAMES HAMILTON, D. D., London. Worthy the special attention of every young man in course of education.

Romanism as it is. pp. 74. No. 33.

An oration delivered by the Rev. JOHN CUMMING, D. D., of London, in the Theatre Royal, in Liverpool, Oct. 13, 1851.

May I go to the Theatre? pp. 36. No. 34.

May I go to the Theatre? By the late Rev. JOHN MACDONALD,
A. M., Missionary Minister in Calcutta. Author of "May I go to the Ball?" Let every one who is tempted to go to the theatre seriously read this tract.

Call to the Ministry. pp. 20. No. 35.

A Call to the Gospel Ministry: What Constitutes it? By the Rev. WM. NALL, D. D. A plain, scriptural answer to a very important question. It ought to be scattered through all our schools and churches.

The Lord's Day, and The Laborer's Right to its Rest. By the Rev. W. M. BLACKBURN, D. D. Two able and valuable treatises on the Sabbath, presenting different aspects of the subject. They ought to be widely circulated.

Calvinism Vindicated. pp. 40. No. 50.

Calvinism Vindicated. By THOMAS M. HARRIS, Ruling Elder in the Glenville Church, Virginia. Plain, direct and compact; a valuable defence of Calvinistic truth.

Perils of Licentiousness. pp. 48. No. 51.

The Perils of Licentiousness: A Friendly Warning to Young Men. Written at the request of a benevolent gentleman who offered a premium for a tract on the subject. A plain and pungent, although friendly, warning. It first depicts in glowing colors the evils of the vice, and then presents the safeguards against it.

Man Responsible for his Belief. pp. 76. No. 52.

Man Responsible for his Belief. By the Rev. WILLIAM P. BREED, D. D. The notion, distinct or vague, that, if a man tries to do right, it is of comparatively little consequence what he believes, underlies and exaggerates a vast number of mistakes and sins in the world. At this notion Dr. Breed strikes a heavy blow in this little work.

Hoyt on Confirmation. pp. 51. No. 53.

Confirmation without the Laying on of Hands. By the Rev. N. HOYT, D. D. This excellent treatise in a very lucid, scriptural and affectionate manner sets forth the true doctrine of confirmation, and brings the thing into its true relations to repentance and saving faith.

Counsels for the School-Room. pp. 28. No. 55.

Counsels for the School-Room: A Plain Talk to Boys and Girls on Entering School. By JOHN S. HART, LL.D. Full of the counsels of wisdom and experience. We earnestly commend it to the attention of parents and teachers. The latter could not do a wiser thing than to keep some always on hand and furnish a copy to every new pupil entering school.

What is Saving Faith? pp. 40. No. 56.

What is Saving Faith? By the Rev. CHARLES S. ROBINSON, Brooklyn, N. Y. It explains the nature and enforces the duty of saving faith.

Christ's Gracious Invitation. pp. 40. No. 57.

Christ's Gracious Invitation to the Laboring and Heavy Laden. By the Rev. A. ALEXANDER, D. D. A re-issue, in a new and convenient form, of Dr. Alexander's discourse on the words, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden," etc. It is one of the most precious things that ever came from the author's pen or any other, and has carried hope and comfort to many a soul.

Universal Salvation. pp. 40. No. 58.

The Doctrine of Universal Salvation. By the Rev. M. W. JACOBUS, D. D. A complete and lucid argument against the pernicious doctrine of the Universalists.

A Living Christ. pp. 40. No. 59.

A Living Christ the Confidence of his People. By the Rev. S. H. KELLOGG. A tract full of light and comfort to God's people, who are too apt to forget that Jesus, their almighty Friend, is really "a living Christ."

The Soul's only Refuge. pp. 40. No. 60.

The Soul's only Refuge; or, Christ All and In All. By the Rev. A. A. E. TAYLOR. A tract on a most important practical topic in religion, in which the author urges the idea that Christ is all and in all in the great business of the soul's salvation, and removes many of the vain pretexts with which men excuse themselves for not coming to Christ.

The Bible Baptist. pp. 128. No. 61.

The Bible Baptist. By THOMAS P. HUNT. This is an unanswerable little work on baptism: I. Its mode, and, II. Its proper subjects. It was first published many years ago, and had a wide and useful circulation. Having been carefully revised and improved, it is now issued by the Board in a new and neat dress. Pastors or others who may desire to circulate among their people something on this vexed subject can hardly do better than make use of this little work. It is pungent and popular, and in form a dialogue.

One Baptism. pp. 100. No. 62.

One Baptism, as Found in the Bible. By GEORGE JUNKIN, D. D. A masterly argument on the much-controverted subject indicated in its title, chiefly upon the mode of baptism. It presents some aspects of the argument not dwelt upon in other publications of the Board upon this subject, and will probably be preferred to them by a certain class of readers. It was called forth by the appearance of a little Immersionist publication entitled "The True Baptism," whose statements are here met and effectually disposed of.

The American Sabbath. pp. 52. No. 63.

The American Sabbath. By the Rev. ROBERT PATTERSON, D. D., of Chicago, Ill. An impressive and timely treatise upon the warrant and relations of the Sabbath, and the importance of its due observance for the good of the State and its people.

The Theatre. pp. 40. No. 64.

By the Rev. W. P. BREED, D. D. A timely, able and impressive treatise upon the real character of the theatre, and the invariable and inevitable effects produced by it upon all who come within its sphere and influence. It would be well for pastors and others to place the tract in the hands of all young persons who are in danger of being enticed into the theatre.

Inspiration of the Scriptures. pp. 36. No. 65.

The Inspiration of the Holy Scriptures. By the Rev. F. T. BROWN, D. D. It is timely and ought to be widely circulated, as the subject is one now widely discussed.

Have you Obeyed the Redeemer's Command? pp. 8. No. 66.

An earnest inquiry, made of a parishioner, asking why he had not attended at the Lord's Supper, with plain answers to all the ordinary excuses given. An admirable tract for circulation in a congregation just before a communion season.

Presbyterian Doctrine. pp. 35. No. 67.

Presbyterian Doctrine Briefly Stated. By the Rev. A. A. HODGE, D. D. A condensation and exhibition of the Presbyterian's creed. It is so simple that a little child may comprehend it all. It is as lucid as a sunbeam. There is nothing controversial in it.

Responsibility of Young Men. pp. 36. No. 68.

Marriage Certificate, handsomely printed on fine paper in assorted colors. A very neat article. Ministers should provide themselves with a full supply of all these blanks.

Church Register.

The Church Register, containing Tables, with suitable Divisions and Heading, for keeping lists of the Elders, Deacons, Communicants, Marriages, Baptisms and Deaths in any Church.

Session Minute-Book.

Minutes of Session. A Book Prepared for the Use of Sessions, to Aid in the neat and orderly Preparation and Preservation of their Records.

The Board has sought to meet a long-existing want among the churches by the publication of these two works. The "Minute-Book" for the use of sessions may be obtained either bound with the "Church Register" or separately. It may also be had of various thicknesses. It contains a printed title page and a specimen page, and is paged and ruled throughout.

The "Church Register" will be found invaluable for preserving historical facts and dates in a church's history. It contains, with a variety of appropriate columns in each, six separate departments: 1. A Register for Recording Elders. 2. For Deacons. 3. For Communicants. 4. For Baptisms. 5. For Marriages. 6. For Deaths. Every church which introduces the use of these two books will find them greatly conducive to method and precision in the preservation of its records.

MISCELLANEOUS.

My Mother.

My Mother. With engravings printed in oil colors. A very pretty publication for young children. The rhymes contained in it have long been familiarly known in the nursery, and the colored engravings are well executed.

Picture Sketches.

A series of two hundred and sixteen pictures intended to aid parents in imparting useful and entertaining knowledge to their children.

Buy your own Cherries. 8vo. pp. 32.

A handsome edition of this popular temperance tract, printed on tinted paper, beautifully illustrated, with paper cover.

Historical Sketch of the Synod of Philadelphia.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE SYNOD OF PHILADELPHIA. By the Rev. R. M. PATTERSON: and BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES OF DISTINGUISHED MEMBERS OF THE SYNOD OF PHILADELPHIA. By the Rev. ROBERT DAVIDSON D.D. 16mo. Cong Lib.

These valuable historical papers were prepared and are published at the request of the venerable Synod of Philadelphia.

Mr. Patterson's sketch is a model of conciseness and of strict adherence to the subject—a succinct, straightforward and chastely written summary of the growth and progress of the body during the past hundred years.

Dr. Davidson's contribution to the volume has been executed with similar judicious brevity. Though the sketches are short, the author's taste and skill have made them exceedingly interesting, and many of them are very spirited and lifelike.

PUBLICATIONS IN GERMAN.

Hymn Book.

Die Psalmen Davids, nebst einer Sammlung geistlicher Lieder für öffentlichen und privat-gottesdienst." (The Psalms of David, together with a collection of Spiritual Hymns for public and private worship.) 12mo and 18mo. This hymn book is issued jointly by the Boards of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church and the Presbyterian Church, and bears the imprint of both upon its title page. The collection was laid before the Assembly in 1855 and received its approval. It meets and satisfies the need of our German Churches.

Children's Harp.

Evangelische Kinder Harfe für Christliche Schulen. 18mo. This book contains one hundred and ninety-seven hymns, with music on each page. It is issued jointly by the Boards of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church and of the Presbyterian Church. It is admirably adapted to the use of Sabbath-schools.

Confession of Faith.

Constitution der Presbyterianischen Kirche in den Vereinigten Staaten von Amerika, enthält das Glaubensbekenntnis, die beiden Katechismen und die Ordnung des Gottesdienstes, zugleich mit dem Entwurf der Kirchenordnung und der Kirchenzucht, wie es bestätigt wurde durch die General Versammlung in ihren Sitzungen im Mai 1821 und verbessert im Jahre 1833. 18mo. This work was prepared for the Board by one of our pastors in New York. It has received very general approbation from our German scholars as an excellent and faithful translation.

Catechism for Young Children.

Katechismus für junge Kinder. Eine Einleitung zu dem kleinen Katechismus. 32mo. This admirable little catechism, of which the Board has already issued more than three-quarters of a million, and which is already used in some four or five languages, is now issued in the German. As a first catechism for very young children, to be used either in the family or in the Sabbath-school, we know of nothing at all comparable to it.

Catechism of Scripture History.

Der Kinder-Katechismus der biblischen Geschichte. This is a translation by a competent German scholar of the "Child's Catechism of Scripture History," which was written for the Board, and many thousand copies of which have been scattered through the Church. It brings the Bible History from the Creation down to the end of the Old Testament.

PERIODICALS.

Presbyterian Monthly Record

Of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. The Organ of the Board of Home Missions and Sustentation, Education, Foreign Missions, Publication, Church Erection, Relief Fund for Disabled Ministers, and the General Assembly's Committee on Freedmen. The RECORD is a monthly pamphlet of at least 32 pages 8vo.

Sabbath-School Visitor,

A beautifully illustrated paper for young readers, is published weekly, but it is optional with subscribers to take it once or twice or thrice a month, or weekly. This paper is unequaled as an instructor of the young, and should be in all Presbyterian Sabbath-schools.

Sunbeam.

A weekly illustrated paper for the very little people, especially those of our Infant Classes and Primary Schools, with bright pictures and easy reading. It also serves as a Primary Lesson Leaf on the International Series.

The Westminster Teacher

Is issued monthly, in octavo form, and contains thirty-two pages. It is intended specifically for the use of the officers, teachers and advanced scholars of our Sabbath-schools, in the study of the "International Series of Bible Lessons." It contains from month to month the results of the ripest scholarship, and is enriched by contributions from many of our ablest writers upon topics connected with Bible interpretation and Sabbath-school work.

The Westminster Quarterly for Scholars

Supplies for our Sabbath-schools a lesson-help of a grade between the Question Book and the Lesson Leaf. It contains maps and illustrations, descriptions of the various persons and places mentioned in the lessons, lesson plans, questions upon the lessons and helps to answer them, with practical directions to the scholars how to study the lesson.

Westminster Lesson Leaf,

For Scholars, follows the International Series, and is furnished monthly. It gives the text, helps, questions, catechism, etc.

Westminster Primary Leaf,

For the youngest who study the International Bible Series.

Lesson Leaf in German,

On the same series of lessons.
